Muslims Are Indigenous To America???

The Statement

What a title! That's precise! You read the title correctly! There is no doubt about the meaning of the title in the twisted logic of Muslims and the dumbed-down minds of Americans.

In an article for ThePostEmail.com, the author Miki Booth, who is originally from Hawaii and now resides in Oklahoma, writes that "Native Americans are very angry to learn that Muslims in the United States of America are being touted as 'indigenous,' a complete falsehood. ...Organizations like BIMA [Bureau of Indigenous Muslim Affairs] marginalize Native Americans in favor of Muslims, and Indians are not pleased." ... "(T)he support Obama received from native American Democrats in 2008 is waning," continues Booth.¹

The Native Americans, for some who still call them American Indians, are indigenous to America. Hawaiians are indigenous to Hawaii. The Aborigines are indigenous to Australia. The Maori are indigenous to New Zealand.

The Bureau of Indigenous Muslim Affairs (BIMA) – what a piece of CRAP! – as well as other Islamic organizations in the United States of America are the culprits in this cultural insult to Native Americans and the English language. Apparently such Islamic organizations do not have the intellectual capability to recognize what the word indigenous means. They possess only the devious, negative intellect of utilizing words as they see fit:

for the further advancement of Islam. For this purpose, everything is allowed. The major tool is taqiyya: deception, which means lying, doing anything and everything unethical, anything and everything immoral, anything and everything criminal, etc., as long as the self-named religion of peace is supported and furthered in its advancement. BIMA and other Islamic organizations in America are using the English language and the Native Americans as targets to assert their presence in a country that is foreign to them and their Islamic dogma.

The Proof

Swallow this truth Muslims wherever you are: Muslims are indigenous to nowhere!

The etymology of indigenous and Muslim proves the point. As a matter of fact, the reader will realize that neither the word indigenous nor the appellation Muslim have Arabic-Islam as their source.

The Etymology of indigenous The Indo-European word root of indigenous is gene-/gen-, the root of gignere. It means born, birth and occurs in Latin idigena, an adjective that has the meaning originating in the region or country where found in the sense of original native. The word indigenous came into the English language in approximately 1646 out of the combination of indu (within) and gen-.²

The Etymology of Muslim The term Muslim comes from the Semitic word root slm, meaning to be whole.³ In Hebrew it is present in the word shālōm, meaning peace, completeness. In Greek it occurs as Salōmē, meaning peace. The Arabic word salama, meaning he was safe and salām, meaning peace originate from the Semetic word root and have a very close derivative relationship to the Hebrew word. Therefore, etymologically, the word Muslim is indigenous to Semetic-Hebrew and not indigenous to Arabic, a language that began to develop only about thirteen hundred years ago.

Muslims were never the originally born natives in America. This privilege applies to Native Americans only. Muslims in America, indeed, wherever they are in a host country, are insurgents intent on undermining the existing host country's culture. They are actively anti-integration with the goal of replacing the host country with a country of their own. The method is to establish their state within the host-country state. They will attempt to implement the Islamic sharia law in place of the host country's constitution. Very modern-day examples are the usurping policies of Muslims in France, England, Canada, Australia, the United States of America, and for a long time Denmark, Germany, Sweden, and Norway. In Norway Muslims have demanded that the Norwegian government give them land to establish their own Norwegian Muslim country.⁴

BIMA is closely involved with the Democrat Party in its political policies. It is assisting the Democratic National Convention being held in Charlotte, North Carolina. On the opening day there was an Islamic jum'ah with approximately a projected 20,000 participants.⁵ Yet, there was no

⁴ <http://www.theb9.com/thread/885434/radical-muslims-in-norway-demand-separate-breakaway-state-posted-on-theB9-board/last>.

⁵ There were only a few hundred present. The jum'ah is the Muslim congregational prayer (salah) that Muslims hold every Friday, just after midday. It is related in the Koran as follows:

"O ye who believe! When the call is proclaimed to prayer on Friday (the Day of Assembly, yawma 'l-jumu'ati), hasten earnestly to the Remembrance of Allah, and leave off business (and traffic): That is best for you if ye but knew! And when the Prayer is finished, then may ye disperse through the land, and seek of the Bounty of Allah: and celebrate the Praises of Allah often (and without stint): that ye may prosper." The Koran, sura 62. (The phrase disperse through the land, and seek of the Bounty of Allah: and celebrate the Praises of Allah often (and without stint): that ye may prosper is a collective, ambiguous statement that can mean that after the prayer, the devout Muslims can go where they want and do what they want, and take what they want all the while giving praise to Allah.)

