JUST THINKING

Number 63

Obama says, "I was just like Trayvon."

Source: <http://peacemoonbeam.typepad.com/bighairynews/2013/07/obama-i-was-just-like-trayvon.html>.

JT: The statement is in the past tense. But Obama is still alive!

Well, hypocritical "Hillary Clinton 'is praying for Trayvon's parents' while calling on the Attorney General to act." (<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-2366492/Hillary-Clinton-praying-Trayvons-parents-calling-Attorney-General-act.html#ixzz2ZZbKhHDB>)

JT: My response is: What difference does it make?

"U.S. Attorney General Eric Holder told members of the NAACP Tuesday that Trayvon Martin's death was 'unnecessary' and 'tragic' ... ." (<http://blackamericaweb.com/147077/eric-holder-george-zimmerman-case/>)

Barack Hussein Obama's comments: "I think it's going to be important for all of us to do some soul-searching. There has been talk about should we convene a conversation on race. I haven't seen that be particularly productive when politicians try to organize conversations. They end up being stilted and politicized, and folks are locked into the positions they already have. On the other hand, in families and churches and workplaces, there's the possibility that people are a little bit more honest, and at least you ask yourself your own questions about, am I wringing as much bias out of myself as I can? Am I judging people as much as I can, based on not the color of their skin, but the content of their character? That would, I think, be an appropriate exercise in the wake of this tragedy." (http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2013/07/19/obama-trayvon-martin-speech-transcript\_n\_3624884.html.)

JT: One word that I have heard too often is tragedy. Tragedy!?! Here is the best commentary that I have read:

What "tragedy"?

(Source: http://henrymarkholzer.blogspot.de/2013/07/what-tragedy.html?utm\_source=feedburner&utm\_medium=email&utm\_campaign=Feed:+HenryMarkHolzer+%28Henry+Mark+Holzer%29)

"From the moment the Zimmerman case broke until the last talking head called it quits late Sunday night, we have endlessly heard what has become one of the most erroneously used, overworked words in the English language: "tragedy." And we have not nearly heard the end of its use.

It was said by almost everyone, including Zimmerman and his defense team, that what happened on that rainy night was a tragedy. For race relations, the rule of law, Sanford, Florida, the United States— even for the world. And, of course, a tragedy for Trayvon Martin's family, relatives, friends, acquaintances, bros, pals in the hood, and, unmentioned, a bunch of unsavory characters.

And most of all, of course, it was a 'tragedy' for Trayvon Martin.

According to the Encarta Dictionary, a 'tragedy' is a 'very sad event, an event in life that evokes feelings of sorrow or grief, a disastrous circumstance or event ...'

When a juiced-up young punk ambushes a smaller, weaker victim, sucker punches him, threatens death, and bangs his head on concrete, and is shot to death in return, what has occurred is not a 'very sad event, an event in life that evokes feelings of sorrow or grief, a disastrous circumstance or event.'

It is justice!"

At a gathering of Organizing for Action, Obama says, "I always remind people, I've run my last campaign. Michelle is not sorry about it. I've got a little over 1,200 days left in office. I am going to spend every waking minute of every one of those days thinking about and then acting upon any good ideas out there that are going to help ordinary Americans succeed, that are going to make sure that the next generation believes in the American dream because they've seen it in their own lives. That's how I'm going to spend my time. I hope that's how you're going to spend your time. Because if you do, I guarantee you we will continue to make progress and we will deliver on everything that we talked about in 2008 and 2012."

Lioness of Judah,

I am back in Afghanistan. There is no mission, no strategy. The Muslims have us pretty well figured out. They ask, ask and ask. We then give, give and give. The commander too balks at the cycle? He is replaced by someone who will go along. The Afghans are great allies--- so long as we bribe them with goods, services, and money. They turn when we leave. Just recently, an advisor team was ordered away from an Afghan Uniformed Police team in the south because, as higher headquarters claims, they were fully trained and operational independent of ISAF help. Just the other day, the chief of police for that team was caught on our drone assets delivering a Humvee-full of weapons and ammunition to a Taliban member who is targeted for death. Of course we did not drone strike him because, after all, this is what winning looks like.

We work with allied local national linguists. Hazaras, Tajiks, and Pashtuns. Every so often, I have one of these men come to my door and ask to speak privately. They then explain--- and beg me to not tell anyone--- that they do not consider themselves Muslim, but have to go along or be killed. They ask me to help them with their visa packages to escape this Islamist hell. I do. I prod these linguists with those questions that would perk the ears of an Islamic supremacist. I have identified some whom I will not trust. But there are others who recognize that Islam is the problem in Afghanistan. One is a secret Christian. They want away from Islam and America is the last place where it is safe to go. For now.

I feel like these guys who have seen what Islam is are the survivors. We need them. They are like the survivors who escaped to America from the Soviet bloc and pled with tears in their eyes for America to not vote for Obama. They know what is coming because they have seen it. I do not think that Islam can be readily defeated through intellect. They are beyond it. Only sheer violence and force can stop them, only liberating those who will be liberated and using the superstition of their religion against them will work. General Pershing understood this 100 years ago. I am afraid America will not really get this until the most extreme circumstance arises.

My time in the Marine Corps is coming to an end. I could stay in the organization as long as I wish, but I feel there is no point. All the talented officers I know are resigning. We can't bear to stay in and see what is happening. We are a social-experiment over and above the world's premier war-fighting organization now. This is what America wants. This is what America has voted for twice.

