Comrade Forked Tongue

The person who speaks with a forked tongue speaks out of both sides of the mouth. Such persons are, at best, two-faced examples of evilness.

-The Author

Opening Statement

Barack Hussein Obama is the putative occupier of the White House Oval Office. Most importantly, he is the forked-tongue comrade of the duped and chained because that is the only method Barack Hussein Obama uses when speaking or acting out his propaganda to brainwash those that his regime wants to control by his tyrannical politics.

The phrase speaks with a forked tongue has the following intentions:

- to act in a deceitful manner
- to be disloyal
- to be hypocritical
- to be treacherous

- to say one thing and mean another thing that is actually the opposite

The above connotations can be voiced individually or they can be included as a conglomerate in one statement, thereby leaving the hearer to decide what is being spoken, or leaving the speaker in a lack of closure.

In the French-Iroquois Wars (1642-1698) also known as the Beaver Wars, the French authorities often used the tactic of inviting their enemies to a conference of peace. Once the Indians attended, the French slaughtered them. Thus, in the Indian metaphor language, the French (the white man) spoke with a forked tongue. Therefore, the history of the use of the phrase with respect to the Native American tribes meant outright, treacherous lying. As a result of such experiences, the American Indians came to the conclusion that a person who spoke with a forked tongue was not worthy of being recognized in any manner whatsoever. Such persons were not to be trusted. During the American Revolution, the Colonists adopted the Native American phrase and understanding. There are a number of situations – specifically treaties – that can be traced back to the late eighteenth century and the early nineteenth century, particularly as they concerned the political relationships between the Native American tribes and the United States Government. The federal government always maintained that it spoke with a straight tongue, as opposed to speaking with a forked tongue. That standpoint is in itself a forked-tongue statement. Indeed, the phrase has lived on in a number of Hollywood western films up to the present day. Since the middle of the twentieth century there are other terminologies that evoke the same meanings.

Nineteen Eighty Four

In his novel Nineteen Eighty Four (1949), George Orwell coined the term Newspeak, which was the official language of Oceania that had been created to evoke the needs of the ideology Ingsoc, English Socialism. New words were devised that were supposed to become the sole means of communication. In the Appendix to Nineteen Eighty-Four titled The Principles of Newspeak, George Orwell reports that Oceania has a philological cooperative that is concerned with compiling new words and uses for the future of Oceania. Newspeak words were able to be used as any part of speech. Verbs could be substituted for nouns: think could be used for thought, saying for said; prefixes and suffixes were common: ungood, goodwise, unbad, badwise; regular forms replaced irregular forms: stealed replaced stole, mans replaced men, childs replaced children; contradictory compounds were mainstays of the new language, ergo: doublespeak. Oldspeak, which meant the former Standard English, was no longer in mode and would die out as younger generations were forced-educated into doublespeak. Telescopic words were invented: Ficdep was Fiction Department, Minitrue was Ministry of Truth, and Insoc was English Socialism.

George Orwell's purpose in the excursus in the appendix The Principles of Newspeak was not only to explain the principles of the new society Ingsoc by creating expressions for the new society, but also to conceptualize politically correct and acceptable habits in the creation of Ingsoc's society. Ambiguities were not allowed. Only Ingsoc was present. There were unacceptable concepts like honor, democracy, republicanism, and individual freedom. Ingsoc's ideology and Newspeak made it impossible for the truisms and thought guidelines of Oldspeak (Standard English) to be translated into the new language Newspeak. For example, the quotation and human precept that All men are created equal could not be translated because the very conception of being politically equal was really crimethink. At the same time and for the same reason, Newspeak was capable of formulating objective facts into contradictory statements like Freedom is slavery. More government is security. Ingsoc is paradise.

In the United States of America, particularly since the publication of Nineteen Eighty-Four, Newspeak has developed into a superimposed communication medium over Standard English Language that is used for misleading the populace with political phraseology intent on the transformation of the United States of America into a new Ingsoc. The objective of Newspeak is to obliterate every tradition of American history and every truth written in its founding documents, the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution for the United States of America.^[1] The first cornerstones of this obliteration are Barack Hussein Obama's continuous themes of hope and change that have become a duping of the body politic. Hope has turned into dope for the masses. Change has become the intended implementation of policies to make America's political system develop into evilness in total contradiction to republicanism, capitalism, and the principles of the Constitution for the United States of America.

Doublespeak

A major aspect of Newspeak, which is thinking and communication, is the concept of doublespeak. This is sometimes referred to as doubletalk. Doublespeak is an actively spoken medium of Ingsoc. As used by Barack Hussein Obama, we can call it obamavocuum.^[2] This word creation complies with Barack Hussein Obama's character, for obamavocuum intentionally disguises the meaning of words, distorts long-accepted, traditional aspects of American culture, and deliberately reverses the true meaning of words, like calling American deaths in Iraq and in Afghanistan American sacrifices. [3] Barack Hussein Obama's doublespeak exists not only in the form of euphemisms like untrained ears for white racist and overseas contingency operations for war. [4] His doublespeak also takes on the form of making intentional ambiguity, like saying in his speech in Cairo, Egypt on June 4, 2009, "As a student of history, I also know ... the first nation to recognize my country was Morocco." without saying that the first recognition consisted of raiding the English coast and taking the seized ships to Morocco and making slaves out of the captured English Colonists. [5] Barack Hussein Obama's intent to circumvent the truth or at least make the truth less unpleasant, without denying its nature is intentional ambiguity.

Barack Hussein Obama also utilizes reversal of meaning, for example, naming Islam a peaceful religion, when in fact it is a warring ideology. [6] In such cases, this type of doublespeak disguises the nature of the truth and results in bypassing political communication. Obama's doublespeak also includes his actions and his apologies as well as scandals that are insults to Americans and their patriotic history. [7] As of this writing there are 1,863 Barack Hussein Obama lies, flip-flops, mistakes, gaffes and scandals that have insulted Americans, their heritage, their culture, and indeed, their patriotism. [8]

Some recent forms of Barack Hussein Obama's doublespeak that took place during a three-day period in the last week of 2010 are:

1. On Christmas Day, December 25, 2010, Barack Hussein Obama commented on a suicide bomber attack in northwestern Pakistan that killed 45 Muslims, stating, "I strongly condemn the outrageous terrorist attack in Khar, Pakistan. Killing innocent civilians ... is an affront to the people of Pakistan, and to all humanity." Barack Hussein Obama made no statement condemning the terrorist attacks that killed at least 38 Christians in Nigeria and 10 Christians in the Philippines. Neither did he mention the Christian Day worshipers that were evicted from their church by the Turkish police in northern Cyprus, which is still under Turkish occupation. [9] The legality of the occupation is another matter. Perhaps the intent of the occupation is to assure the spreading of Islam on the island.