Protestant or Roman Catholic opening prayer. Of course, such prayers given by the Protestants and the Roman Catholics would be an insult to Islam.

False Claims of So-Called Muslim/Islamic Historians

On September 2, 2012, Pamela Geller at AtlasShrugs.com reported that Muslims desecrate American History at Jumah at the DNC: 'Muslims Visited America Prior to Columbus' & 'It Was a Muslim' Who Guided Him to the 'New World'.⁶ It behooves us to examine these two statements:

- Muslims visited America prior to Columbus.
- It was a Muslim who guided him to the New World.

For the first claim, we uncover the following reality: The Internet abounds with Islamic sites claiming that Muslims were in the New World before the major European countries made claims to the lands. Moreover, they quote each other without documenting what they quote. Thus, they give the reader the impression that their research is independent. Because another Islamic site will contend the same facts, the reader is subconsciously led to the conclusion that since the facts of one site are corroborated independently by the facts of another site, the Muslim discovery of the New World must be true! This is the basic method of creeping Islamists with the intent to change the development of history in their favor. The attentive reader is reminded of the deception within the concept of taqiyya, i.e., anything goes as long as it supports the advancement of Islam. There must be absolute, scientific, conclusive evidence researched by linguists, archaeologists, and social historians in order to differentiate historical facts from Islamic claims of facts. It is one matter to claim that Africans (who were not Arabs) were in the Americas 500 or more years before Columbus.

It is another matter to claim that Muslims, and therefore, Islam, were in the Americas (i.e., in America), thus providing pillars on which the expansion of a dogma can be constructed, as if it were Allah's and Mohammed's will. That is truly a re-writing of history, phenakism, and an absurd wish!

For the second claim we uncover the following fact: Columbus' navigator was Martín Pinzón, the captain of the companion ship Pinta. The official list of crew members for the ships Nina, Pinta, and Santa Maria have no persons with Muslim or Arabic names.⁷ Christopher Columbus and the crews of all three ships conducted daily religious services. They prayed to the Christian God. Upon the first sighting of land they cried Te Deum, laudamus. The Spanish king and queen (Ferdinand II and Isabella I) were Roman Catholic nobility who promoted the holy faith and they were avowed enemies of Islam and Mohammed. It is a surety that any Muslim who had before the Reconquista dominated Christians would certainly not serve under Christians after the Christians had defeated them. For what it is worth, the theory that Christopher Columbus was an Irishman holds up better than any Muslim's claim that Columbus' navigator was a Muslim.⁸

It takes historical scrutiny, research, and documentation to smash the claims that Muslims have a long history in the United States preceding Christopher Columbus and other European explorers. In 1996, Dr. Youssef A. Mroueh wrote an article celebrating the 1000th anniversary of the Islamic discovery of America. The title is Muslims in America Before Columbus.⁹ Without citing any documentation evidence, Dr. Mroueh in taqiyya manner contends, "A careful study of the names of the native Indian tribes revealed that many names are derived from Arab and Islamic roots and origins, ..." This author researched all of the Indian tribes listed by Dr. Mroueh. Not one of them has an Arabic derivation and not one of them has Islamic roots. Three examples chosen at random will prove the point and show beyond all doubt that Dr. Mroueh is a liar.

