"ABC News executive producer Ian Cameron is married to Susan Rice, National Security Adviser.

CBS President David Rhodes is the brother of Ben Rhodes, Obamas Deputy National Security Adviser for Strategic Communications.

ABC News correspondent Claire Shipman is married to recent Whitehouse Press Secretary Jay Carney

ABC News and Univision reporter Matthew Jaffe is married to Katie Hogan, Obama's Deputy Press Secretary

ABC President Ben Sherwood is the brother of Obama's Special Adviser Elizabeth Sherwood.

CNN President Virginia Moseley is married to former Hillary Clinton's Deputy Secretary Tom Nides."

Saudi Prince Alwaleed is the second largest shareholder of FOX News (<http://politicalblindspot.com/what-alwaleed-is-accused-of-saying/>)

“Iran armed with nuclear missiles poses an unprecedented threat to global civilization. One nuclear warhead detonated at high-altitude over the United States would blackout [sic; black out] the national electric grid and other life sustaining critical infrastructures for months or years by means of an electromagnetic pulse (EMP). A nationwide blackout lasting one year, according to the Congressional EMP Commission, could cause chaos and starvation that leaves 90 percent of Americans dead. Iranian military documents describe such a scenario—including a recently translated Iranian military textbook that endorses nuclear EMP attack against the United States. Thus, Iran with a small number of nuclear missiles can by EMP attack threaten the existence of modernity and be the death knell for Western principles of international law, humanism and freedom. For the first time in history, a failed state like Iran could destroy the most successful societies on Earth and convert an evolving benign world order into world chaos. ...An Iran with nuclear missiles can topple the existing world order, that was until recently so favorable for the proliferation of freedom—without firing a shot. The specter of nuclear EMP attack changes the whole calculus of benefit and risk for the U.S. and its allies that have tried to uphold the moral norms of international law and civilization.”

JT: This, of course, has nothing to do with Islam!!!

At NYPost.com Michael Goodwin warns Israel to “Beware of Obama.” Goodwin writes, “First he comes for the banks and health care, uses the IRS to go after critics, politicizes the Justice Department, spies on journalists, tries to curb religious freedom, slashes the military, throws open the borders, doubles the debt and nationalizes the Internet. He lies to the public, ignores the Constitution, inflames race relations and urges Latinos to punish Republican ‘enemies.’ He abandons our allies, appeases tyrants, coddles adversaries and uses the Crusades as an excuse for inaction as Islamist terrorists slaughter their way across the Mideast. Now he’s coming for Israel. ...Against the backdrop of the tsunami of trouble he has unleashed, Obama’s pledge to ‘reassess’ America’s relationship with Israel cannot be taken lightly. Already paving the way for an Iranian nuke, he is hinting he’ll also let the other anti-Semites at Turtle Bay [the United Nations] have their way.

That could mean American support for punitive Security Council resolutions or for Palestinian statehood initiatives. It could mean both, or something worse. Whatever form the punishment takes, it will aim to teach Bibi Netanyahu never again to upstage him. And to teach Israeli voters never again to elect somebody Obama doesn’t like. Apologists and wishful thinkers, including some Jews, insist Obama realizes that the special relationship between Israel and the United States must prevail and that allowing too much daylight between friends will encourage enemies. Those people are slow learners, or, more dangerously, denyists [deniers].”

“...For Israel, the consequences will be intended. Those who make excuses for Obama’s policy failures—naive, bad advice, bad luck—have not come to grips with his dark impulses and deep-seated rage. His visceral dislike for Netanyahu is genuine, but also serves as a convenient fig leaf for his visceral dislike of Israel. The fact that it’s personal with Netanyahu doesn’t explain six years of trying to bully Israelis into signing a suicide repeatedly singled out for abuse. He alone is the target of an orchestrated attempt to defeat him at the polls, with Obama political operatives, funded in part by American taxpayers, working to elect his opponent. They failed and Netanyahu prevailed because Israelis see him as their best bet to protect them. Their choice was wise, but they better buckle up because it's Israel's turn to face the wrath of Obama." (<http://nypost.com/2015/03/22/israel-beware-of-obama/>)

JT: Methinks Obama is like Islam: peaceful and tolerant!

Almost 60% of voters, 57%, want the next president to reverse most of Obama's policies. It is important to note that voters weren't asked about any specific policies they wanted reversed. Far more troubling for Obama's thoughts about his legacy, voters simply generally want to scrap his policies. In other words, their default position is that, from a national policy perspective, the Obama years ought to be simply erased. ...Words are ephemeral. Even soaring rhetoric is subject to the gravity of economic and foreign policy challenges. Where Obama did impart policy changes, voters would rather forget, reverse course, and move on. More importantly, voters want to look deeper behind the words for the next President. They want to make sure there is something there, there."

(<http://www.breitbart.com/big-government/2015/03/22/cnn-poll-voters-ideal-2016-candidate-an-anti-obama/>)

JT: Methinks the solution is quite simple. The next President can sign a law that states that everything Obama signed or instituted policy as a bogus president is illegal and cannot be observed because Obama was elected as a putative president.