2. On December 26, 2010, Barack Hussein Obama issued an official statement extending wishes to those celebrating Kwanzaa: "Michelle and I extend our warmest thoughts and wishes to all those who are celebrating Kwanzaa this holiday season. Today is the first of a joyful seven-day celebration of African-American culture and heritage. The seven principles of Kwanzaa – unity, self-determination, collective work and responsibility, cooperative economics, purpose, creativity and faith – are some of the very values that make us Americans. As families across America and around the world light the Kinara [a holder with seven candles] today in the spirit of umoja, or unity, our family sends our well wishes and blessings for a happy and healthy new year.” This sounds very proper. However, what the American voter does not know is that Kwanzaa does not really exist as a holiday. Barack Hussein Obama's extended greetings is a slap in the face to all Americans and all Christian people who celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ on Christmas. Kwanzaa is artificial. It was invented by (Dr.) Maulana Karenga while he was serving time in prison having been convicted of felonious assault and false imprisonment. The man was/is a Marxist, an anti-Christian, and a radical communist who with the invention of Kwanzaa wanted to “give Blacks an alternative to the existing holiday and give Blacks an opportunity to celebrate themselves and history, rather than simply imitate the practice of the dominant [white] society.”[10] The reality is that patriotic African-Americans do not widely celebrate it and it is not officially recognized in Africa.

3. On December 31, 2010, a week after the bombing incident, Barack Hussein Obama stated condolences to the families of the Christian Coptics in Alexandria, Egypt who were killed by a suicide car bomber upon the Coptic worshippers exiting their church. He failed to state that the killing of the Coptics was the work of Muslim jihadists, although the Mayor of Alexandria stated that the bombing was the work of Al-Qaida.[11]

The Misuse of the Language

In 1989 William D. Lutz wrote a best-selling book on doublespeak.[12] Dr. Lutz, a former American linguist professor at Rutgers University, affirms that doublespeak is not a slip of the tongue. It is the present, modern form of speaking with a forked tongue. According to professor Lutz, doublespeak is a calculated, misuse of the English language the intention of which is to

- avoid or shift responsibility
- create a false verbal map of the world
- create incongruity between reality and what is said or not said
- distort reality
- limit, conceal, corrupt, and prevent thought

- make the bad seem good
- make the negative appear positive
- make the unpleasant appear attractive or tolerable
- mislead
- pretend to communicate

This author has chosen two instances of Barack Hussein Obama's public addresses that include all of the aspects of doublespeak listed above. The first is a paragraph-by-paragraph interpretation of the doublespeak that Barack Hussein Obama uses within a forked-tongue framework: saying one thing and meaning another. The second presentation is a summary with selected examples, the framework of which is a human tragedy that Barack Hussein Obama uses to feign communication.

1. The Doublespeak of Barack Hussein Obama's Remarks on the Ninth Anniversary of the Islamic Jihad Attack on the World Trade Center on September 9, 2001

If we go back to September 11, 2010 we will encounter a speech by Barack Hussein Obama that went un-noticed for its doublespeak. It is doublespeak, indeed, speaking with a forked tongue, at its best. The address is Barack Hussein Obama's observance of the ninth anniversary of the Muslim jihadist attack on the World Trade Center. It is filled with a double message. The speech is unmasked as follows:

Remarks of President Barack Obama

As prepared for delivery

Paragraph-by-paragraph presentation of the speech.

Today, we pause to remember a day that tested our country. On September 11, 2001, nearly 3,000 lives were lost in the deadliest attack on American soil in our history. We will never forget the images of planes vanishing into buildings; of photos hung by the families of the missing. We will never forget the anger and sadness we felt. And while nine years have come and gone since that September morning, the passage of time will never diminish the pain and loss forever seared in the consciousness of our nation.

That is why, on this day, we pray with the families of those who died. We mourn with husbands and wives, children and parents, friends and loved ones. We think about the milestones that have passed over the course of nine years – births and christenings, weddings and graduations – all with an empty chair.

*Paragraph-by-paragraph interpretative presentation of the hidden message that could be understood by Islamists in the, doublespeak/forked-tongue

Today, we pause to remember a day that tested Islam. On September 11, 2001, nearly 3,000 non-believers were killed in the deadliest attack on evil American soil in Islam's history. We will never forget the images of planes vanishing into buildings; of photos hung by the non-believing families of the non-believing missing. We will never forget the anger and sadness they felt. And while nine years have come and gone since that September morning, we praise Allah that the passage of time will never diminish the pain and loss forever seared in the consciousness of that evil nation.

That is why, on this day, we pray with the families of those martyrs who died piloting the planes. We mourn for the martyrs because they were devout husbands with wives, children and parents, friends and loved ones. We think about the milestones that have passed over the course of nine years – births and ghusl and wudu*, weddings and graduations – all with an empty chair.

On this day, we also honor those who died so that others might live: the firefighters and first responders who climbed the stairs of two burning towers; the passengers who stormed a cockpit; and the men and women who have, in the years since, borne the uniform of this country and given their lives so that our children could grow up in a safer world. In acts of courage and decency, they defended a simple precept: I am my brother's keeper; I am my sister's keeper.

On this day, we also honor those martyrs who died so that other Islamists might live: the future martyrs and their supporters throughout the world who with enthusiasm watched the two burning towers; those who overcame the passengers and stormed the cockpits; and the jihadist men and women who have, in the years since, borne the sacred goal of Islamic world domination and given their lives so that our children could grow up in an Islamic world. In acts of courage and decency, they defended a simple precept: I am Allah's fighting warrior; I am Muhammad's servant.

And on this day, we recall that at our darkest moment, we summoned a sense of unity and common purpose. We responded to the worst kind of depravity with the best of our humanity.

And on this day, we recall that because of our past history's darkest moments, we summoned a sense of unity and common purpose. We responded to the worst kind of evil, American depravity with the best of our sacred Islamic humanity.

So, each year at this time, we renew our resolve against those who perpetrated this barbaric act of terror

So, each year at this time, we renew our resolve against those who perpetrated the historical barbaric acts and who continue to plot against us – for we will never waver in defense of this nation. We renew our commitment to our troops and all who serve to protect this country, and to their families. But we also renew the true spirit of that day. Not the human capacity for evil, but the human capacity for good. Not the desire to destroy, but the impulse to save.

That is why we mark September 11th as a National Day of Service and Remembrance. For if there is a lesson to be drawn on this anniversary, it is this: we are one nation – one people – bound not only by grief, but by a set of common ideals. And that by giving back to our communities, by serving people in need, we reaffirm our ideals – in defiance of those who would do us grave harm. We prove that the sense of responsibility that we felt for one another was not a fleeting passion – but a lasting virtue.

This is a time of difficulty for our country. And it is often in such of terror against Islam and who continue to plot against us – for we will never waver in defense of the holy religion: Islam. We renew our commitment to Allah's troops and all who serve to protect this Islamic world movement, and to their families. But we also renew the true Islamic spirit of that day. Not the American capacity for evil, but the Islamic capacity for good. Not to be destroyed, but the impulse to continue Allah's and Muhammad's will.