- Cherokee. The Cherokee refer to themselves as Tsalagior Aniyvwiyai, or Tsalagi which means principal people. The Iroquois, who were based in New York, called the Cherokee Oyata'ge'ronoñ, the inhabitants of the cave country. The name could come from the Choctaw word Cha-la-kee, which means those who live in the mountain, or Choctaw Chi-luk-ik-bi, meaning those who live in the cave county.¹⁰ The simplest origin of the name is the Anglisation of their name Tsalagi. The Cherokee have neither an Arabic-Islamic origin nor connection.
- Mohawk. The name Mohawk is from the Algonquian language and not the Iroquoian. It means eaters of men. Although they spoke Iroquois, the Algonquin tribes gave them their name because they practiced communal cannibalism so that they could absorb the strength of their enemies. Their homeland was upper New York.¹¹ The Mohawk Native Americans have neither an Arab-Islamic origin nor connection.
- Zuni. The Zuni live in western New Mexico and eastern Arizona. They are descendants of the Hopi Native Americans. The name comes from the language, which is called Shiwi'ma (shivi (Zuni) + -'ma = Zuni way).¹² In the Zuni tribe the mother (female) serves as the basis of society, which is contrary to all Islamic societies.¹³ The Zuni have neither an Arab-Islamic origin nor connection.

Furthermore, according to Dr. Mroueh, "There are more than 500 names of places, villages, streets, towns, cities, lakes, rivers, etc. ... in the United States in which their names are derived from African, Islamic, and Arabic words. If the reader googles There are more than 500 names of places (villages, towns, cities, mountains, lakes, rivers, etc.) in USA (484) and Canada (81) which are derived from Islamic and Arabic roots, there will be approximately 14,100 hits, including repetitions. The information on these sites will be the same. Self-appointed Islamic historians (?) in the twenty-first century are still propagandizing a list of place names of streets, villages, towns, cities, lakes, and rivers that they contend are absolutely derived from Arabic and Islamic words, or are possible derivations thereof.¹⁴

This present author researched and documented each name of a street, village, town, city, lake, and river that Dr. Mroueh lists. The results are that not one single street, not one single town, not one single village, not one single city, not one single lake, and not one single river in the United States of America, or Canada, or South America, has Arabic-Islamic roots and connections. Three randomly chosen examples will prove that also with this listing, Dr. Mroueh is a liar. Furthermore, all Islamic organizations, including BIMA, that claim the crap propagandized by Dr.

Mroueh is historical reality, are conducting taqiyya against American history. Singularly they are liars! Collectively they are liars!

1. Bagdad Junction, Illahee, Shuwah, Yarrow Point, Washington

Although founded by the Abbasid Kalif al-Mansur, Bagdad comes from the Persian and means gift from God (not from Allah), or gift from the great king.¹⁵ Its origin is not Arabic-Islamic.

Illahée means land. It comes from the Native American Chinook language.¹⁶ Its origin is not Arabic-Islamic.

Shuwah is Hebrew and means salvation or I am he who saves.¹⁷ Its origin is not Arabic-Islamic.

Yarrow is an "ubiquitous strong-scented mat-forming Eurasian herb of wasteland, hedgerow or pasture having narrow serrate leaves and small usually white florets; widely naturalized in North America." Its origin is Old English gearwe and perhaps from Proto-Germanic ǰarwō. As a boy's name, it can connote rough stream.¹⁸ Its origin is not Arabic-Islamic.

If Yarrow is the Anglicized writing of the name Yaro in the Fulani language of Guinea, then this source is not of Arabic-Islamic origin either. Traditionally, the Fulani are a nomadic, pastoral community making their livelihoods herding cattle, goats, and sheep. They are located in the populating grasslands between the towns throughout West Africa. The Fulani have existed as a nomadic people in Western Africa for over 1000 years. They became mostly Muslims in the transition from the 18th to the 19th centuries. Therefore, the regions which they inhabit have been Muslim, Arabic-Islam for no more than 200-plus years. Yaro in Hausa-Fulani means It's a boy. The name also occurs as a first name in India Kurdish where it means loved one.¹⁹ This use is not related to Arabic or Islamic origins.

2. Ali Chuk, Ali-Molina, Ali Oidak, Arizona

Ali-Chuk means small clearing. The word comes from O'odham, an Uto-Aztecan language of southern Arizona and northern Sonora.²⁰ It has no Arabic-Islamic roots.

Ali-Molina means little Magdalena in O'odham which was taken from Spanish Magdalena.²¹ There is no Arabic-Islamic relationship or origin.

Ali Oidak means little field in O'odham.²² This place in Arizona does not have an Arabic-Islamic origin.

