JUST THINKING

Political strategist Dick Morris warns that "...Obama and Secretary of State Hillary Clinton are entering negotiations" concerning "five treaties that could radically limit our national sovereignty and the reach of our democratic institutions."

1. Leftists are trying to get the International Criminal Court to make aggression a crime. That essentially means that "...our presidents and Cabinet officials could be prosecuted criminally for going to war without U.N. approval. This would, of course, give Russia and China a veto over our military actions."
2. The Obama administration has already signed and is pushing for Senate ratification of the Law of the Sea Treaty (LOST). "LOST requires that the United States pay an international body half of its royalties from offshore drilling. The body would then distribute the funds as it sees fit to whichever nations it chooses. The United States would only have one vote out of 160 regarding where the money goes. LOST will also oblige us to hand over our offshore drilling technology to any nation that wants it ...for free."
3. A "small arms treaty" that "would require each nation to adopt measures to stop exportation of small arms. It is easy to see how this could be a backdoor way to require national registration of all guns and to assert federal regulation over firearms. It would also require the registration of all ammunition to track its source once a gun is fired. The Second Amendment be damned!"

4. Clinton is also working with the European Union on an “Outer Space Code of Conduct.” The agreement “...would prohibit activities that are likely to generate debris in outer space—space littering. [But] The code might [also] inhibit or prohibit the United States from deploying anti-missile missiles on platforms in space, denying us the key weapon we need to counter Iranian, Chinese and North Korean missile threats.”
5. Lastly, a “Rights of the Child” treaty would establish “...a code of rights for children, to be administered by a 14-member court set up for the purpose. The draft treaty obliges rich nations to provide funds for shelter, food, clothing and education for children in poor nations. This provision could create grounds to litigate to challenge the level of foreign aid we give as inadequate to meet our treaty obligations. Already, leftists in the United Kingdom are using the treaty to attack welfare cuts by the [Prime Minister David] Cameron government.”

JT: Concerning:

1. Making aggression a crime is okay as long as it is limited to Islamic aggression.
2. See! It is possible to give the world progressive freebies.
3. The Second Amendment is not damned. As long as the terminology stays small arms without being defined, okay. Small arms means Michelle. The Second Amendment means weapons, although it says Americans have the right to bear arms. I don't think progressives understand the difference.
4. The Russians and we could give Hillary and Barack a free ride into Outer Space so that debris could be with debris.
5. There are over 1.5 billion Muslims in the world. It appears that the USA will support their family needs.

Isn't it interesting that Obama comes from Chicago. Hillary Rodham Clinton comes from Chicago. Chicago produced two top American traitors in one generation.

Daniel Hannan, a conservative member of the British Parliament, addresses the CPAC audience, warning, “If you [in the United States] repeat our mistakes [in Europe], if you shift power from the 50 states to Washington, from the elected representative to the federal czar, from the citizen to the state, we know exactly what lies in store for you. I’ve been a member of the European parliament for 12 years. I am living in your future, or at least the future towards which your present leaders seem intent on taking you. And believe me, my friends, you are not going to enjoy it. ...European health care, European day care, European college education, European nuclear disarmament, European carbon taxes, the whole package. And I’ll tell you, when you adopt those things, you don’t just become like any other country. You become less prosperous, less independent, less Democratic, and less free. We are at the end of the road that you have just set out along. We’re screeching towards the cliff, and a couple of us, a very small number of us in the parliaments of Europe are trying desperately to jam the brakes on while there is still time. And you know what? We look up and what do we see in our rearview mirror, we see you trying to overtake us, accelerating frantically in the direction that we have been going in. My friends, there is still time to turn aside. ...Let me end with a heartfelt imprecation from a British conservative who loves his country, to American conservatives who still believe in theirs. Honor the vision of your founders, cleave to the most sublime Constitution devised by human intelligence. Don’t be the generation that cuts itself off from the wisdom of your fathers and disinherits your children. Never be afraid to speak to and for the soul of this nation, of which by good fortune and God’s grace you are privileged to be a part. God bless you, my friends, God bless America, and God bless the alliance of the free English speaking nations. Thank you.”

JT: Evidently God is still alive in Great Britain. Allah hasn't taken over, yet!!! Methinks that Americans do not understand Daniel Hannan's simple English and logic. The reason is that they have been educated to be dumb by the liberal, progressive institutions of lower learning, from the kindergarten through the grade schools, and high schools, and colleges, and universities where all the attendees have to do is to say ohmmm, ohmmmm, ohmmmm, to their gooey teachers and professors, like is taught at Goddard College in Vermont. Daniel Hannan's message is the writing on the wall for America's future. However, those who support Obama and the socialist-fascist left are incapable of individual thinking! Right on! Gleichschaltung! All of the Kims-who-are-ill, Hitler, Mao, Stalin, Marx, Lenin, are still alive and their name is Barack Hussein Obama. Of course, the Founding Fathers were nothing but fickle!!!

Barry the life saver announces his contraceptive “compromise,” and states, “[I]t’s a lot cheaper to prevent an illness than to treat one ...preventive care should include coverage of contraceptive services such as birth control.”

JT: Having babies is a disease, particularly if you are non-Muslim!

Obama's compromise is a “non-compromise compromise” on the contraceptives issue.