That is why we mark September 11th as an International Islamic Day of Service and Remembrance of Martyrs. For if there is a lesson to be drawn on this anniversary, it is this: we are one religion – one people – bound not only by the Holy Koran, but by a set of common Islamic ideals. And that by giving back to our Muslim communities, by serving people in need, we reaffirm our ideals – in defiance of those who would do us grave harm. We prove that the sense of responsibility that we felt for one another was not a fleeting passion – but a lasting Islamic virtue.

This is a time of difficulty for our Islamic world course. And it is often in such moments that some try to stoke bitterness – to divide us based on our differences, to blind us to what we have in common. But on this day, we are reminded that at our best, we do not give in to this temptation. We stand with one another. We fight alongside one another. We do not allow ourselves to be defined by fear, but by the hopes we have for our families, for our nation, and for a brighter future. So let us grieve for those we've lost, honor those who have sacrificed, and do our best to live up to the values we share – on this day, and every day that follows.

Thank you.

moments that some try to stoke bitterness – to divide us Muslims based on our heritage differences, to blind us to what we have in common. But on this day, we are reminded that at our best, we do not give in to this temptation. We stand with one another. We fight alongside one another. We do not allow ourselves to be defined by fear of the non-believers, but by the hopes we have for our Muslim families, for our Islamic way of life, and for a brighter future in an Islamic world. So let us grieve for those martyrs we've lost, honor those who have sacrificed everything for Islam, and do our best to live up to the Islamic values we share – on this day, and every day that follows.

Allāhu Akbar

* There is no Islamic ritual for christening/baptism. However there are the ghusl (meaning bath) and wudu (meaning ablution).

In his September 2010 Report at The Obama Timeline (www.colony14.net), Don Fredrick characterizes Barack Hussein Obama's September 11 Speech as "The cold, detached, speech is neither soothing nor stirring. It is boilerplate and sophomoric – like most of Obama's speeches." This author agrees with the statement. However, as the reader can realize in the interpreted presentation above, Barack Hussein Obama's message can be soothing and stirring not only for Americans who fail to see through Barack Hussein Obama, but also for all Muslims! Therefore, it is possible that there are two messages in this one speech. If you will, there are really two messages: one for gullible American citizens, and one for Muslim jihadists.

The interpretation borders on one-hundred percent probable actuality that the short televised speech to commemorate the ninth anniversary of the Islamic attack on the World Trade Center, New York City that Barack Hussein Obama gave on September 11, 2010 can also be a forked-tongue presentation that would not upset Muslims because his doublespeak is his way of assuring the Muslim world that he would be always on their side if it came to a conflict with non-believers. "I will stand with the Muslims should the political winds shift in an ugly direction." is what Barack Hussein Obama wrote in his book The Audacity of Hope, Thoughts on Reclaiming the American Dream.^[13] Strong, indicative evidence allows the interpretation that Barack Hussein Obama has thrown America under the bus.

Barack Hussein Obama uses doublespeak daily. Barack Hussein Obama always has opposing ideas in his mind at the same time and he either believes in both equally, or prefers one over the other. Barack Hussein Obama's actions show that he always prefers the action of belittling and insulting The United States of America.

2. Barack Hussein Obama's Remarks at a Memorial Service in Tucson, Arizona on January 13, 2011 for the Victims of the Tucson Massacre on January 8, 2011^[14]

Barack Hussein Obama's most recent use of doublespeak which was complemented by (his) doublespeak behavior is his public address concerning the assassination attempt on Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords (D-Arizona) and the accompanied killings of innocent bystanders, as well as those who suffered injuries. One could take the whole speech as doublespeak. Indeed, the memorial address has a total of 135 sentences. This author counted 70 instances of doublespeak ranging from speaking with a forked tongue like "Let's make sure (reflection and debate) are not on the usual plane of politics and point-scoring and pettiness that drifts away in the next news cycle." This is doublespeak as a forked tongue because Barack Hussein Obama knows perfectly well that his sort of leftists will keep the hate debate in the headlines. Another example is "a more civil and honest public discourse can help us face up to the challenges of our nation in a way that would make them (the victims) proud." This is a forked-tongue statement because Barack Hussein Obama has never been civil and honest in his politics. Some more doublespeak examples are in tabular format as follows.

DOUBLESPEAK MISUSE OF THE LANGUAGE

SELECTED EXAMPLES OUT OF THE INSTANCES FOLLOWED BY A COMMENT

Avoid or shift responsibility.

"But what we cannot do is use this tragedy as one more occasion to turn on each other."

COMMENT: Although Barack Hussein Obama uses the phrase each other, he intends to say that his political opponents should not use the tragedy to attack the Democrats.

Create a false verbal map of the world.

There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God, the holy place where the Most High dwells.

God is within her, she will not fall; God will help her at break of day.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama uses a quotation from the Holy Bible to make an image of the world that is not reality. At the same time he is invoking an understanding of the city of God as the Islamic Heaven, which has eight levels: Firdaus or Paradise, 'Adn, Na'iim, Na'wa, Darussalaam, Daarul

Muaqaamah, Al-Muqqamul Amin, Khuldi.

The Koran (13:35; 18:31; 35:33-35; 38:49-54; 52:17-27.) describes the city of God, or Islamic Heaven thoroughly. Barack Hussein Obama's use of the Holy Bible verse is intended to cover up his being a Muslim.

The stream (water) in Islam has the symbolical meaning of being clean, being pure.

Create incongruity between reality and what is said or not said.

Gabe Zimmerman saw "to it that ... government was working for ordinary folks."

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama's intended reality is that government should regulate people's lives from the time they are born until they die. Indeed, the government should tell people when they should die and how they should do it.

"They were fulfilling a central tenet of the democracy envisioned by our founders – representatives of the people answering questions to their constituents, so as to carry their concerns back to our nation's capital. Gabby called it 'Congress on Your Corner' – just an updated version of government of and by and for the people.

COMMENT: The Founders did not envision a democracy. They envisioned a republic with only some controls that are attributed to being democratic. Barack Hussein Obama's regime is never of, by, and for the people.

"On Saturday morning, Gabby, her staff and many of her constituents gathered outside a supermarket to exercise their right to peaceful assembly and free speech."

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama does not say that the right to peaceful assembly and free speech are constitutionally guaranteed. As a result, there is incongruity in what he says as compared to the reality of American history.

Distort reality.

There are 17 instances where Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality.

"And we are grateful for the doctors and nurses and first responders who worked wonders to heal those who'd been hurt. We are grateful to them."

COMMENT: The reality is that those who have been hurt are still hurt. They have not yet been healed.

"Our hearts are broken by their sudden passing. Our hearts are broken – and yet, our hearts have reason for fullness."

COMMENT: Broken hearts remain broken. There is no logic in saying that at this moment that the broken hearts have reason for fullness. Hearts do not reason. The mind reasons. Hearts have only a transcendent feeling after the mind reasons. The relatives and friends of the victims have a feeling of emptiness. That is the only reasoning possible.