3. Dongola, Illinois

Dongola is also Dunqulah. In Old Nubian it is Tungul. The city was the capital of the Christian kingdom of Makurra. Dongola is located in present-day Sudan. The region was Christian until the Muslims invaded and ravaged Nubia in the 14th century. Thereafter Nubia and the Sudan became Muslim. In Old Nubian Tungul was the place name of Old

Dongola as well as the name or title of the King of Old Dongola. There is no specific meaning of Tungul. Yet, from related words in Old Nubian, like tungil and tungur, which were used to designate the bow weapon, we can deduce that Tungul has something to do with the bow. As Dr. Julie Anderson notes "Historically the Nubians were referred to as 'the pupil-smiters' due to their great prowess with the bow."²³ This means that they were able to hit the eyes of their opponents at a formidable distance. There is a tanning process named after the Dongola sheep in the Sudan. The leather is tanned with gambier, alum, and salt. Because Dongola or Tungul was a pre-Arabic settlement and comes from the Old Nubian language, there is no Arabic-Islamic origin or association.²⁴

The epitome of these claims is that Dr. Mroueh says there is no doubt that these place names are of Arabic-Islamic origin, because he researched them thoroughly. However, Dr. Mroueh provides no documentary evidence of his claims. Such claims are as ridiculous as this author stating that all streets in the United States of America that are called alleys are of Arabic-Islamic origin because the word alley, even dead pan alley, is a transliteration of Allah!

Dr. Mroueh should have researched his own name thoroughly because not even his family name has Arabic-Islamic roots. Dr. Youssef A. Mroueh is a mathematician and physicist living in Canada. He is an Islamic functionary and a past President of the World Union of Writers in Arabic – Canada. We can read the following about Dr. Youssef A. Mroueh:²⁵

DR. YOUSSEF A. MROUEH

(Mathematician, Scientist, Researcher)

- Born in Nabatieh, Lebanon in 1937.
- Came to Canada in 1969.
- Educated in Lebanon, Britain, Germany, U.S.A. and Canada. He holds a D.Sc. in radiation physics from Jackson University. (It is not known which Jackson University, or Jackson State University is meant; Jackson, Mississippi; Jackson Tennessee; San Francisco, or wherever.)
- He originated a new mathematical theorem in Topology in 1954.
- Modified the Fitzgerald-Lorentz for special Relativity in 1965.
- Investigated the behaviours of matter in superhumanly speeds in 1972.
- He is in charge of research in radiation control, industrial radiography and ultrasonics.
- Arab Canadian researcher and author of several studies and reports of science, religion, and philosophy.

As listed, the information can be considered to be impressive. After all, there are not many doctors of radiation physics who write about religion and philosophy, as well as cultural, historical traditions. The reader now knows that the assertions made by Dr. Mroueh that there are hundreds of place names in the United States of America and Canada that have Arab-Islamic roots as their origin are not true. It is also the irony of fate and an etymological fact that even his name is not of Arab-Islamic origin. The origin of the name Youssef and Mroueh deserve closer examination.

Youssef is transliterated as Jusuf, Yossef, Youcef, Yousaf, Yousef, Yousif, Youssef, Youssif, Youssouf, Yousuf, Yusef, Yuseff, Yusof, Yussef, Yusuf. It is written in Arabic as يوسف Yūsuf and Yūsif. Written this way, the nomenclature is a male Arabic name, meaning Allah increases in piety, power, and influence. The name is considered the Arabic equivalent of the English name Joseph. The indication is that the name is Arabic. However, only the writing is Arabic. The name Youssef is not only the Arabic equivalent of Joseph,²⁶ it is the variant spelling of the Hebrew name Joseph, which "like all other Hebrew names beginning with the syllable 'Jo,' has Yhwh as its first element, and is a contraction, the original form being 'Jehoseph.'"²⁷ The original meaning is God shall add. Arabic culture changed the original meaning to Allah increases in piety, power, and influence. (Well, if Dr. Mroueh can take liberties in re-writing the history of the discovery of America, Arab culture can take liberties in re-defining the meaning of the Hebrew name J(eh)oseph.)