JT: What else would you expect from Barack Hussein Satan Obama?

The final government regulation from the Department of Health and Human Services, concerning employers paying for insurance for contraceptives was issued on February 10, 2012. There was no compromise change.

Mr. Rectal Hole told the American public the truth again ... in the form of a lie. The director, Kathleen Sebelius, you know, Madame Do Not Let A Fetus Survive, enacted her Master's desire when she emerged for some fresh air from her seclusion inside Mr. Rectal Hole. If Catholic organizations are forced to pay for contraceptives, which is against their beliefs, then Muslim organizations should be forced to sell bacon and pork!

Senator Jeff Session (R-AL) comments, “Our systemic debt problem requires the nation to make serious choices. A good leader should tell the American people what the options are. I remain baffled that [Obama] seems unwilling to do that.”

JT: Now that statement is politically correct! It would have been better had Senator Sessions said something like “Our systemic debt problem requires the nation to make serious choices. The first serious choice is to get rid of Obama and all of his supporters. The second serious choice is to get rid of progressivism as a political choice. The third serious choice is follow the law of the Constitution. Obama is not a good leader, unless you like being led in reverse. I am not baffled that Obama does not act. What else can he do when he is so intent on improving his golf game while at the same time shooting balls at the American public that insure that the United States of America will go down the hole!”

ABC News reports, “The Obama campaign is today beginning a new effort to enlist and educate at least 2 million supporters for a ‘grassroots communications team’ they’re calling the Truth Team. ‘The goal is to ensure that when Republicans attack ...Obama’s record, grassroots supporters can take ownership of the campaign and share the facts with the undecided voters in their lives,’ the campaign said in a statement. ...The rollout also includes a social media blitz, directing supporters to three new websites: KeepingHisWord.com, which highlights Obama’s record and ‘promises kept’; KeepingGOPHonest.com, which highlights GOP policy positions; and AttackWatch.com, which fact-checks claims made against Obama on the campaign trail.”

JT: Keep following them. Believe everything they report. You shall know their truth and their truth will make you their slaves, just like happened in Germany under Adolf Hitler and the NAZI Third Reich (1933-1945).

“The FDA has won its two-year fight to shut down an Amish farmer who was selling fresh, raw milk to eager consumers in the Washington region... The decision has enraged [Daniel] Allgyer’s supporters, some of whom have been buying from him for six years and who say the government is interfering with their parental rights to feed their children. But the Food and Drug Administration, which launched a full investigation, complete with a 5 a.m. surprise inspection and a straw-purchase sting operation against Mr. Allgyer’s Rainbow Acres Farm, near Lancaster, said unpasteurized milk is unsafe and said it was exercising its due authority to stop its sale from one state to another.”

JT: Evidently, FatAssed Michelle has something against pure, healthy milk. She and Barry are so concerned about Americans' health. Their influence could be greatly enhanced if they only stopped breathing. ... What comes out of them is nothing more than pollution!

Representative Keith Maurice Ellison (Keith E. Hakim, his Nation of Islam name) (D-Minnesota) is the only open Muslim in the United States Congress.

JT: Isn't it reassuring that Representative Ellison took his oath of office by placing his hand over Thomas Jefferson's copy of The ~~Holy~~ Koran? Keith Ellison will most likely do the same oath of office procedure if he is re-elected. Evidently, Keith Ellison believes that men have a right given to them by the Moon-god and Mohammed to beat their wives; believes that female rape victims must be punished because the rape was their own fault;

believes in discrimination against women;

believes in circumcision for women;

believes in the Sharia and the rule that women inherit only up to one-half of what a man's share is;

believes in the 109 war verses in The ~~Holy~~ Koran;

believes in child molestation;

believes that a girl's childhood stops when she is nine years old; (Mohammed copulated with A'isha when she was nine years old!)

believes in slavery;

believes in the Moon-god Allah;

believes in a plague of 21st century locust-normal-persons known as Islamic-Muslim terrorists;

believes that men have a right to four wives and more if the others are female slaves;

Thomas Jefferson was not a Muslim. He bought The ~~Holy~~ Koran in London in 1786 so that he could read what the verses say. Jefferson knew evil when he saw it. Keith Ellison doesn't.

Finally, Keith Ellison's oath of office as a Congressman means sh_t because Keith Ellison swore the oath on the Koran. Swearing an oath on the Koran means that he accepts the Koran as being superior over the Constitution. If he doesn't believe this then he is not a Muslim and he must be killed!!!

Michelle Obama

JT: You know who she is! She is the Fat-Assed-burger-eating-Coke-Kool-aid-drinking tank that rumbles through the White House telling Barry what to do. I think that she is like Barry, a closet Muslim. In her Princeton University thesis (She got in somehow, probably due to a quota!) she decried the situation that "further integration and/or assimilation into a white cultural and social structure that will only allow me to remain on the periphery of society, never becoming a participant." Now, isn't that how Muslims feel and react? Integration and assimilation would cause them to become logically thinking human beings and possibly positive members of society. However, Islam prohibits them from integrating and assimilating. The only assimilation and integration that Michelle does is to become part of a hamburger, a Coke or Kool-aid, and Michelleelephantizing the rooms of the White House.
