Just Thinking

Number 104

At http://www.ncpa.org/sub/dpd/index.php?Article\_ID=24545 we read 10 important economic facts that POLDS don't understand and don't want to understand.

1. Government only reshuffles wealth, jobs and income; it cannot create anything on its own, as it has to take money from some in order to spend it on others. Any money collected or jobs "created" by government merely replace the private sector investment and job creation that would have occurred had people been allowed to spend their own funds.
2. Income inequality does not harm the economy. While the poor spend nearly all of their money, higher-income earners save some of their income, which is just as good for the economy as spending, if not better. Saving leads to more investment and greater national income in the long run.
3. Paying low wages is not corporate exploitation. Just as businesses have to set prices according to consumer demands, they establish wages based on the supply and demand for labor.
4. Environmental over-regulation drives up prices. Because the poor spend a greater percentage of their income, especially on energy, such over-regulation acts as a regressive tax.
5. Education is not a public good. While we publically fund K-12 education, it produces human capital that is privately owned by each person. While many defend public education because it is a "public good," it is important to realize that the ensuing benefits of education are not given away for free.
6. CEO pay may be high, but so is the pay to athletes and movie stars. Such pay may reduce a company's profits, but it does not reduce the pay of other employees, as their pay is determined the marketplace.
7. Consumer spending does not drive the economy. Saving more and spending less of our income will lead to greater wealth in the long run.
8. "Free" things provided by the government are typically low-quality and unnecessarily expensive.
9. Injustices happen. The government cannot correct every injustice, and every time the government steps in to "fix" something, it puts costs on someone else. Affirmative action policies, for example, grant college admissions only by denying admissions to other applicants.

10. There is no such thing as a free lunch. "Free" government services cost money. Similarly, raising the minimum wage gives money to employees only by taking away jobs and raising prices for consumers.

Read the following listing of bad analogies from American High schoolers. They are not students. I'll bet my yearly pay that they will become worse under the government education known as Common Core. Under Common Core education every high schooler, indeed, everyone attending any kind of school that has Common Core becomes stupid!

19 Really Bad Analogies from High School Students' Papers

1. Her eyes were like two brown circles with big black dots in the center.
2. He was as tall as a 6'3" tree.
3. Her face was a perfect oval, like a circle that had its two sides gently compressed by a Thigh Master.
4. From the attic came an unearthly howl. The whole scene had an eerie, surreal quality, like when you're on vacation in another city and Jeopardy comes on at 7:00 p.m. instead of 7:30.
5. John and Mary had never met. They were like two hummingbirds who had also never met.
6. She had a deep, throaty, genuine laugh, like that sound a dog makes just before it throws up.
7. The ballerina rose gracefully en pointe and extended one slender leg behind her, like a dog at a fire hydrant.
8. He was as lame as a duck. Not the metaphorical lame duck, either, but a real duck that was actually lame. Maybe from stepping on a land mine or something.
9. Her vocabulary was as bad as, like, whatever.
10. She grew on him like she was a colony of E. coli and he was room-temperature Canadian beef.
11. The revelation that his marriage of 30 years had disintegrated because of his wife's infidelity came as a rude shock, like a surcharge at a formerly surcharge-free ATM.
12. The lamp just sat there, like an inanimate object.
13. McBride fell 12 stories, hitting the pavement like a Hefty bag filled with vegetable soup.
14. His thoughts tumbled in his head, making and breaking alliances like underpants in a dryer without Cling Free.
15. He spoke with the wisdom that can only come from experience, like a guy who went blind because he looked at a solar eclipse without one of those boxes with a pinhole in it and now goes around the country speaking at high schools about the dangers of looking at a solar eclipse without one of those boxes with a pinhole in it.
16. Long separated by cruel fate, the star-crossed lovers raced across the grassy field toward each other like two freight trains, one having left Cleveland at 6:36 p.m. traveling at 55 mph, the other from Topeka at 4:19 p.m. at a speed of 35 mph.
17. Shots rang out, as shots are wont to do.
18. The little boat gently drifted across the pond exactly the way a bowling ball wouldn't.
19. Her hair glistened in the rain like a nose hair after a sneeze.

