JUST THINKING

Number 89

From: http://pamelageller.com/atlas_shrugs/2014/01/all-churches-in-historic-christian-town-of-maaloula-either-destroyed-or-desecrated.html/

While the Pope assures us that "authentic Islam and the proper reading of the Koran are opposed to every form of violence" the wholesale slaughter of his people in the cause of Islam rages on. Maaloula is not just any Syrian town. It has great significance. This Christian town contains several monasteries, churches, and cathedrals. It is considered historically important among Christians because it contains two of the country's oldest monasteries, Mar Sarkis and Mar Taqla. The town is a haven for Christians in the country and is one of three places where it is believed the language spoken by Jesus, Western Aramaic, is still used.

Michelle Malkin writes, "Financial bankruptcy is not, and has never been, the 'root cause' of Koran-inspired hatred and violence against nonbelievers. Lack of intellectual stimulation is not, and has never been, the 'root cause' of radical Islam's centuries-old and never-ceasing imperative to establish a worldwide caliphate and conquer the West. The root cause of civilizational jihad is unmitigated evil and arrogance, not lack of compassion, understanding or social justice. Islamic terrorism never had such dutiful tools as the American fools who rationalize it." Read the complete article at <http://michellemalkin.com/2014/01/17/john-kerry-jihad-coddler/ad>

Obama Says Racial Animus Blunts Approval, New Yorker Reports

JT: So, ... Obama thinks Americans don't like him because he's black and those who don't like him are racist. This is another proof that Obama can't think straight. Americans who don't like him do so because he is Obama and anti-American. Those who do like him are dumbed-down.

The bogus, putative, illegal president of the United States of America used all of the genius he possessed to explain the NSA spying on world government leaders and private persons. The captive, lamestream media were very much convinced that what Obama said was the formulation of a genius. Chris Matthews felt sensations GOING UP BOTH LEGS. Little do they know! Little do the American people know! Little do foreign heads of government know. Obama's speech was coded. It has taken a few days to decode what Obama really said. Here is what the decoded Obama speech on NSA surveillance says:

After all, the federal government printed it. Remember, in communism there is only the administration of things. There is no government. Therefore, if there is no federal government to print money, there is no money. Therefore, the federal government must rob as much money as it can from the people while there is still money to rob!

DEFENDING THE WEST

Exclusive: Pamela Geller shares letter of outrage from fourth-grader parent

Not long after I published my recent article, "The Islamization of America in 2013," I received this extraordinary letter from a parent, detailing just how far the

PAMELA GELLER

Islam in a public school

Islamization of at least some of our public schools has advanced:

I just read your recent article on Breitbart, "The Islamization of America in 2013," and wanted to tell you of a personal story that happened in my life.

I live in a very, very conservative area of my state. While my state is very liberal these days, there are little pockets of red. My daughter attends a brand new charter school in a highly rated conservative school district. The curriculum is Core Knowledge (J. Hirsh), along with some other types, such as Singapore Math.

Last December, I picked up my daughter, who is in fourth grade, from school. As soon as she got in the car, she proclaimed, “Allah is great,” and then said it in Arabic. I was so taken back, I am not sure how I drove home in one piece. My daughter told me that in their social studies class, they had begun a new unit on Islam. Their previous unit was the Middle Ages, in which they were learning about castles, kings and queens, and even about the Plague. That unit was completely fine, but when I learned they were learning about Islam and were being told that Allah is great and that Muhammad was his prophet sent to Earth, I got really angry, as did my husband. Actually, I was beyond angry. I was so infuriated, I was shaking.

In Core Knowledge, there is a parent book that provides an overview of what the kids will be learning, per grade and per subject. I looked at the book and read the rather large section on Islam, and was further infuriated. They were literally indoctrinating the kids with a message of how wonderful Islam is, how Allah is great, and how the big, bad Christians murdered thousands of them (without an account of what really happened in history). This video shows the parent book that is supposed to follow along with the curriculum: “Uneven Treatment of Islam and Christianity in Core Knowledge Sequence.”

The next day, my daughter brought home a homework assignment. That night, my husband wrote a note and attached it to the worksheet, and said that our daughter would NOT be filling it out, and she must not receive a bad grade for not doing it. We then wrote a long email to her vice principal and pulled her out of that class until the unit was done. I made it very clear why we were pulling her out of the class and went into detail on how vile and perverted the religion of Islam is, and how disgusting it was that it was being taught in a public school. I further informed them that what they were doing was indoctrinating, rather than giving a full picture on what Islam entails.