Limit, conceal, corrupt, and prevent thought.

" ... it's important for us to pause for a moment and make sure that we're talking with each other in a way that heals, not in a way that wounds."

COMMENT: By telling people how to talk to each other, Barack Hussein Obama is really saying people had better be careful of what they say. For example, if the truth hurts, do not tell the truth. There are restraints on thought and via his national hate crime legislation Barack Hussein Obama is willing to have the federal government control how people behave and talk.

Make the bad seem good.

"A Republican, she took a liking to Gabby, and wanted to get to know her better.

COMMENT: Republicans are bad but they appear good when they want to know a Democrat better.

" ... seniors got the Medicare benefits that they had earned,"

COMMENT: According to Barack Hussein Obama Medicare is/was bad. ObamaCare is good. That is why one goal of ObamaCare is to destroy Medicare.

Make the negative appear positive.

" ... we are full of decency and goodness, and that the forces that divide us are not as strong as those that unite us."

COMMENT: The forces that divide the United States of America are forces that are of leftist making. Socialism is anti-American. Big government is anti-American. Government control of private lives is anti-American. Usurpation of power by the putative president and federal government are anti-American. The forces that are to unite Americans are the rules and responsibilities of the Constitution for the United States of America. Barack Hussein Obama has reversed the moral responsibility of this fact.

Make the unpleasant appear attractive or tolerable.

"If there are rain puddles in Heaven, Christina is jumping in them today."

COMMENT: Christina Taylor Green's death is more than unpleasant. It is a tragedy. Yet, Barack Hussein Obama says that it is tolerable, even attractive if the mourners and her family can envision Christina Taylor Green jumping in Heaven's mud puddles.

Mislead.

"Scripture tells us that there is evil in the world, and that terrible things happen for reasons that defy human understanding. In the words of Job, "When I looked for light, then came darkness."

COMMENT: With this quotation from Job, Barack Hussein Obama knows that he is leading the audience into believing that he is a Christian. Nothing could be further from the truth! Christians have been misled because Job is considered by Islam and Muslims to be a prophet on the same level with Jesus. Job is a man of patience who remains steadfast to Allah and never loses faith in Allah. That is why Barack Hussein Obama quotes Job. This reference is also a form of al-taqiyya.

There are eight major references to Job in the Koran: 4:163; 6:84; 21:83; 21:84; 38:41; 38:42; 38:43; 38:44.

Pretends to communicate.

The use of first names 12 times (without counting repetitions) in spite of the fact that Barack Hussein Obama never knew the victims personally.

There are a total of 17 instances.

Five examples have been chosen.

Phyllis Schneck was "a gifted quilter,"

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama makes the statement as if he knows the quality of Phyllis Schneck's quilting first hand.

"be boyfriend and girlfriend again"

COMMENT: Barack Hussein describes the relationship to the audience as if he had known the two people since their childhood.

Sentences 38 to 44 in reference to nine-year-old Christina Taylor Green.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama states these sentences as if he had known Christina Taylor Green personally. personally.

"As we discuss these issues, let each of us do so with a good dose of humility."

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama's intention is to let the mourners know that he also, possess humility, which he does not, because narcissist persons never possess humility.

This author has also selected the following passages. For the purpose of emphasis, they are not included in the table above.

"What Americans do at times of tragedy is to come together and support each other. So at this time I ask all Americans to join me and Michelle in keeping all the victims and their families, including Gabby, in our thoughts and prayers. Those who have been injured, we are rooting for them. And I know Gabby is as tough as they come, and I am hopeful that she's going to pull through."

"Obviously our hearts go out to the family members of those who have been slain. We are going to get to the bottom of this, and we're going to get through this. But in the meantime, I think all of us need to make sure that we're offering our thoughts and prayers to those concerned."[15]

COMMENT: We all know what happened after that. The hate from the left with it's the republicans are behind the shooting, kill Rush Limbaugh, shoot Sarah Palin to avenge the assassination attempt, hang the conservatives went into overdrive and as of this date such leftist hate has not stopped. Barack Hussein Obama offered his prayers during a five-hour viewing of the football playoffs!?! Such doublespeak and doublespeak behavior is very difficult to succeed. Perhaps this hate from the left is a peaking of Barack Hussein Obama's thug language that he used in the 2008 presidential primaries and continued with on into the White House. Here are some Barack Hussein Obama examples:[16]

- Obama to His Followers: "Get in Their Faces!"
- Obama on ACORN Mobs: "I don't want to quell anger. I think people are right to be angry! I'm angry!"
- Obama to His Mercenary Army: "Hit Back Twice As Hard"
- Obama on the private sector: "We talk to these folks ... so I know whose ass to kick."
- Obama to voters: "Republican victory would mean "hand to hand combat" (sic)
- Obama to liberal supporters: "It's time to Fight for it."
- Obama to Latino supporters: "Punish your enemies."
- Obama to democrats: "I'm itching for a fight."
- Obama regime to the American People: "Bring it (the fight) on."
- "They bring a knife (his opponents, the Republicans) we bring a gun."

- "Don't you think we're not keeping score, brother."
- "My administration is the only thing between you and the pitchforks."
- "Get ready for hand-to-hand combat with your fellow Americans."
- "Republicans are our enemies."
- "I am going to strangle all Republicans who don't agree with me politically."
- "All those who oppose me or my party, must ride in the back of the bus."
- "Damn Americans who cling bitterly to their 2nd amendment rights (the constitutional right to keep and bear arms)."
- "I hope all Americans who dare to criticize our great Marxist heroes die of screaming anal cancer!"
- "I have no problem with Democrats cheating to win elections, I'd do it in a heartbeat."
- "Governor Christie (New Jersey) is a fat slob."
- "We Democrats should rip the heart right out of Vice President of The United States of America Cheney's chest, use it for a football, and then stuff it back in his quivering corpse."

Barack Hussein Obama's Tucson memorial remarks, particularly when observed within the parameters of T-shirts being sold with the imprints Together We Thrive, Tucson and America, and the selling of bumper stickers, belonged more to a political rally, or to a come-and-see-the (putative)-president event than a ceremony of grieving mourners. Indeed, Barack Hussein Obama's words were more campaign-speech oriented. When Barack Hussein Obama pleaded for civility, one got the message that civility applies only to others, not to his side of politics. This conclusion is supported by the 53 rounds of applause from the so-called mourners.

The 70 instances of doublespeak in 135 sentences results in 51.8 percent of the speech being explicit and open doublespeak. Barack Hussein Obama harped on the hope theme twelve times. When coupled with the eight occurrences of the messiah syndrome, the most pointed example being that upon leaving the hospital room after paying a visit to Congresswoman Giffords, she awoke from being in a coma and opened her eyes. Of course, Barack Hussein Obama's presence alone heals!