On Fox News Sunday, 3 August 2014, Congressman Steve King (R-IA) says the following about Obama granting amnesty to illegal immigrants and the Texan-Mexican border crisis: "Well, none of us want to do the thing that's left for us as an alternative, but if [Obama] has decided that he's simply not going to enforce any immigration law ...I think Congress has to sit down and have a serious look at the rest of this Constitution. And that includes that I-word that we don't want to say, and I only say that now on this program because I want to encourage [Obama]. 'Please don't put America into a constitutional crisis. Please don't do that. There's too much at stake in this country to be deciding that you can take over the Constitution and write it at will.'" In the July issue of The Obama Timeline, (beginning on page 74) Don Fredrick writes and documents this: Obama’s racial anger and hatred of America’s past was strengthened—if not originated—by frequent conversations with his communist mentor (and possible father), Frank Marshall Davis. Davis, a friend of William Ayer’s father, was also a close friend of Obama’s grandfather, Stanley Armour Dunham. Dunham worked as a furniture salesman and could reportedly “charm the legs off a couch.” Daughter Stanley Ann was also known as a frequent liar. (One acquaintance remarked, “She would make you believe anything while you were face-to-face but, a few minutes after she’d leave, you’d realize what she said wasn’t very... realistic or true.”) Genetically, therefore, Obama was a born con man. That could mean only one thing: a career in politics.

Conundrum - author unknown

Home - by @Mr Pinko - August 12, 2014 - 21:56 America/New_York

Free people are not equal. Equal people are not free.

A gun is like a parachute. If you need one, and don't have one, you'll probably never need one again.

The definition of the word “Conundrum” is: something that is puzzling or confusing.

Here are six Conundrums of socialism in the United States of America:

1. America is capitalist and greedy – yet half of the population is subsidized.
2. Half of the population is subsidized – yet they think they are victims.
3. They think they are victims – yet their representatives run the government.
4. Their representatives run the government – yet the poor keep getting poorer.
5. The poor keep getting poorer – yet they have things that people in other countries only dream about.
6. They have things that people in other countries only dream about – yet they want America to be more like those other countries.

Think about it! And that, my friends, pretty much sums up the USA in the 21st Century.

These three, short sentences tell you a lot about the direction of our current government and cultural environment:

1. We are advised to NOT judge ALL Muslims by the actions of a few lunatics, but we are encouraged to judge ALL gun owners by the actions of a few lunatics.

Funny how that works. And here’s another one worth considering...

2. Seems we constantly hear about how Social Security is going to run out of money. But we never hear about welfare or food stamps running out of money? What’s interesting is the first group “worked for” their money, but the second didn’t.

Think about it.....and Last but not least,

3. Why are we cutting benefits for our veterans, no pay raises for our military and cutting our army to a level lower than before WWII, but we are not stopping the payments or benefits to illegal aliens.

Am I the only one missing something?

JT: I have one: Obama lies to the American public all of the time. The enemedia repeats his lies. The public believe the enemedia. The public believe Obama lies.

Here are some responses from iOwnTheWorld readers:

➤ Corona, August 12th, 2014

That's why God named this planet Earth, not Heaven. That's why Satan has ownership of Earth, and not Heaven. That's why you should be looking forward to Heaven, and not Earth.

Uh duh.

➤ I'm pissed, August 12th, 2014

I'm pissed most of the day because I'm working my ass off so others can sit on their ass at home. Obola is the last thing this country needed. Too many people asleep at the switch.

➤ Corona, August 12th, 2014

But I can see your points. And yeah, it is exasperating. But that's the norm...on Earth.

➤ Moe Tom, August 12th, 2014

Ask most libtard students about Benghazi. "Ben gay zi"? "Is that a type of ointment"?

➤ Chiefillinicake, August 13th, 2014

Here's the rub with running God out of America. Christianity in its varied strains always put forth the notion that we weren't supposed to be "equal" here on earth...we are all given different skills, and often very different crosses to bear. Money, poorness, brains, stupidity, fame, anonymity, pain, pleasure, suffering, love, loathing, laughter, tears, excess, deprivation...all of these things characterize life here on the mortal coil.

But The Ultimate Value of your life is determined by Him, based upon what you did with what you were given. Heaven is the place where we all become equal, having earned our spot and made the grade.

My Dad always said, whenever he saw atheists or non-believers, that many more people made it through the gates of heaven through fear of The Lord than love of The Lord.

My thought, having lived now through the Obamanation, is that ignoring Him hastens your arrival in hell, as it starts here, well before you even get there officially.

Too many bodies in the canoe.
When it flips, it will be so quick.

God loves the swimmers.

Be happy today, if you're self-supporting.

➤ Billy Fuster, August 13th, 2014

A lifetime of thinking like this can lead a person to suicide.