Luckily, a few other parents and I were able to pull our kids out, and they studied a different topic during that time – and received an A for the unit. It all happened without any pushback from the school. I know that we were very, very lucky.

A parent at the school started a Facebook group for all the parents so we could chat about school stuff. It is not school-sponsored. When this Islam unit happened, another parent made a post in the group protesting the fact that Islam was being taught. She and I and a few other parents all gave our thoughts on the matter. The interesting part is that the majority of parents who responded to this post made us out to be crazy and ignorant. They were happy that Islam was being taught, because they wanted their kids to be cultured and learn about other ways of life that they normally would not learn about in our super conservative town. When they were informed of how Islam is not the religion of peace that it was being made out to be in the classes, there was silence. No response at all.

I was completely taken aback, not only because the truth of Islam was not even being taught, but because the parents were so incredibly ignorant about the truth of Islam. Had they never heard of any stories about the things you discussed in your recent article? Had they not heard about little Malala? Did they not remember or know anything about 9/11? The Boston bombers? And the list goes on.

This school is filled with kids who come from conservative homes. I would bet that the demographics would show most to be “Christian,” anti-Obama Republicans. The financial demographics of my area and the school would be upper class and highly educated. Certainly not a bunch of tree-hugging liberals.

It seems that a huge HUGE segment of America is truly naïve on what Islam is all about and feel that it should be treated just like any other religion. It is cool and trendy to be tolerant of Islam. This is what our media, our president and our schools are teaching, and Americans are blindly following along!

This parent was aware and active. But most aren't – and they have no idea that their children are being quietly indoctrinated into having a positive view of the most violent, oppressive, misogynist ideology on the planet today. I wrote the book "Stop the Islamization of America: A Practical Guide to the Resistance" for exactly this reason. Each individual must fight back, the book teaches you how. Other parents should imitate this mother, and stand up for their children. For freedom.

JT: Dear readers! It is only a matter of time 'till the schools in your district become islamicized. Fight the Islamization of America now, otherwise there will be no United States of America. From <http://www.usmessageboard.com/politics/292576-four-laws-of-the-unified-field-theory-of-liberalism.html> here are the

"Four Laws of the Unified Field Theory of Liberalism"

1. "... Evan Sayet delivered a speech to the Heritage Foundation in Washington, D.C. called "How Modern Liberals Think." It became a YouTube sensation. Andrew Breitbart called it "one of the five most important speeches ever given."
2. every one of us in this room recognizes that the Democrats are wrong on just about every issue. ... deadly serious about the threat Modern Liberalism and its kissing cousin, Progressivism, pose to decent people everywhere,...
3. ... the Modern Liberal will at every turn side with:
The evil over the good
The wrong over the right
The lesser over the better
The ugly over the beautiful
The vulgar over the refined, and
The behaviors that lead to failure over those that lead to success.
4. In "The KinderGarden of Eden, How the Modern Liberal Thinks," the extrapolated book version of that speech, he demonstrates quite cogently (and a bit wonkishly, but it's a delightful kind of wonkish) how the Modern Liberal's actions invariably follow what he calls The Four Laws of the Unified Field Theory of Liberalism:
 - a. Indiscriminateness – the total rejection of the intellectual process – is an absolute moral imperative.
 - b. Indiscriminateness of thought does not lead to indiscriminateness of policies. It leads to siding only and always with the lesser over the better, the wrong over the right, and the evil over the good.
 - c. Modern Liberal policies occur in tandem. Each effort on behalf of the lesser is met with an equal and opposite campaign against the better.
 - d. The Modern Liberal will ascribe to the better the negative qualities associated with the lesser while concurrently ascribing to the lesser the positive qualities found in the better.
5. Think about it: kindergarten only works if there is at least one grownup in the room capable of taking charge and handling the big problems. Picture a day in the life of a kindergarten class if the teacher never showed up. Similarly, turning America and her hard-won liberties over to Modern Liberals would be akin to turning the entire schoolhouse over to the five-year-olds.

6. "Today, we are at a tipping point where the people of God and science will soon be overwhelmed by the demands of taking care of the permanently infantilized. It is unsustainable.

7. Sure, it would be nice to stay five and let someone else be responsible for the big problems of liberty and provisions. But we're fast approaching the point where that is no longer feasible. The five-year-olds outnumber the grownups...."