We learn from the Old Testament that Joseph is Jacob's eleventh son and Rachel's first. We learn from the New Testament that Joseph is the husband of the Virgin Mary. Additionally, in the New Testament we encounter Joseph of Arimathea, who is a disciple of Jesus. It was this Joseph who provided the tomb for Jesus' burial.

Without providing conclusive documentation, the Mroueh family contend that they have traced their lineage back to Malik Al-Ashtar (???-sometime after 659/660?), a loyal companion of Ali Ibn Abi Talib, Muhammed's cousin and son-in-law.²⁸ During Muhammad's time Malik Al-Ashtar converted to Islam and during Ali Ibn Abi Talib's caliphate he fought in the Battles of Jamal (656) and Siffin (657) during the first Fitna (First Muslim Civil War) in Ali's Islamic defence. For his service he was appointed Governor of Egypt in 658.

Malik Al-Ashtar was a leader from the ancient Yemeni Tribe of Al Nakhay (or Al Naghy).²⁹ In the 6th century, after expanding his kingdom into the Arabian Peninsula and portions of East Africa, King Abu-Karib Assad converted to Judaism. In the 7th century Mohammed began his conquest of the Arabian Peninsula. By Mohammed's death in 632, Yemen had come under the control of Islam. There are some indications that Malik Al-Ashtar might have originated in Hamadan, the capital city of the present Hamadan Province in the western part of Iran. Before Malik Al-Ashtar's conversion to Islam, he could have been of the Jewish faith, as was his king. If Malik Al-Ashtar originated in Hamadan, he was Persian and belonged to the faith of Zoroastrianism. Persia came under complete Islamic control in 651.

At best, the family name Mroueh is questionable quasi-Arabic, for it definitely has some genealogical reaches into Yemenite and or possibly Persian sources. The first name Youssef is Hebrew in origin. Therefore, the name Youssef Mroueh has no absolute Arab-Islamic root connection.

The appellation Mroueh means honor and generosity.³⁰ This is one side of the medal. Certainly Muslims consider Dr. Youssef A. Mroueh's attempts at documenting the existence of Muslims in America in pre-Columbian times as honorable for the furtherance of Islam. Indeed, Dr. Mroueh was very generous in his listing of place names. The other side of the medal is that for a doctor of radiological science to lie as generously as he did is an insult to academia and basic principles of research. Dr. Youssef A. Mroueh has lost his honor with his lies of Arabic Islamic origins for American place names.

The Islamic Rationale Behind Claims of Being Indigenous (regardless of the country)

There are three fundamental verses in the Koran that state the unequalled omnipotence of Islam over all other religions. It is thus accepted fact that Mohammed did realize that there would be other cultural groupings outside of his limited, knowable, physical, geographic location. The pertinent suras are:

Sura 9:33 He it is Who hath sent His messenger with the guidance and the Religion of Truth, that He may cause it to prevail over all religion, however much the idolaters may be averse.

Judaism and Christianity were the most important beliefs against which Mohammed competed and conducted his crusades. The rhetoric that he uses is vitriolic. Islam is superior to them and will prevail over them. Mohammed introduced the idea of a crusade long before the Europeans used this form of politics to free the Holy Land from the evil Mohammedans (c. 1095-c. 1272). The basis of sura 9:33 is violence and war. Previously, in sura 9:29 the word fight is used. It is in this context that sura 9:33 must be understood. Muslims must fight Jews and Christians who do not submit to Islam, whether by conversion or by paying the tax to be second-class citizens, which is really below any citizenship status. This is the policy that the Muslims must use when Mohammed is no longer alive. Mohammed died in 632. The Muslims adopted the policy of sura 9:29. The Jews and Christians must fight and consequently die, or pay a tax for protection, or convert to Islam.

Sura 48:28 He it is Who hath sent His messenger with the guidance and the religion of truth, that He may cause it to prevail over all religion. And Allah suffices as a Witness.

This sura repeats sura 9:33. Again Islam is supposed to triumph over all religions. War against the unbelievers is always present in Islam. Because Mohammed was victorious in his extermination of those who refused to believe in Allah, all Muslims consider Mohammed an inspiration.