Me and people like me look to get out and blend in with society at large. The consensus is that the time will come when America wants people like us again, but only after this new experimental drive has run its course. It will end how it has to end: in class war, race war, free men vs statist. Completely predictable. At that time, the blood and sweat and broken hearts pressed from America's fighting men and women over a decade of counter-insurgency warfare will rise up and be our nation's salvation.

As always, please keep my identity secret. The system is no longer partial to my kind.

Captain, USMC

JT: Methinks the Captain is describing some other examples of Obama's vision for America's future.

Secretary of State John Kerry honors Muslims with an Iftar dinner. According to the State Department (<http://www.state.gov/r/pa/prs/ps/2013/07/212356.htm>), "Secretary Kerry will highlight State Department efforts to reach out in innovative and exciting ways to engage with Muslim communities around the world. The event will reinforce programs that build bridges of understanding and partnership, and celebrate people whose work exemplifies a spirit of cooperation and commitment to change. An Iftar is a celebratory dinner breaking the fast during the Islamic month of Ramadan, the month of the Islamic calendar during which Muslims fast from dawn to sunset. Ramadan is the month Muslims believe the Qu'ran was revealed to the Prophet Mohamed; it is a month of reflection, generosity, and compassion for nearly 1.7 billion Muslims worldwide." (For some Muslims it is just another excuse to persecute and kill Jews and Christians.)

JT: Methinks John Kerry's real name is John Tatakimu Kerry, for taqiyya, tawriya, kitman, and muruna all in one. (<http://truthsite.weebly.com/four-arabic-words-every-infidel-must-know.html>)

Who was Thomas Jefferson?

There are two parts. Be sure to read the 2nd part (in RED).

Thomas Jefferson was a very remarkable man who started learning very early in life and never stopped.

At 5, began studying under his cousin's tutor

At 9, studied Latin, Greek and French.

At 14, studied classical literature and additional languages.

At 16, entered the College of William and Mary. Also could write in Greek with one hand while writing the same in Latin with the other.

At 19, studied Law for 5 years starting under George Wythe.

At 23, started his own law practice.

At 25, was elected to the Virginia House of Burgesses.

At 31, wrote the widely circulated "Summary View of the Rights of British America? And retired from his law practice.

At 32, was a Delegate to the Second Continental Congress.

At 33, wrote the Declaration of Independence.

At 33, took three years to revise Virginia's legal code and wrote a Public Education bill and a statute for Religious Freedom.

At 36, was elected the second Governor of Virginia succeeding Patrick Henry.

At 40, served in Congress for two years.

At 41, was the American minister to France and negotiated commercial treaties with European nations along with Ben Franklin and John Adams.

At 46, served as the first Secretary of State under George Washington.

At 53, served as Vice President and was elected president of the American Philosophical Society.

At 55, drafted the Kentucky Resolutions and became the active head of Republican Party.

At 57, was elected the third president of the United States.

At 60, obtained the Louisiana Purchase doubling the nation's size.

At 61, was elected to a second term as President.

At 65, retired to Monticello.

At 80, helped President Monroe shape the Monroe Doctrine.

At 81, almost single-handedly created the University of Virginia and served as its first president.

At 83, died on the 50th anniversary of the Signing of the Declaration of Independence along with John Adams.

Thomas Jefferson knew because he himself studied the previous failed attempts at government. He understood actual history, the nature of God, his laws and the nature of man. That happens to be way more than what most understand today. Jefferson really knew his stuff. A voice from the past to lead us in the future:

John F. Kennedy held a dinner in the white House for a group of the brightest minds in the nation at that time. He made this statement: "This is perhaps the assembly of the most intelligence ever to gather at one time in the White House with the exception of when Thomas Jefferson dined alone."

"When we get piled upon one another in large cities, as in Europe, we shall become as corrupt as Europe." -- Thomas Jefferson

"The democracy will cease to exist when you take away from those who are willing to work and give to those who would not." -- Thomas Jefferson

"It is incumbent on every generation to pay its own debts as it goes. A principle which if acted on would save one-half the wars of the world." -- Thomas Jefferson

"I predict future happiness for Americans if they can prevent the government from wasting the labors of the people under the pretense of taking care of them." -- Thomas Jefferson

"My reading of history convinces me that most bad government results from too much government." -- Thomas Jefferson

"No free man shall ever be debarred the use of arms." -- Thomas Jefferson

"The strongest reason for the people to retain the right to keep and bear arms is, as a last resort, to protect themselves against tyranny in government. -- Thomas Jefferson

"The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants." -- Thomas Jefferson

"To compel a man to subsidize with his taxes the propagation of ideas which he disbelieves and abhors is sinful and tyrannical." -- Thomas Jefferson

Thomas Jefferson said in 1802: "I believe that banking institutions are more dangerous to our liberties than standing armies.

If the American people ever allow private banks to control the issue of their currency, first by inflation, then by deflation, the banks and corporations that will grow up around the banks will deprive the people of all property - until their children wake-up homeless on the continent their fathers conquered."

Obama Praises Islam's "Commitment to Peace, Justice, Equality and Compassion" in Statement Celebrating Start of Ramadan –

"For the world's 1.5 billion Muslims, Ramadan is a time for thoughtful reflection, fasting and devotion. It is also an opportunity for family and friends to come together and celebrate the principles that bind people of different faiths — a commitment to peace, justice, equality and compassion towards our fellow human beings," Obama said. "These bonds are far stronger than the differences that too often drive us apart."

JT: This is what I mean by being dumbed down. Mohammad supported killings during Ramadan.