Comrade Forked Tongue and Al-Taqiyya

Perhaps this conduct can be better comprehended when we apply the terminology al-taqiyya to the thought process and behavioral attitudes of Barack Hussein Obama. Al-taqiyya reinforces doublespeak one-hundred percent. If one googles the term al-taqiyya there will be approximately 587 hits. The literal meaning of the Arabic word al-taqiyya is: the method of concealing or disguising one's beliefs, convictions, feelings, ideas, opinions, and strategies during a time of eminent danger, regardless of when, in order to save oneself or Islam from physical harm or mental, demeaning injury or insults. A direct English term is dissimulation, which means the concealing of one's true intentions or feelings. Of course, those who implement al-taqiyya decide for themselves what constitutes physical harm or mental, demeaning injury or insults, even though such situations may not be present. This is the core behavior and mental posture of Barack Hussein Obama as a Muslim, as a leftist, and as a criminal. Indeed, it is the save your assets method, which is common among all three groupings, either separate or unified in one person.

Denial and Dualism

Another aspect in Barack Hussein Obama's doublespeak that is closely allied, if not an integral part of al-taqiyya, is his use of denial and dualism. These speaking and writing policies are typical for Muslims. Indeed, they occur throughout the Koran and the Sunna, the latter being reports concerning matters that Muhammad purportedly said, consciously did, or did not do, or supposedly did or did not do. The Sunna is the second most important source of Islamic belief, life, and actions, all of which may be immoral as long as they serve the advancement of Islam.

Barack Hussein Obama clearly recognizes the existence of contradictions. What he will say at a later date may contradict what he said at an earlier date. Yet, in his warped mind that is not a contradiction. It is not an indication that what he said on day X is contradicted by the speech on day Y. What Barack Hussein Obama says is always the truth, albeit, it is really a lie. When two statements seem to negate each other, the second statement is intended to supersede the first statement. However, what Barack Hussein Obama said on day X is still in force. The statement on day Y does not cancel out the statement on day X. The day X statement may still be made for purposes of soothing the public, but the day Y statement will surely be used in private to show Barack Hussein Obama's true intention. An example of this is his presidential primary claim that that his ObamaCare program would not raise the Medicare payroll tax on households earning less than 250,000 dollars. Already on February 22, 2010, Barack Hussein Obama stated that his ObamaCare program would undoubtedly raise the Medicare payroll tax on households earning less than 250,000 dollars.[17]

In the logic of Western philosophy such situations of denial and dualism are unthinkable. The contradictory situations are considered to be illogical. However, in Barack Hussein Obama's Islamic mindset, the statements on day X and the countering statements on day Y are both true. Such superficial irrationality is described as dualistic logic, which is not exclusive, A or B and not both; but on the contrary, it is inclusive being either A or B, and possibly both. Such logic is closely related to and complements the Hegelian-Marxist thought process, thesis < > antithesis = synthesis, the synthesis becoming the new thesis that is contradicted by a new anti-thesis leading to a new synthesis, etc., which will ultimately lead the Forked-Tongue Comrade to the real (his) truth. As a result there is no space for a golden rule in the dislogical mind-functioning of Barack Hussein Obama, for he defines his world as being made up of those for him and those against him. Barack Hussein Obama will never treat all people as he would like to be treated for the simple fact that his political policies apply to him and his obots or obamunists only. The result is that Barack Hussein Obama will throw a former friend under the bus, if by so doing it is to his personal or political advantage.

The consequence is that Barack Hussein Obama's utilization of doublespeak allows him to keep two opposing ideas in his mind at the same time. He can fully believe in both ideas as long as they are part of his socialist-communist politics, or he can play one off against the other, e. g., socialism-communism as opposed to capitalism-republicanism. By exercising the play-off-against-the-other strategy Barack Hussein Obama often employs euphemisms to cloud what he really means. Indeed, Barack Hussein Obama often describes his opponents with terms that apply to him. For example, by vocalizing the euphemism that Republicans are categorically inaccurate, Barack Hussein Obama means that Republicans (like Barack Hussein Obama) lie. When Barack Hussein Obama uses the term senior citizen or the chronologically disadvantaged in reference to his ObamaCare, he means respectively the old people and over-aged-ready-to-die-who-should-opt-out-of-the-for-life-prolonging-medical measures. An example of an inflated euphemism in ObamaCare is negative patient result, meaning the patient died. With respect to economics, Barack Hussein Obama often uses the formulation careful ideas, or diehard or cautious notions, to mean conservative economic policies.

All of these uses point to an evil view of the world that borders on, if not is, an indication that Barack Hussein Obama's mental activity functions only at the most possible margins. Finally, we encounter a euphemism that reflects the truth!

Here's a classic piece of Barack Hussein Obama's gobbledygook, inflated jargon, the purpose of which is to say something that sounds intellectual, but fails to communicate.

"We cannot, we must not, and we will not let our auto industry simply vanish. This industry is, like no other, an emblem of the American spirit; a once and future symbol of America's success. It is what helped build the middle class and sustained it throughout the 20th century. It is a source of deep pride for the generations of American workers whose hard work and imagination led to some of the finest cars the world has ever known. It is a pillar of our economy that has held up the dreams of millions of our people. But we also cannot continue to excuse poor decisions. And we cannot make the survival of our auto industry dependent on an unending flow of tax dollars. These companies – and this industry – must ultimately stand on their own, not as wards of the state."

The auto industry must stand on its own? That is why the Mr. Gobbledygook Obama continues:

"That is why the federal government provided General Motors and Chrysler with emergency loans to prevent their sudden collapse at the end of last year — only on the condition that they would develop plans to restructure. In keeping with that agreement, each company has submitted a plan to restructure. But after careful analysis, we have determined that neither goes far enough to warrant the substantial new investments that these companies are requesting. And so today, I am announcing that my administration will offer GM and Chrysler a limited period of time to work with creditors, unions, and other stakeholders to fundamentally restructure in a way that would justify an investment of additional tax dollars; a period during which they must produce plans that would give the American people confidence in their long-term prospects for success."[18]

In other words, Barack Hussein Obama as dictator is going to nationalize the automotive companies, keep private investors out, and allow the United Auto Workers to make the decisions. Another example of Barack Hussein Obama's gobbledygook is:

"I'm going to have all the negotiations around a big table. We'll have the negotiations televised on C-SPAN, so that people can see who is making arguments on behalf of their constituents and who are making arguments on behalf of the drug companies or the insurance companies."[19]

Such promised transparency is exactly what did not happen. It was all gobbledygook to get elected to office.