Sura 61:9 *He has sent His messenger with the guidance and the true religion, and will make it dominate all religions, in spite of the idol worshipers.*³¹

Islam will triumph over its adversaries in warfare. By the time this sura was communicated, Mohammed had replaced Jesus Christ as the savior of the world because Mohammed says that it is so. Mohammed has become the anti-Christ and his power is not based on salvation through grace, but through violence, treachery, evilness, and warfare.

It is a fundamental rule of Islamic philosophy that if a land has at one time in history belonged to Islam, it is the will of Allah that it will always belong to Islam. Therefore, Islam claims that Spain must be re-conquered, because it belonged to Islam seven hundred years, from 711 with the invasion by Tariq ibn Ziyad (???-720), to the Reconquista in 1492 under the leadership of Ferdinand II (1452-1516) and Isabella I. (1451-1504).³² Moreover, there is also the argumentation that wherever a Muslim sets his foot, that land belongs to Islam, for Allah sent him there as a messenger to insure the expansion of Islam. We find the following statement fourteen times in the Koran: "And to Allah belongs the kingdom of the heavens and the earth." The logic is that Allah created the heavens and the earth (suras 5:17; 120) and therefore everything belongs to Allah. Because Muslims are Allah's servants, they are to prostrate themselves and show awe, respect and obedience to Allah and Mohammed upon the soil to which Allah has directed them. That is the Islamic land claim for Allah and Islam.³³

Islamic scholars believe that these three verses quoted above are the prophecies that unflinchingly prove that Islam will become the only world power. These verses have been used to spread Islamic violence repeatedly. The verses have also been used to lay claims to land that Islam never knew existed. As such, the Islamic logic of expansion is that whenever and wherever a Muslim appears in a foreign land, regardless of the historical age, and regardless of the truth or falsity of the assertion, it is only logical according to the Koran that that land must become Islamic, otherwise Allah would never have made it possible for that Muslim discoverer or explorer to be physically present in said new country, or at least to claim such physical presence. This viewpoint is so encompassing that it is retroactive to include all places where a Muslim was before there was Islam, for Islam maintains that only Islam is the complete and valid religion. Therefore, it encompasses all time and places. With this Islamic logic as the raison d'être of discovery, exploration, and land claiming, it is only obvious that all geographical landmasses of the world will eventually become dominated by Islam because Allah and Mohammed will it.

This is the truth!

The statement that Muslims are indigenous to America is false. There is no such thing! A Muslim is a person who believes in Islam. Only nationalities, or people originating in the region or country where found in the sense of original native, including the Native Americans belonging to the American Indian Nation can be indigenous. A Muslim is not a nationality. The term Muslim does not denote a people or a cultural element. Muslim means one who submits to Allah. Islam and Muslims are all about submission and the submission of non-believers to them.

BIMA is best to be understood as Bullcrap Insinuates Muslims are Aboriginal. Do not believe one word of what BIMA and its affiliated or other Islamic organizations in America propagandize.

Wake up Americans!

You are being duped by insurgents!

The goal of Islam and Muslims is to undercut and wipe out the American cultural heritage and replace it and the Constitution for the United States of America with sharia law and Islam. When that happens, the United States of America will no longer be a Free Republic.³⁴

³⁴ This autumn the book The Muslim Discovery of America is to be published. In his refuting the claims of BIMA, Don Fredrick of The Obama Timeline, who has previewed the book, writes in his August Report, "In the upcoming book, The Muslim Discovery of America, author Frederick William Dame shatters the claims that Muslims have a long history in the United States, preceding Christopher Columbus and other European explorers. Because Islamorada, Florida starts with the letters "Islam," Muslims claim that is proof "they were there first." Similarly, the town of Allakaket, Alaska "must be of Muslim origin" because "Alla[h]" is in the name. Dame, noting the claim of a "One Thousand Year Anniversary of the Muslim (Islam) Discovery of America," writes, "There was and there is no reason for an international call to celebrate any Muslim arrival in the Americas five centuries before Columbus, unless the goal is to re-write history and to delude people into believing that the foundation of cities and places in America owe their existence to Muslims, Mohammed's dogma of world domination, and Islam."