Senator Ted Cruz (R-TX) announces he is running for president in 2016. (He does not waste time with the absurd formality of first establishing an "exploratory committee.") At Liberty University in Lynchburg, Virginia, Cruz tells an enthusiastic audience, "I believe in you. I believe in the power of millions of courageous conservatives rising up to reignite the promise of America. And that is why today, I'm announcing that I am running for President of the United States. ...It is a time for truth. It is a time for liberty. It is a time to reclaim the Constitution of the United States. ...Instead of a president who boycotts Prime Minister Netanyahu, imagine a president who stands unapologetically with the nation of Israel. ...Imagine in 2017 a new president signing legislation repealing every word of ObamaCare. Imagine a president [who] finally, finally, finally secures the borders. Imagine a simple flat tax. Imagine abolishing the IRS. ...Imagine a president who says, 'We will stand up and defeat radical Islamic terrorism. And we will call it by its name.'"

(<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-3007209/It-s-official-Ted-Cruz-confirms-bid-President-midnight-Tweet-cheesy-announcement-video-GOP-contender-2016.html>)

Don Fredrick of The Complete Obama Timeline comments:

"No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution [italics added], shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States." Note the italicized "grandfather clause." That text was made necessary after the term “born citizen” was changed to read “natural born citizen.” An earlier draft of the document read as follows:

“No Person except a Born Citizen shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.”

“Born Citizen” means born on U.S. soil—without regard to the citizenship of one’s parents. John Jay then wrote George Washington and asked that all presidents be required to be natural born citizens—that is, born on U.S. soil to two U.S. citizen parents. But simply making that change (“born” to “natural born”) would have been inadequate: “No Person except a natural born Citizen shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.” The problem with that text was that neither George Washington nor John Adams (nor anyone else) was yet a 35-year-old natural born citizen. Those potential presidents who were born on U.S. soil (such as George Washington, who was born in Virginia) obviously could not have had U.S. citizen parents at the time of their births—because the nation did not yet exist. (Washington’s parents were citizens of Great Britain, as were the majority of the residents of the 13 colonies). In other words, it would be 35 years before anyone could serve as president! To allow for that problem, the final version read:

“No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution [italics added], shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States.”

The “grandfather clause” is essentially a loophole that means, “We can’t go without a president for decades while we wait for natural born citizens to reach age 35, so we will temporarily allow individuals who are not natural born citizens to serve as president, as long as they were present here in the colonies and became U.S. citizens in 1776 when the nation was founded.” Considering all of the above, it is clear that the U.S. Constitution prohibits Obama, former Senator Rick Santorum (R-PA), Senator Marco Rubio (R-FL), Louisiana Governor Bobby Jindal, South Carolina Governor Nikki Haley, and Senator Ted Cruz (R-TX) from serving as president.

Obama is actually the nation’s second illegal president. (The first illegal president was Chester A. Arthur, who hid from the public the fact that his father was not a U.S. citizen at Chester’s birth. Arthur even went so far as to burn his father’s documents—something that would not have been necessary if his citizenship was irrelevant.)

Regardless of where Obama was born, his father was not a U.S. citizen—if one assumes his father was the drunken Kenyan communist. Obama is therefore not a natural born citizen. (Additionally, according to Kenya's constitution, a person born of a Kenyan parent—irrespective of the place of birth—automatically becomes a citizen of Kenya. Obama was therefore a Kenyan citizen at birth, by virtue of his father's citizenship.) Marco Rubio was born in Florida to Cuban citizen parents. He is a U.S. citizen but he is not a natural born citizen.

Bobby Jindal and Nikki Haley were born in the United States to Indian citizen parents. They are U.S. citizens but are not natural born citizens. Rick Santorum's father was a citizen of Italy. Ted Cruz was born in Canada to an American mother and a Cuban father, and is also not a natural born citizen—although he is a U.S. citizen.

JT: I challenge any and all DemocRATS to call out Ted Cruz for his not being a natural born citizen and therefore, not being qualified to be President of the United States of America. No DemocRAT will do it because each one is "a chickenshit"—recalcitrant, myopic, reactionary, obtuse, blustering, pompous, and "Aspergery." The DemocRATS used these words to describe Benjamin Netanyahu. However, they are perfect descriptions of DemocRATS.

JT: Beginning 23 March 2015 the Phillip Dennis of the Steering Committee of the Dallas, Texas Tea Party in association with Gina Loudon, The Politichicks, major bloggers and conservative media personalities such as BigFurHat of iotwreport.com request that the following be continuously advertised. JT is proud to contribute.

No More in 2016! Republicans must run a strong conservative or they will not be able to depend on our votes!

In 1976, the GOP ran an establishment moderate for President. He lost.

In 1980, the Ronald Reagan ran as an unapologetic conservative. He won.

In 1984, Reagan won reelection in a national landslide.

In 1992, the GOP ran an establishment moderate for President. He lost.

In 1996, the GOP ran an establishment moderate for President. He lost.

In 2000, George W. Bush ran as a conservative and won.

In 2008, the GOP ran an establishment moderate for President. He lost.

In 2012, the GOP ran an establishment moderate for President. He lost.

Notice a pattern?

During the Obama years, the American people have seen the left-wing Democratic vision for our nation. They haven't liked what they've seen.

In 2016, Republicans have a historic opportunity to elect a strong, principled conservative to the White House.

Someone who believes the right to keep and bear arms must not be infringed.

Someone who believes in defending America's borders.

Someone who believes in the rule of law.

Someone who rejects one-size-fits-all curriculum ideas like Common Core.

A conservative who knows the government has no business reading any American's private communications without a proper warrant.

A conservative who believes and will fight for fiscal sanity, limited government, and individual rights

Therefore we conservative voters in America raise our voices to say No More In 2016!