Instances of Barack Hussein Obama's mixed doublespeak are his (Non)State of the Unions Speeches before Congress. Practically every paragraph, if not every sentence contains doublespeak. Mixed doublespeak is when the doublespeak occurs throughout. Two researched and detailed examples of Barack Hussein Obama's mixed doublespeak that he voiced in the presidential primaries are:

- a. An Exposé of the Content and Rhetoric of Barack Hussein Obama's Speech, A World That Stands as One,

Enter the Political Stage From the Left

According to American non-republican political participation, indeed, all leftists, aka social democrats, aka progressives, aka neo-maoists, aka communists, aka liberals, and sometimes aka just plain democrats, the only entrance to the American political stage, in fact in any country, is from the left. To American leftists and their akas, the leftist thought is the life blood of political existence. Underneath their veil of innocence, however, exists the presence of the aspects discussed above, although all of the groups named would emphatically deny that they ever use the concepts, at least negatively. If we examine what role the concepts of speaking with a forked tongue, doublespeak, mixed doublespeak, al-taqiyya, and denial and dualism play in the leftist rhetoric of Comrade Forked Tongue, we uncover the following realities:

A New Definition of Equality: "All men (human beings) are created equal" has been changed by leftists and Comrade Forked Tongue into social groups that are relegated to receiving government doles, distributed by the leftists themselves. The "All men (human beings) are created equal" morality and the Protestant work ethic have become extinct. We The People have become economic units.

Principles Before Human Needs: The leftists principles as laid down by their thinkers like Karl Marx, Mao Zedong, Saul Alinsky, and most recently the Arab-American (?) Barack Hussein Obama claim that there are universal principles of political economics that must be instituted regardless of the needs that human beings possess. It is interesting to note that only such intellectuals (?) claim that only their leftists models are the solution to the problems of the human being, which they define as a collective creature. The core element of leftist thought is that which it has always been: coercion, and forced persuasion, which ultimately leads to total control. The age-old political term is tyranny.

Political Correctness: According to leftist thinking, being politically correct is the process by which citizens receive a leftist-imposed and educational persuasion that leads to behavioral collectivism and controlled minds. Political correctness is the catalyst to implementing behavioral collectivism and controlled minds in the body politic. Political correctness is a form of lying. Barack Hussein Obama is the most politically correct (lying) politician the modern world has encountered. Political and economical common sense is the basis of instituting truth in society. With the use of political correctness, a person's individual opinions and individual needs take on a subsidiary importance to the demands of the commune. Individual opinions and individual needs are of no importance, even though the leftists like Comrade Forked Tongue will doublespeak that they are of the utmost importance.

Big Government: Leftists label independent farmers, individual professions, master workers, small businesses, the self-employed, etc., as the economic enemies of the new leftist state, which is pro-large industries, pro-state corporations, and pro-government controlled economics. There is no longer any emphasis on the creative force of the individual and the self-imposed impetus for the individual to determine what is important for the individual. The litmus test of success is how much can the government control society. The litmus test is not that of providing for the opportunity of the individual to decide one's own quality of life. The laws no longer come from We The People, but are superimposed on We The People from the so-called-democratically-rigged-elected leftist elite. The Law of the Land, the Constitution for the United States of America, is always referred to as the guideline constitution of the United States of America, the of meaning that the laws come from the government, not that We The People are the source of the laws for the government. National laws under the comrade conglomerate of forked-tongue, leftist, big government are to be assimilated into international law, thus causing the final obliteration of the sovereignty and independence of the nation known as The United States of America.

Closing Statement

Barack Hussein Obama's transparency is concealment. The obvious reason for this behavior is that Comrade Forked Tongue can never reveal his real leftist principles because they are to their core repelling for the independent, republican body politic. If revealed, the populace will easily realize what an arse-creeper politician to leftist doctrine Barack Hussein Obama is. Comrade Forked Tongue, aka Barack Hussein Obama, has always clouded his goals in terminologies that appeal to the heart and soul of normal, non-leftist thinking individuals. He has always claimed compassion for those on the lower economic end of the population, constantly telling them that their situation is not because of their own defects, but the fault of the rich who exploit them. Barack Hussein Obama's form of government will take care of them. He will take care of the little guy, by exploiting those who are employed. The only energy they have to expend is to vote for the socialistic-and-George-Soros-owned Democratic Party ad infinitum.

Furthermore, the economic-environmental chaos of the United States of America, according to Comrade Forked Tongue, is a result of global warming and the only solution is to unify with all of the post-industrialized countries so that they can collectively heal the planet. This quip – heal the planet – is another opaque term that is used by Mr. Doublespeak to undermine the economic system of capitalism and free enterprise. This undermining is also described as social justice, or economic support of the underdeveloped nations.

Another clouded term is Comrade Forked Tongue's vision of a nuclear-free world. This is, of course, at the expense of the defense capabilities of the United States of America. Russia can develop as many nuclear weapons under the new Strategic Arms Reduction Treaty as it wants. The United States of America under the Barack Hussein Obama regime has settled for accepting a decline in its own defensive capabilities. Or, of course Iran can have nuclear technology. They will use it for peaceful purposes only. One of the peaceful purposes in their deranged political reality is the destruction of Israel. But remember al-taqiyya: everything is allowed as long as it supports the advancement of Islam throughout the world! Should an Iranian nuclear bomb capability present the world with an either convert-to-Islam-or-we will-bomb-you scenario, then Comrade Forked Tongue, like a good Muslim, will have done a service to the advancement of Islam by not having countered the threat when it was still in its nuclear birth pangs.

Comrade Forked Tongue is an inconsistent and dishonest person. His politics are dishonest to the extent that they are evil. Therein lies the only consistency Barack Hussein Obama possesses. Comrade Forked Tongue does not tell the truth, for to do so would reveal the dishonesty of his principles. Barack Hussein Obama's character has an immoral element that corresponds to his intellectual capacity. He is the embodiment of the political lie, from his pedes to his atures! That is why Barack Hussein Obama is successful as a leftist politician; he can tell a lie as the truth with the blink of an eye, and therefore fool the voters, whom he considers to be idiots.

The revealing aspects about Comrade Forked Tongue is his stumbling as an orator without a teleprompter. Phrases such as He or she said something else; I didn't hear that; I don't remember that; I want to be clear; I want to say, uh, to say this; I wasn't present; Let me be perfectly clear about that; Let me think about that; That's not the person I knew; Uh, let me, uh, explain; Uh, uh, I've been completely, uh, consistent; Uh, uh, etc., are conscious and sub-conscious vocal tricks to hide his true intentions. Comrade Forked Tongue will never tell the voters that he is out to tax them more, that their property does not belong to them, that leftists are the better politicians, or that he is the savior of the world. He will tell them that he has a vision of social justice, that his vision of society is the correct one; or that he will heal society's evils. Barack Hussein Obama will never tell the voters that he and the leftists, who are also forked-tongue charlatans, have as their goal the destruction of individual liberties, freedoms, and responsibilities.

Leftists and Muslims Merge

There is no doubt in this author's estimation that Comrade Forked Tongue is a Muslim. He was born into a Muslim family and heritage. By consequence of birth he belongs to the umma, the community of the Muslims. Once a person is born into the umma, that person is a member forever. Speaking out of both sides of the mouth, having a forked tongue, utilizing doublespeak, mixed doublespeak, practicing al-taqiyya, claiming denial and dualism, and having as a goal that everyone is to live in a social, economic community without a regard for individualism, are the common elements that leftists and Muslims possess. Such common grounds make it easy for leftists to identify with Islamic goals and facilitates the support of the Islamic world for leftist doctrines. The one hand washes the other. Should the leftist goals outlined above be implemented by Comrade Forked Tongue, it is only a thought-jump to have those implementations occur in a framework of Islamic codification. Likewise should Islamic teachings be implemented by Comrade Forked Tongue's regime, it is only a thought-jump to have such teachings be established in a framework of leftist codification that is conducive to the Islamic codification. Individualism to leftists and Muslims is heresy! It is to be exterminated! Once a person accepts the established teachings and political frameworks of the leftists and Muslims – there is no difference – individualism ceases to exist. Rather than accept that, this author would rather accept the truths of the Holy Bible as they pertain to comrades with a forked tongue and a regime that is anti-individualism.

Some Biblical Truths

Where else but in the Book of Proverbs do we find the truths about Comrade Forked Tongue and his leftist regime. In Proverbs 6:16 we read that there are six things that the Lord hates, indeed there are seven that are an abomination unto Him.

1. Proverbs 6:17. A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood.
2. Proverbs 6:18. A heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief.
3. Proverbs 6:19. A false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren.
4. Proverbs 12:19. The lip of truth shall be established for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment.
5. Proverbs 17:4. A wicked doer giveth heed to false lips; and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue.
6. Proverbs 17:20. He that hath a froward (stubbornly contrary, disobedient, obstinate) heart findeth no good: and he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into mischief.
7. Proverbs 18:21. Death and life are in the power of the tongue; and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

As far as the leftist, forked-tongue regime goes, we find revelations pertaining to them in the book of Jeremiah. They are as follows:

1. Jeremiah 9:5. And they will deceive every one his neighbor, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity.
2. Jeremiah 9:8. Their tongue is as an arrow shot out; it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbor with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait.
3. Jeremiah 14:14. Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart

The readers of this essay do not have to think long about these Biblical listings to understand that their truths unequivocally describe Comrade Forked Tongue, his regime, and the charlatan obamunist/obot supporters. The slimy character of speaking with a forked tongue, using doublespeak, exercising al-taqiyya, invoking denial and dualism is clearly seen by the fact that all of them would be used to contradict and make the Proverb truths null and void. At the same time, they would be used to support the tyranny of government as presented by the selected verses from Jeremiah.

Summa summarum:[20] The wise speak only of what they know. A witless worm is Barack Hussein Obama. Therefore be silent Comrade Forked Tongue. American patriots have not passed through the fires of independence and death to bandy crooked words with a liar until lightning falls. Barack Hussein Obama twists words and meanings to serve the leftist and Islamic goal of destroying the United States of America.

Barack Hussein Obama: Be silent and keep your forked tongue so far behind your teeth that you may choke on it.!

NOTES AND SOURCES

1. "We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America." The preamble equivocally titles the document Constitution for the United States of America. The emphasis is on the preposition for. The Founding Fathers did not use the preposition of. Had they used of, they would have meant that the powers delineated in the Constitution come from the federal government. By using the preposition for, the Founding Fathers were underscoring the fact that the powers listed in the Constitution come from We the People.

2. The term obamavocuism is the present author's word creation by joining Obama with voice and communism. The term Obama-speak is also used. However it does not convey the fact that the political agenda of communism is behind Barack Hussein Obama's speech.

The truth behind the first recognition of America by Muslim Morocco in 1777 contains over one-hundred and fifty years of historical fact that presents the truth behind Islam and its quest for world dominance and the extinction of Western Culture and Christianity. That Barack Hussein Obama's intention was to remain ambiguous, indeed, to not relay the truth about the evilness of Islamic Moroccan history coincides with his evil, sneering, attitude about American history. It is effrontery! The items of information below are the historical happenings as they are reported at reference to the Turks is a general reference to Muslims in Morocco and the Moroccan Sultan. At the time of the ruling Ottoman Turks (thirteenth to twentieth century), the term Turks was used interchangeably to mean Muslims. Morocco was and is considered to be a part of the larger Islamic Empire. Even today the ruling Alaouite dynasty in Morocco claims direct lineage to Mohammed.

<http://www.worldviewweekend.com/worldview-times/article.php?articleid=5278>. The reader should be aware that the

The Pilgrims settled Massachusetts in 1620. Governor William Bradford recorded in his History of the Plymouth Settlement that in 1625 two ships sailed back to England filled with dried fish and beaver skins to trade for supplies: "They went joyfully...and had such fine weather...till they were well within the England channel "But even there she was unhappily taken by a Turkish man-of-war and carried off to Saller (sic) (Morocco) where the captain and crew were made slaves Thus all their hopes were dashed and the joyful news they meant to carry home was turned to heavy tidings "Adventurers were so reduced by their losses last year, and now by the ship taken by the Turks ... that all trade was dead."

In Christian Slaves, Muslim Masters: White Slavery in the Mediterranean, the Barbary Coast and Italy 1500-1800 (Palgrave Macmillan, Basingstoke, Hampshire: 2003, chapter. 1, p. 3), Robert C. Davis relates the true record of Francis Knight, an Englishman who had been kidnapped and enslaved in Algiers, then made a rowing slave on Algerian galleys for seven years: "January the 16th day, in the year before nominated (1631); I arrived in Algiers, that Citie fatal (sic) to all Christians, and the butchery of mankind My condolation (sic) is for the losse (sic) of many Christians, taken from their parents and countries, of all sorts and sexes. Some in infancy, both by land and by sea, being forced to abuses (most incorrigible flagitions (sic) not onely (sic) so, but bereaft (sic) of Christian Religion, and means of grace and repentence (sic). How many thousands of the Nazarian (sic) nations have beene (sic) and are continually lost by that monster, what rationall (sic) creature can be ignorant of?"

In his book, White Gold: The Extraordinary Story of Thomas Pellow and North Africa's One Million European Slaves (Hodder & Stoughton Ltd., London: 2004), Giles Milton writes of Muslim corsairs (pirates) who raided England in 1625. "Muslim pirates from Morocco attacked the English coast of Cornwall, capturing 60 villagers at Mount's Bay and 80 at Looe. Muslims took Lundy Island in Bristol Channel and raised the standard of Islam. ... By the end of 1625, over 1,000 English subjects were sent to the slave markets of Sale, Morocco."

By the year 1640, hundreds of English ships and over 3,000 British subjects were enslaved in Algiers and 1,500 in Tunis. In three centuries, over a million Europeans were enslaved by Muslim Barbary Pirates. Giles Milton wrote of Thomas Pellow, born in an English fishing village in 1704. "At the age of 11, Thomas Pellow was captured by Muslim Barbary Pirates when his uncle's ship was taken. Thomas Pellow became property of Sultan Moulay Ismail (1647-1727), and, along with 25,000 other European slaves, was put to work building the Sultan's grand palace in Meknes, nicknamed the Versailles of Morocco.

In A Journey to Mequinez (Meknes), published in London in 1825, John Windus writes an account of Sultan Moulay Ismail: "His trembling court assemble, which consists of his great officers, the alcaides (sic), blacks, whites, tawnies (sic) and his favourite Jews, (are) all barefooted He is ... known by his very looks and motions; and sometimes the colour of the habit that he wears, yellow being observed to be his killing colour; from all of which they calculate whether they may hope to live twenty-four hours longer Sometimes when he goes out of town ... he will be attended by fifteen or twenty thousand blacks on horseback, with whom he now and then diverts himself at (by throwing) the lance His travelling utensils are two or three guns, a sword or two, and two lances, because one broke once while he was murdering; His boys carry short Brazil sticks, knotted cords for whipping, a change of clothes to shift when bloody, and a hatchet, two of which he took in a Portuguese ship, and the first time they were brought to him, killed a man without any provocation, to try if they were good." The accounts of Sultan Moulay Ismail include ordering soldiers to push Christian slaves off a high wall they were building because they did not synchronize their hammer strokes. According to John Windus, the Sultan Moulay Ismail beat his slaves "in the cruelest (sic) manner imaginable, to try if they were hard" and murdered some for "hiding pieces of bread".

Sultan Moulay Ismail was nicknamed The Bloodiest. He had approximately 500 wives, most of them being captured European women. It is reported that they bore him a record 1,042 children.

After 23 years of witnessing tortures, beheadings, and forced conversions to Islam, Thomas Pellow escaped at the mature age of 34 years. Sir Edward Pellow, a distant relative, led the British fleet to bombard Algiers in 1816, freeing thousands of slaves.

Yes, the Muslim nation of Morocco was indeed the first nation to recognize the United States, but the presentation by Barack Hussein Obama is overloaded with hints of obamaguity, i.e., intended ambiguity.

6. From http://www.cspipublishing.com/statistical/pdf/Statistical_Islam.pdf the reader is introduced to one of the great questions of the twenty-first century: "What is the true nature of Islam?" and finds out that "There are two distinct answers to this question from the media and leaders. The popular message is that Islam is one of the great world religions, a peaceful religion, a foundation of world civilization, its Golden Age was the highpoint of history, and it preserved Western thought while we were in the Dark Ages. The alternative (and in my opinion the true) message is that Islam is a brutal, backward, woman abusing, violent, intellectually narrow ideology that is out to annihilate the kafir (non-believer) civilization."

7. The top ten Barack Hussein Apologies for the year 2009, as listed by <http://www.humanevents.com/article.php?id=32296> are as follows

1. Apology to Europe: Speech in Strasbourg, France, April 3. "In America, there's a failure to appreciate Europe's leading role in the world. Instead of celebrating your dynamic union and seeking to partner with you to meet common challenges, there have been times where America has shown arrogance and been dismissive, even derisive." (The opposite is true. The United States of America has practically always placed importance on European partnership.)

2. Apology to the Muslim world: Interview with Al Arabiya, January 27. "My job to the Muslim world is to communicate that the Americans are not your enemy. We sometimes make mistakes. We have not been perfect." (The statement does not recognize the obvious: Muslims consider the United States of America to be their enemy, until it is subdued by Islamic supremacy and converts to Islam.)

3. Apology to the Summit of the Americas: Address to the Summit of the Americas, Port of Spain, Trinidad and Tobago, April 17. “While the United States has done much to promote peace and prosperity in the hemisphere, we have at times been disengaged, and at times we sought to dictate our terms.” (The statement fails to recognize that because the United States of America often dictated its terms, peace and prosperity were promoted in the hemisphere.)

4. Apology at the G-20 Summit of World Leaders: News conference in London, April 2. “I just think in a world that is as complex as it is, that it is very important for us to be able to forge partnerships as opposed to simply dictating solutions.” (The world partnerships did not come into being because the United States of America dictated solutions. Three immediate partnerships two world, one regional, that come immediately to mind are the United Nations, the World Economic Forum, and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.)

5. Apology for the War on Terror: Speech in Washington, D.C., May 21. “Unfortunately, faced with an uncertain threat, our government made a series of hasty decisions. I believe that many of these decisions were motivated by a sincere desire to protect the American people. But I also believe that all too often our government made decisions based on fear rather than foresight, that all too often our government trimmed facts and evidence to fit ideological predispositions.” (Political reality and George W. Bush's recent book Decision Points show that the opposite is the case.)

6. Apology for Guantanamo in France: Speech in Strasbourg, France, April 3. “In dealing with terrorism, we can't lose sight of our values and who we are. That's why I closed Guantanamo. That's why I made very clear that we will not engage in certain interrogation practices. I don't believe that there is a contradiction between our security and our values. And when you start sacrificing your values, when you lose yourself, then over the long term that will make you less secure.” (Barack Hussein Obama did not close Guantanamo. Recent history has shown that information received from certain interrogation practices like water boarding, which is illegal and immoral only in the minds of progressives, guarantees America's security and values and, in the long run, will make America more secure.)

7. Apology for America before the Turkish Parliament: Speech to the Turkish Parliament, Ankara, Turkey, April 6. "The United States is still working through some of our own darker periods in our history. Facing the Washington Monument that I spoke of is a memorial of Abraham Lincoln, the man who freed those who were enslaved even after Washington led our Revolution. Our country still struggles with the legacies of slavery and segregation, the past treatment of Native Americans." (This is not true. The real struggles are over. They are recorded history. They appear only as a result of reverse-racism that is regularly cooked up by Barack Hussein Obama and his obots.)

8. Apology for U.S. Policy toward the Americas: Editorial "Choosing a Better Future in the Americas," April 16. "Too often, the United States has not pursued and sustained engagement with our neighbors. We have been too easily distracted by other priorities, and have failed to see that our own progress is tied directly to progress throughout the Americas." (The reverse is the situation, particularly the last portion of the statement: Progress throughout the Americas is tied directly to the progress of the United States of America.)

9. Apology for the Mistakes of the CIA: Remarks to CIA employees at Langley, Va., April 29. "Don't be discouraged that we have to acknowledge potentially we've made some mistakes." (In other words, because I say 'don't be discouraged' you must be discouraged. The statement is an exercise in speaking with a forked tongue: saying one thing and meaning the opposite.)

10. Apology for Guantanamo: Speech in Washington, D.C., May 21.

“There is also no question that Guantanamo set back the moral authority that is America’s strongest currency in the world.” (No! Absolutely not! What tied America’s moral authority to Guantanamo were the accusations of happenings at Guantanamo that never occurred, like the flushing down the toilet of the Koran. Newsweek Magazine later retracted and apologized for the untrue story. For the retraction and apology consult:
