Never Let A Tragedy Go To Waste

INTRODUCTION

On January 8, 2011, 22-year old Jared Lee Loughner went on a shooting spree at a constituent meeting called Congress on Your Corner, which was held by Congresswoman Gabrielle Giffords (D-AZ, Eighth District) at the Safeway Supermarket in Casas Adobess, an unincorporated area located north of Tucson, Arizona. Six people were fatally shot. Congresswoman Giffords was shot in the head at point-blank range. Twelve other people were wounded.

On January 12, Barack Hussein Obama flew to Tucson, Arizona to deliver a memorial speech in honor of the victims. The address was held at McKale Memorial Center on the University of Arizona campus in Tucson. During the day Barack Hussein Obama and his wife Michelle Obama met with the families of the deceased, the wounded victims, and visited Congresswoman Giffords at her bedside in the university medical center. The evening event was titled Together We Thrive: Tucson and America. The speech is also known in the shortened form as Together We Thrive.

Ten days have passed since Barack Hussein Obama gave his speech at the so-called memorial ceremony. We have to refer to the occasion as a so-called memorial ceremony because the atmosphere was more like a political pep rally to begin Barack Hussein Obama's re-election campaign for the 2012 presidency. Nevertheless, the mainstream media and the political pundits at various internet sites have labeled Barack Hussein Obama's speech as his greatest speech ever. Even the foreign mainstream media in England, France, and Germany have editorialized and reported that no better speech to heal the wounds caused by such a great tragedy has ever been given anywhere

The accolades and commentaries cause one to vomit. This author has waited ten days and the praises are still running rampant on the Internet. Before writing this present viewpoint, the author read the reviews of the Together We Thrive speech. There is not one critical presentation that thoroughly examines what Barack Hussein Obama said on the evening of January 12, 2011. Therefore, the author has decided to undertake a thorough rhetorical examination of the sentences that Barack Hussein Obama spoke in the subtle statements. They have more meaning to them than what was spoken over the microphone in the auditorium.

The reader should be aware of the fact that in order to understand when Barack Hussein Obama says what he says, acts the way he acts, and presents himself as the most intellectual of all leaders, it is necessary to know his background and personal history as far as it can be documented. The reader will find all of the known and documented, factual information concerning Barack Hussein Obama in Don Fredrick's The Obama Timeline at <http://www.colony14.net/id41.html>.

The picture below shows Barack Hussein Obama on a jumbotron delivering the speech. The lower corner tells the audience when to applaud.

This author's source is the complete speech that can be read and seen on a video presentation at http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2011/01/12/obama-arizona-memorial-sp\_n\_808335.html. (The Huffington Post uses double hyphens for dashes. This is not an accepted method in writing. Hyphens are hyphens and dashes are dashes. The double hyphens have been kept to show the reader the Huffington Post's writing mistakes.)

In 1989 William D. Lutz wrote a best-selling book on doublespeak titled Doublespeak: From "Revenue Enhancement" to "Terminal Living": How Government, Business, Advertisers, and Others Use Language to Deceive You, Harper & Row, New York: 1989. This book is considered to be the authority on doublespeak. Dr. Lutz proves that doublespeak is not a slip of the tongue. It is the present, modern form of speaking with a forked tongue. According to professor Lutz, doublespeak is a calculated, misuse of the English language the intention of which is to

- avoid or shift responsibility
- create a false verbal map of the world
- create incongruity between reality and what is said or not said
- distort reality
- limit, conceal, corrupt, and prevent thought
- make the bad seem good
- make the negative appear positive
- make the unpleasant appear attractive or tolerable
- mislead
- pretend to communicate

This author will investigate the speech made by Barack Hussein Obama in Tucson, Arizona with a sentence-by-sentence presentation and a commented assessment applying the different meanings of doublespeak that Dr. Lutz lists in his book. In no way does this critical examination intend to dishonor, to insult, or to undervalue the worth of the victims of the shooting and their families. The reader should realize that Barack Hussein Obama's public address resembles an Ancient Greek comedy that sets at odds two sections of society in a conflict and is intentionally placed over a tragedy. Barack Hussein Obama uses the framework of this human tragedy in order to feign communication. Barack Hussein Obama's statements speak for themselves.

Together We Thrive

- Thank you. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Hidden behind the "Thank You" and the Applause is the following Barack Hussein Obama mindset: "I am ya putative president. (He knows that he occupies the Oval Office illegally.) Since ya'all don't know what putative means ya can forget that word. It's used by the birthers anyway. Now watch me on the jumbotron and do exactly what the jumbotron tells ya and we'll have the time of our lives. Yeah! I'm still in campaign mode! By the way, notice my new hair color. Doesn't it give me more aura than I already 'av'? Everyone can now see that I 'av' the beginnin' halo sign of a world statesman."

- Thank you very much.

COMMENT: Unnecessary repetition. Barack Hussein Obama is just being gracious!

- Please, please be seated. (Applause.)

COMMENT: It is as if Barack Hussein Obama's undertone is: "Ya'll 'av' got it. You're doin' good. That's the way to follow me!"

- To the families of those we've lost; to all who called them friends; to the students of this university, the public servants who are gathered here, the people of Tucson and the people of Arizona: I have come here tonight as an American who, like all Americans, kneels to pray with you today and will stand by you tomorrow. (Applause.)

COMMENT: So many people have come to the auditorium and the sports field that the atmosphere is more like a political rally than like a memorial service for the victims of the shooting. It seems to be the start of Barack Hussein Obama's re-election campaign. It is interesting that Barack Hussein Obama uses the formulation "people of Tucson and the people of Arizona." This formulation includes all of those in Tucson and Arizona, including illegal aliens. It would have been better and more correct to say citizens instead of people. Barack Hussein Obama has created a false verbal map of the Arizona and Tucson world. However, being most likely an illegal, non-natural born citizen, Barack Hussein Obama can identify with illegal aliens.

"I have come here tonight as an American." Barack Hussein Obama has let the cat out of the bag! If Barack Hussein Obama was really an American he would not have to say such. Since he did say what he did, everyone should ask: What is Barack Hussein Obama's nationality? Barack Hussein Obama misleads. Barack Hussein Obama continues "... who, like all Americans, kneels to pray with you today and will stand by you tomorrow."

Barack Hussein Obama has let another cat out of the bag. All Americans do not pray. All Americans do not kneel when they pray. All Muslims pray. Muslims kneel when they pray. Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. Barack Hussein Obama does not pray on this day. Barack Hussein Obama is conducting a political rally. Barack Hussein Obama has not stood with Americans in the past and he will not stand with them in the future. Barack Hussein Obama speaks with a forked tongue meaning that there is incongruity between reality and what is said or not said.

This indicates the messiah syndrome. The phrase "I have come here tonight (to you)" has biblical overtones. In the New Testament John 5:43 we read I have come in my Father's name (my Father's authority) and you do not accept me. In other words, Those of you who doubt my authority, ... shouldn't. In the book of John 10:10 we read I have come that you might have life and have it to the full. In other words, I have come to save you.

What the audience does not know is that the phrase I have come here tonight, (I have come to you) occurs in the Koran as well. There are two sections that are indisputable in the phrase meaning that holiness, that godliness is present. They are:

Koran 3:49. I have come to you with a sign from your Lord: I make for you out of clay, as it were, the figure of a bird, and breathe into it and it becomes a bird by God's leave. And I heal the blind, and the lepers and I raise the dead by God's leave.

Koran 3:50. Here it is reported that Jesus came to the people to attest the law which was before me. And to make lawful to you part of what was forbidden you; I have come to you with a sign from your Lord, so fear God and obey Me.

The suggestion by Barack Hussein Obama is evident. God has sent him as attested by the Bible and the Koran and the people are to obey him.

Another sign of the messiah syndrome is "I will stand by you tomorrow." In other words, Barack Hussein Obama is saying that he will heal the people tomorrow, when he is re-elected.

- There is nothing I can say that will fill the sudden hole torn in your hearts.

COMMENT: This statement is a distortion of reality. The mourners' hearts do not have holes in them. Metaphor or not, their hearts are filled with deep sorrow, but not with holes.

- But know this: The hopes of a nation are here tonight.

COMMENT: This indicates the messiah syndrome again. In addition it is a re-harping on the theme of Hope and Change that Barack Hussein Obama always used in his appearances in the presidential primaries of 2008. The message is that Barack Hussein Obama is the hope of the nation. The reality is that Barack Hussein Obama is the hope for the dopes and the duped.

- We mourn with you for the fallen.

COMMENT: The sentence misleads because the word fallen as it is used here suggests that those who died are war dead; that they are soldiers. Those who died in the shooting are nothing of the sort. They were just innocent American citizens.

- We join you in your grief.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. Who does Barack Hussein Obama mean with we? Does Barack Hussein Obama mean his regime? The Obama family? Or most likely Muslims? Knowing Barack Hussein Obama's penchant for insulting American traditions, American history, American citizens, and the United States of America, the third choice is likely.

- And we add our faith to yours that Representative Gabrielle Giffords and the other living victims of this tragedy will pull through. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. Barack Hussein Obama has let the cat out of the bag again. "We add our faith to yours ... " The question is: What faith is Barack Hussein Obama talking about? If it is the Christian faith, Barack Hussein Obama could have said that. He leaves the audience with a lack of closure. Being a closet Muslim, Barack Hussein Obama most likely means Islam. If this is the case, then it is a subtle way of misleading.

- Scripture tells us:
*There is a river whose streams make glad the city of God,
the holy place where the Most High dwells.*

*God is within her, she will not fall;
God will help her at break of day.*

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama is misleading and creating a false map of the situation at the same time. Barack Hussein Obama is quoting from the Holy Bible, Psalms 46:4-5. When Muslims, even closet Muslims, quote from the Holy Bible, their intent is to find some common ground or similarities in order to tell those to whom they are talking that there is a basis for cooperation and coexistence. The historical reality is that once this coexistence and cooperation stage has been achieved, the society that has cooperated with Islam and has condescended to coexistence, will eventually become Islamic via methods of discrimination, dhimmi taxation, jihad, and extermination, all of which are Islamic activities that have occurred throughout the history of the spreading of Islam either separately or concurrently.

At the same time Barack Hussein Obama is invoking an understanding of the city of God as the Islamic Heaven, which has eight levels: Firdaus or Paradise, 'Adn, Na'iim, Na'wa, Darussalaam, Daarul Muaqaamah, Al-Muqqamul Amin, Khuldi. The Koran (13:35; 18:31; 35:33-35; 38:49-54; 52:17-27) describes the city of God, or Islamic Heaven thoroughly. Barack Hussein Obama's use of the Holy Bible verse is intended to cover up his being a Muslim.

The stream (water) in Islam has the symbolical meaning of being clean, being pure.

- On Saturday morning, Gabby, her staff and many of her constituents gathered outside a supermarket to exercise their right to peaceful assembly and free speech. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama is creating an incongruity between reality and what is said and not said. Barack Hussein Obama does not say that the right to peaceful assembly and free speech are constitutionally guaranteed. As a result, there is incongruity in what he says as compared to the reality of American history. Realizing that Barack Hussein Obama has always been anti-constitutional, it is no wonder that he does not face up to constitutional law and reality.

- They were fulfilling a central tenet of the democracy envisioned by our founders -- representatives of the people answering questions to their constituents, so as to carry their concerns back to our nation's capital.

COMMENT: This is a great distortion of reality. A tenet is a principle upon which a belief or theory is based. Democracy and its elements are subordinate to a republic. American democracy is not a belief. Neither is it a theory. It is an actual, living process of politics controlled by the framework of a republic that allows the populace to exercise its freedoms without the intrusion of and control by big government. Therefore, tenet is the wrong word. The correct word is mandate, since We the People are the source of all of the laws in the Constitution for the United States of America, which is a republic and not a democracy.

Another distortion of reality is that the Founders envisioned a democracy. They envisioned a republic with only some controls that are attributed to being democratic.

- Gabby called it "Congress on Your Corner" -- just an updated version of government of and by and for the people. (Applause.)

COMMENT: The statement distorts reality. Barack Hussein Obama's regime is never of, by, and for the people. Although coined by Abraham Lincoln in his Gettysburg Address, November 19, 1863, the phrase "of the people, by the people, for the people", has been with the citizens of the United States of America since the Declaration of Independence. It is not an update and neither is a gathering to talk politics on a street corner an update.

- And that quintessentially American scene, that was the scene that was shattered by a gunman's bullets.

COMMENT: The statement distorts reality. The quintessentially American scene of persons on street corners is nothing more than hanging out. In all due respect to the victims of the shooting, the political gathering on a street corner is not a quintessentially American scene in American politics, which Barack Hussein Obama forgot to say, either because he does not know English, or he is reminded of his thug days in Chicago. A quintessentially American political scene is the town hall meeting.

- And the six people who lost their lives on Saturday --they, too, represented what is best in us, what is best in America. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Honestly speaking and with due respect to the victims of the shooting, we do not know if this is a fact.

- Judge John Roll served our legal system for nearly 40 years. (Applause.)

COMMENT: This is a fact.

- A graduate of this university and a graduate of this law school -- (Applause) -
- Judge Roll was recommended for the federal bench by John McCain 20 years ago -- (Applause) -- appointed by President George H.W. Bush and rose to become Arizona's chief federal judge. (Applause.)

COMMENT: These are facts.

- His colleagues described him as the hardest-working judge within the Ninth Circuit.

COMMENT: This is an accepted fact.

- He was on his way back from attending Mass, as he did every day, when he decided to stop by and say hi (sic) to his representative.

COMMENT: This statement distorts reality. According to internet reports, “federal prosecutors argue that Roll wasn’t simply seeking to pay a social call on
Rep. Gabrielle Giffords (D-Ariz.) when he showed up at the community outreach event where the shooting spree took place Saturday. Prosecutors and the FBI insist that Roll ‘was engaged in official duties’ because he wanted to talk to Giffords and her staffers about problems with a surging caseload in federal courts in Arizona, particularly along the Mexican border. Loughner’s alleged killing of Roll may only be a crime under federal law if Roll was on business and not merely stopping by to say hi (sic) to a friend.”

- John is survived by his loving wife, Maureen, his three sons and his five beautiful grandchildren. (Applause.)

COMMENT: By using first names Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- George and Dorothy Morris -- "Dot" to her friends -- were high school sweethearts who got married and had two daughters.

COMMENT: By using first names Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- They did everything together -- traveling the open road in their RV, enjoying what their friends called a 50-year honeymoon.

COMMENT: By using the phrase 50-year honeymoon, Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. Barack Hussein Obama is saying that he is like Morris' friends who described this relationship.

- Saturday morning, they went by the Safeway to hear what their congresswoman had to say.

COMMENT: A simple fact.

- When gunfire rang out, George, a former Marine, instinctively tried to shield his wife. (Applause.)

COMMENT: By using first names Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. By saying that Mr. Morris, "a former Marine, instinctively tried to shield his wife," Barack Hussein Obama implies that he knows how Marines react. Barack Hussein Obama misleads. Barack Hussein Obama does not know how Marines react! He was never a Marine or a soldier!

- Both were shot.

COMMENT: A simple fact.

- Dot passed away.

COMMENT: A simple fact. Passed away is the wrong formulation. Passed away implies a natural death. There was nothing natural about her death. She was shot. It was a violent death. It would have been better had Barack Hussein Obama said that she had died as a result of being gunned down.

- A New Jersey native, Phyllis Schneck retired to Tucson to beat the snow.

COMMENT: One does not beat snow. Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate with the phrase. Phyllis Schneck retired to Tucson because she did not want to shovel snow any more.

- But in the summer, she would return East, where her world revolved around her three children, her seven grandchildren and 2-year-old great-granddaughter.

COMMENT: Simple facts.

- A gifted quilter, she'd often work under a favorite tree, or sometimes she'd sew aprons with the logos of the Jets and the Giants -- (laughter) -- to give out at the church where she volunteered.

COMMENT: With gifted quilter Barack Hussein Obama implies that he knew the quality of her quilting. He evokes laughter in the audience. Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- A Republican, she took a liking to Gabby, and wanted to get to know her better. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Republicans are bad but they appear good when they want to know a Democrat better. Barack Hussein Obama makes the bad seem good.

- Dorwan and Mavy Stoddard grew up in Tucson together -- about 70 years ago.

COMMENT: By using first names Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- They moved apart and started their own respective families.

COMMENT: A simple fact.

- But after both were widowed they found their way back here, to, as one of Mavy's daughters put it, "be boyfriend and girlfriend again." (Laughter.)

COMMENT: By using the first name Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. The statement "be boyfriend and girlfriend again" evokes laughter. Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- When they weren't out on the road in their motor home, you could find them just up the road, helping folks in need at the Mountain Avenue Church of Christ.

COMMENT: A simple fact.

- A retired construction worker, Dorwan spent his spare time fixing up the church along with his dog, Tux.

COMMENT: A simple fact. Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate by naming Mr. Stoddard's dog.

- His final act of selflessness was to dive on top of his wife, sacrificing his life for hers. (Applause.)

COMMENT: A simple and laudable fact.

- Everything -- everything -- Gabe Zimmerman did, he did with passion. (Applause.)

COMMENT: A simple (hearsay) fact.

- But his true passion was helping people.

COMMENT: A simple (hearsay) fact.

- As Gabby's outreach director, he made the cares of thousands of her constituents his own, seeing to it that seniors got the Medicare benefits that they had earned, that veterans got the medals and the care that they deserved, that government was working for ordinary folks.

COMMENT: According to Barack Hussein Obama Medicare is/was bad. ObamaCare is good. That is why one goal of ObamaCare is to destroy Medicare. By referring to Medicare as he does, Barack Hussein Obama makes the bad seem good. It is a double situation, regardless of whether Medicare is bad or ObamaCare is bad.

- He died doing what he loved -- talking with people and seeing how he could help.

COMMENT: A simple (hearsay) fact. The word loved evokes intimate, emotional relationships with the people. That Mr. Zimmerman had such relationships in his work is very doubtful.

- And Gabe is survived by his parents, Ross and Emily, his brother, Ben, and his fiancée, Kelly, who he planned to marry next year. (Applause.)

COMMENT: By using the first names Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- And then there is nine-year-old Christina Taylor Green.

COMMENT: By using her full name Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- Christina was an A student; she was a dancer; she was a gymnast; she was a swimmer.

COMMENT: By stating these simple facts Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- She decided that she wanted to be the first woman to play in the Major Leagues, and as the only girl on her Little League team, no one put it past her. (Applause.)

COMMENT: By stating these simple facts of a childhood dream, Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- She showed an appreciation for life uncommon for a girl her age.

COMMENT: Confusing statement. What was uncommon? Was the life at her age uncommon or was it uncommon for the young girl to show an appreciation for life? That is not uncommon. Children show and do appreciate their young lives.

- She'd remind her mother, "We are so blessed. We have the best life."

COMMENT: By stating these simple statements from the young girl, Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- And she'd pay those blessings back by participating in a charity that helped children who were less fortunate.

COMMENT: By stating these simple facts of the young girl's childhood, Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- Our hearts are broken by their sudden passing.

COMMENT: Who are our? The metaphor of the broken heart describes emotional pain, suffering that one feels as a result of losing a person by breakup, being rejected, divorce, moving, and in the Tucson shooting, death. Since Barack Hussein Obama jokes with his wife Michelle after the speech, Barack Hussein Obama's heart is not broken and feels no pain.

- Our hearts are broken -- and yet, our hearts also have reason for fullness.

COMMENT: Unnecessary repetition. Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality by using the words broken and fullness.

- Our hearts are full of hope and thanks for the 13 Americans who survived the shooting, including the congresswoman many of them went to see on Saturday.

COMMENT: The messiah syndrome is apparent with the harped-on theme of hope.

- I have just come from the University Medical Center, just a mile from here, where our friend Gabby courageously fights to recover even as we speak.

COMMENT: The use of I in this sentence implies that a personal experience will follow.

- And I want to tell you -- her husband Mark is here and he allows me to share this with you -- right after we went to visit, a few minutes after we left her room and some of her colleagues in Congress were in the room, Gabby opened her eyes for the first time. (Applause.)

COMMENT: The messiah syndrome is present. The implication is that Congresswoman Giffords opened her eyes because Barack Hussein Obama was present in the hospital room and after the savior left the patient's room his aura remained to cause the patient's eyes to open. If Barack Hussein Obama can be so impudent in this implication, then one might also say that Congresswoman Giffords opened her eyes to make sure that Barack Hussein Obama had left the hospital room.

- Gabby opened her eyes for the first time. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Unnecessary repetition. However it implies that a miracle took place.

- Gabby opened her eyes.

COMMENT: Unnecessary repetition. However it implies that a miracle took place.

- Gabby opened her eyes, so I can tell you she knows we are here.

COMMENT: Unnecessary repetition. However it implies that a miracle took place.

- She knows we love her.

COMMENT: Who are we? The statement is an unfounded assumption. It distorts reality. Does Barack Hussein Obama have an intimate, emotional relationship with Congresswoman Giffords?

- And she knows that we are rooting for her through what is undoubtedly going to be a difficult journey.

COMMENT: This is a general statement that can be said for all ill people and victims of a tragedy, regardless of who or where the people are. However, the use of the word rooting implies that life is a game and belittles the importance of life.

- We are there for her. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Who are we? This statement misleads. Based upon his past political relationships, Barack Hussein Obama would throw Congresswoman Giffords under the bus in the future if it would be to his advantage.

- Our hearts are full of thanks for that good news, and our hearts are full of gratitude for those who saved others.

COMMENT: The word gratitude indicates the meaning of a kindly feeling because of a favor that was received. Therefore, Barack Hussein Obama is saying: Now that was kind of them to save others. The statement thus belittles the persons involved in saving others in the tragedy. Barack Hussein thus distorts reality. A better phrasing would have been ... and we are extremely indebted to those who saved the lives of others.

- We are grateful to Daniel Hernandez -- (Applause) -- a volunteer in Gabby's office. (Applause.)

COMMENT: The word grateful means being appreciative of benefits received; to afford pleasure (to someone). The word carries with it the original meaning of the Latin stem word grātus, meaning pleasing or favorable. Barack Hussein Obama is thus saying what Mr. Daniel Hernandez did is pleasing or favorable. Barack Hussein Obama thus distorts reality. The word belittles Mr. Daniel Hernandez and his role in the tragedy. A better phrasing would have been We are beholden to Daniel Hernandez. This phrase is stronger and it indicates that persons in Congresswoman's familial and working circle are deeply indebted to Mr. Daniel Hernandez, not just thankful!

- And, Daniel, I'm sorry, you may deny it, but we've decided you are a hero because (Applause) – you ran through the chaos to minister to your boss, and tended to her wounds and helped keep her alive. (Applause.)

COMMENT: The word minister implies two meanings: to attend to the wants and needs of others, and a person authorized to perform religious functions. The word choice is intentional. Barack Hussein Obama is saying two things in one breath: that Barack Hussein Obama is a Christian and that as a Christian he is present to save lives and attend to their wants and needs. The undercurrent connection is that Barack Hussein Obama is placing Mr. Hernandez on the same messiah syndrome as he is. The Applause reinforces the intent subconsciously.

- We are grateful to the men who tackled the gunman as he stopped to reload. (Applause.)

COMMENT: The word grateful is out of place. Grateful means thankful, which the survivors of the shooting and those present surely are. Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. However, by just being thankful, Barack Hussein Obama is minimizing the feelings that people have. This is what Barack Hussein Obama enjoys doing. When he belittles others, he places himself above them. This is typical behavior of a narcissist. A better word is beholden because it means that the survivors and the people present are indebted to the men who tackled the gunman. This feeling of indebtedness is an obligation to those who as human beings had an obligation to subdue the gunman.

- Right over there. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama is creating a false map of the vicinity. Apparently Barack Hussein Obama means the scene of the shooting. Because Barack Hussein Obama and the audience are in a sports arena, the scene of the shooting is far removed from where they are located.

- We are grateful for petite Patricia Maisch, who wrestled away the killer's ammunition, and undoubtedly saved some lives. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate, but the use of grateful is out of place. It is not strong enough for a tragedy of this magnitude. It is also needless repetition of the same word.

- And we are grateful for the doctors and nurses and first responders who worked wonders to heal those who'd been hurt.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate, but the use of grateful is again out of place. It is also needless repetition of the same word. Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality because those who had been hurt are still hurt. They have not been healed.

- We are grateful to them. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to keep up the communication with the word grateful. It is unnecessary repetition of the same word.

- These men and women remind us that heroism is found not only on the fields of battle.

COMMENT: Heroism is found when there is a danger to one's moral values. The essence of heroism is the situation on a grand scale that towers above the normal. Whenever men and women achieve a goal on a high level far beyond their normal lives, and they are not swayed from their course, then one is a hero. There is no doublespeak in the statement "These men and women remind us that heroism is found not only on the fields of battle." At the same time, this author is convinced that Barack Hussein Obama does not fully understand what constitutes heroism. Thus Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality concerning what heroism is.

- They remind us that heroism does not require special training or physical strength.

COMMENT: What Barack Hussein Obama fails to say is that the hero encounters every threat because of the moral values that the hero possesses and when these values are threatened, the hero becomes valorous. Heroism exists because there is a conflict of moral values. Heroism is when one shows courage and fights to save one's moral values, regardless of the opposition odds. It is not apparent that Barack Hussein Obama understands this. Indeed, this author questions whether or not Barack Hussein Obama knows what morality is! In so far that this is true, Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality concerning the relationship of moral values to heroism.

- Heroism is here, in the hearts of so many of our fellow citizens, all around us, just waiting to be summoned -- as it was on Saturday morning.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. Heroism does not wait to be summoned. Heroism comes spontaneously.

- Their actions, their selflessness poses a challenge to each of us.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. Barack Hussein Obama never includes himself in us or we.

- It raises a question of what, beyond prayers and expressions of concern, is required of us going forward.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. He is a charlatan and charlatans never go forward!

- How can we honor the fallen?

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. The word fallen refers to soldiers on the battlefield. The people are victims. Dead soldiers on a battlefield are not victims. They are the fallen.

- How can we be true to their memory?

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. Charlatans never seek the truth!

- You see, when a tragedy like this strikes, it is part of our nature to demand explanations -- to try and pose some order on the chaos and make sense out of that which seems senseless.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. It is not part of our nature "to demand explanations". It is our nature. However, Barack Hussein Obama also misleads because he is using the so-called memorial service not to "pose some order on the chaos and make sense out of that which seems senseless", but is using the occasion as a political rally.

- Already we've seen a national conversation commence, not only about the motivations behind these killings, but about everything from the merits of gun safety laws to the adequacy of our mental health system.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama avoids or shifts responsibility. It is not a conversation. It is a hate debate, particularly and singularly by the left of the political spectrum. Furthermore, Barack Hussein Obama makes what he considers bad seem good. Barack Hussein Obama does not like guns and he has no intent to support laws concerning any aspect of gun possession. The position and responsibility shift has changed from the killings to his proposed re-election topics like gun control (possession of guns will be forbidden) and ObamaCare.

- And much of this process, of debating what might be done to prevent such tragedies in the future, is an essential ingredient in our exercise of self-government.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. It is not about what might be done, but about what can be done and what will be done. Furthermore, Barack Hussein Obama creates incongruity between reality and what is said or not said by stating that debate "is an essential ingredient in our exercise of self-government", yet all the while in his political career he has been intent on limiting free speech and open debate. One only has to recall Barack Hussein Obama's intent to limit free speech on the internet.

(<http://www.thefreepressonline.co.uk/news/1/1551.htm>)

- But at a time when our discourse has become so sharply polarized -- at a time when we are far too eager to lay the blame for all that ails the world at the feet of those who happen to think differently than we do -- it's important for us to pause for a moment and make sure that we're talking with each other in a way that heals, not in a way that wounds. (Applause.)

COMMENT: The complete sentence avoids or shifts reality because the left lays the blame on conservatives. The conservatives are those who prove where the true blame lies. Furthermore, Barack Hussein Obama creates incongruity between what is said and not said, as is reflected in the behavior of his past and present. Barack Hussein Obama never talks in a manner that heals. Here are some of Barack Hussein Obama's statements that are exceedingly non-healing.

- Obama to His Followers: "Get in Their Faces!"
- Obama on ACORN Mobs: "I don't want to quell anger. I think people are right to be angry! I'm angry!"
- Obama to His Mercenary Army: "Hit Back Twice As Hard"
- Obama on the private sector: "We talk to these folks ... so I know whose ass to kick."
- Obama to voters: "Republican victory would mean "hand to hand combat" (sic)
- Obama to liberal supporters: "It's time to Fight for it."
- Obama to Latino supporters: "Punish your enemies."
- Obama to democrats: "I'm itching for a fight."
- Obama regime to the American People: "Bring it (the fight) on."
- "They bring a knife (his opponents, the Republicans) we bring a gun."
- "Don't you think we're not keeping score, brother."
- "My administration is the only thing between you and the pitchforks."
- "Get ready for hand-to-hand combat with your fellow Americans."
- "Republicans are our enemies."

- "I am going to strangle all Republicans who don't agree with me politically."
- "All those who oppose me or my party, must ride in the back of the bus."
- "Damn Americans who cling bitterly to their 2nd amendment rights (the constitutional right to keep and bear arms)."
- "I hope all Americans who dare to criticize our great Marxist heroes die of screaming anal cancer!"
- "I have no problem with Democrats cheating to win elections, I'd do it in a heartbeat."
- "Governor Christie (New Jersey) is a fat slob."
- "We Democrats should rip the heart right out of Vice President of The United States of America Cheney's chest, use it for a football, and then stuff it back in his quivering corpse."

So much for talk that heals!

- Scripture tells us that there is evil in the world, and that terrible things happen for reasons that defy human understanding.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama misleads. The correct phrase when referring to the Holy Bible is Holy Scriptures. With the phrase Scriptures, there is the undercurrent inclusion of the Koran.

- In the words of Job, "When I looked for light, then came darkness."

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama misleads. With this quotation from Job, Barack Hussein Obama knows that he is leading the audience into believing that he is a Christian. Nothing could be further from the truth! Christians have been misled because Job is considered by Islam and Muslims to be a prophet on the same level with Jesus. Muslims consider Jesus to be a prophet only. Job is a man of patience who remains steadfast to Allah and never loses faith in Allah. That is why Barack Hussein Obama quotes Job. This reference is also a form of al-taqiyya in that Barack Hussein Obama is using Job and his feigning to be a Christian for the furtherance of Islam.

There are eight major references to Job in the Koran: 4:163; 6:84; 21:83; 21:84; 38:41; 38:42; 38:43; 38:44.

- Bad things happen, and we have to guard against simple explanations in the aftermath.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. Bad things just do not happen. There is always a cause! Perhaps the explanation is simple. A deranged gunman with a history of mental illness and behavior that showed his mental inconsistency was never treated and monitored. This gunman killed and wounded the victims.

- For the truth is none of us can know exactly what triggered this vicious attack.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. This is a pre-drawn conclusion. The truth is that the proper authorities are able to find out the truth.

- None of us can know with any certainty what might have stopped these shots from being fired, or what thoughts lurked in the inner recesses of a violent man's mind.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. This is a pre-drawn conclusion. The truth is that the proper authorities are able to find out the truth about what might have stopped the shooting and what went on inside the mind of the gunman.

- Yes, we have to examine all the facts behind this tragedy.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama wants to examine the facts so that the tragedy won't go to waste. However, Barack Hussein Obama will use the facts to propagate his own version.

- We cannot and will not be passive in the face of such violence.

COMMENT: When compared to the Fort Hood shooting and the aftermath, this is a grave distortion of reality coupled with the creation of incongruity between reality and what is said and not said. It is obvious that the Fort Hood Shooting was an act of Islamic jihad. The Barack Hussein Obama regime says that there was no jihad motive behind the Fort Hood massacre.

- We should be willing to challenge old assumptions in order to lessen the prospects of such violence in the future. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality and logic. Willingness "to challenge old assumptions to lessen the prospects of such violence in the future" does not mean the old assumptions will be challenged. When an old assumption is challenged, like LTC Terrence Lakin did concerning Barack Hussein Obama's natural born citizen status (an old assumption, indeed, the law of the Constitution), the result is LTC Lakin being sentenced to military prison and loss of all military benefits. It proves that "There are enormous risks for anyone intellectually honest enough to wonder why merely asking questions or seeking the truth constitutes a punishable offense." (William A. Jacobson, Associate Clinical Professor, Cornell Law School at <http://rtr.org/blogs/23266/7915/best-blog-on-birthers-i-have-seen>)

- But what we cannot do is use this tragedy as one more occasion to turn on each other. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama avoids or shifts responsibility and distorts reality. Barack Hussein Obama has always taken the occasion to throw someone under the bus if it was to his advantage. He will continue to do so in the future. In addition, Barack Hussein Obama is using the occasion as a political pep rally, not as a memorial service. In fact, Barack Hussein Obama is throwing the Tucson tragedy under the bus!

- That we cannot do. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality because that is exactly what he is doing and will do.

- That we cannot do.

COMMENT: Unnecessary repetition. Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality because that is exactly what he is doing and will do. He is underscoring it by repeating it.

- As we discuss these issues, let each of us do so with a good dose of humility.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate by using the word humility (being modest, lacking pride). After reading three biographies of Barack Hussein Obama, and his autobiography, most likely written by William Ayers, the only conclusion that this author can reach is that Barack Hussein Obama has never shown humility and will never show it.

- Rather than pointing fingers or assigning blame, let's use this occasion to expand our moral imaginations, to listen to each other more carefully, to sharpen our instincts for empathy and remind ourselves of all the ways that our hopes and dreams are bound together. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality by saying one thing that totally contradicts his actions to date.

- After all, that's what most of us do when we lose somebody in our family -- especially if the loss is unexpected.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. He is telling the audience that he understands the situation and their feelings.

- We're shaken out of our routines.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. He is telling the audience that he understands the situation and their feelings.

- We're forced to look inward.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. He is telling the audience that he understands the situation and their feelings.

- We reflect on the past: Did we spend enough time with an aging parent, we wonder. (sic)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. He is telling the audience that he understands the situation and their feelings.

- Did we express our gratitude for all the sacrifices that they made for us?

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. He is telling the audience that he understands the situation and their feelings.

- Did we tell a spouse just how desperately we loved them, not just once in a while but every single day?

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. He is telling the audience that he understands the situation and their feelings.

- So sudden loss causes us to look backward -- but it also forces us to look forward; to reflect on the present and the future, on the manner in which we live our lives and nurture our relationships with those who are still with us. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. He is telling the audience that he understands the situation and their feelings. In his mind, the applause reinforces his communicative skills, even though the applause is a jumbotron command.

- We may ask ourselves if we've shown enough kindness and generosity and compassion to the people in our lives.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. Barack Hussein Obama never shows real compassion. If there has been any so-called compassion, it is intentionally-staged-photo-op compassion.

- Perhaps we question whether we're doing right by our children, or our community, whether our priorities are in order.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality because he has pre-determined priorities. Therefore, there is no need for questions in his mind.

- We recognize our own mortality, and we are reminded that in the fleeting time we have on this Earth, what matters is not wealth, or status, or power, or fame -- but rather, how well we have loved -- (Applause) -- and what small part we have played in making the lives of other people better. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality because wealth, status, and power are what matter in life to most people, and particularly to Barack Hussein Obama. The applause is a reaction to the jumbotron command.

- And that process -- that process of reflection, of making sure we align our values with our actions -- that, I believe, is what a tragedy like this requires.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama misleads. A tragedy of this magnitude requires that not we, but that progressives – the left – align themselves with moral values and moral actions and not with hate values and hate action.

- For those who were harmed, those who were killed -- they are part of our family, an American family 300 million strong. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. America is not a commune! The United States of America is not one big family!

- We may not have known them personally, but surely we see ourselves in them.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate and distorts reality at the same time because he tries to identify by seeing "ourselves in them".

- In George and Dot, in Dorwan and Mavy, we sense the abiding love we have for our own husbands, our own wives, our own life partners.

COMMENT: By using first names Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- Phyllis -- she's our mom or our grandma; Gabe our brother or son. (Applause.)

COMMENT: By using first names and saying that "she's our mom or our grandma; Gabe our brother or son", Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate.

- In Judge Roll, we recognize not only a man who prized his family and doing his job well, but also a man who embodied America's fidelity to the law. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama creates incongruity between reality and what is said or not said because these words coming out of his mouth are the highest degree of cynicism. Barack Hussein Obama has no fidelity to the law. He has been on the Judicial Watch List of Washington's Ten Most Corrupt Politicians since 2006.

<http://www.judicialwatch.org/news/2010/dec/judicial-watch-announces-list-washingtons-ten-most-wanted-corrupt-politicians-2010>

<http://www.judicialwatch.org/news/2006/dec/judicial-watch-announces-list-washington-s-ten-most-wanted-corrupt-politicians-2006>)

- And in Gabby -- in Gabby, we see a reflection of our public-spiritedness; that desire to participate in that sometimes frustrating, sometimes contentious, but always necessary and never-ending process to form a more perfect union. (Applause.)

COMMENT: By using the first name Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate and creates incongruity between reality and what is said or not said because the Union is more perfect than ever before in history. It is Barack Hussein Obama's racism that is the domestic threat to the Union.

- And in Christina -- in Christina we see all of our children.

COMMENT: By using the first name of a dead child Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. These references are for the purposes of communication with no core soul.

- So curious, so trusting, so energetic, so full of magic.

COMMENT: By referring to the dead child Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. These references are for the purposes of communication with no core soul.

- So deserving of our love. And so deserving of our good example.

COMMENT: By referring to the dead child Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate. These references are for the purposes of communication with no core soul.

- If this tragedy prompts reflection and debate -- as it should -- let's make sure it's worthy of those we have lost. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama is creating a situation that will cause incongruity between reality and what is said or not said because he knows that the left will not debate the tragedy. The left will voice accusations and they have already voiced accusations against conservatives. The left will not relent. It is the Saul Alinsky method.

- Let's make sure it's not on the usual plane of politics and point-scoring and pettiness that drifts away in the next news cycle.

COMMENT: This is a forked-tongue statement that will create incongruity between reality and what will be said or not said. With the illogic of their grey cells, the left will continue to blame conservatives for the tragedy. Barack Hussein Obama knows that the left will not take back its false accusations against conservatives. They will keep the pressure on the conservatives. That is the Saul Alinsky method.

- The loss of these wonderful people should make every one of us strive to be better.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality because he will exclude himself. He stands above everyone else.

- To be better in our private lives, to be better friends and neighbors and coworkers (sic) and parents.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality because in his political mindset bettering is always leftist.

- And if, as has been discussed in recent days, their death helps usher in more civility in our public discourse, let us remember it is not because a simple lack of civility caused this tragedy -- it did not -- but rather because only a more civil and honest public discourse can help us face up to the challenges of our nation in a way that would make them proud. (Applause.)

COMMENT: The whole sentence misleads because Barack Hussein Obama's politics were never civil and honest. His politics will never be civil and honest.

- We should be civil because we want to live up to the example of public servants like John Roll and Gabby Giffords, who knew first and foremost that we are all Americans, and that we can question each other's ideas without questioning each other's love of country and that our task, working together, is to constantly widen the circle of our concern so that we bequeath the American Dream to future generations. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. We are not all Americans. Millions are illegal immigrants!

- They believed -- they believed, and I believe that we can be better.

COMMENT: The use of believe is an indication of Barack Hussein Obama's messiah syndrome. Believe in Barack Hussein Obama! Furthermore, Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality because he uses the wrong tense. Congresswoman Giffords is still alive.

- Those who died here, those who saved life here -- they help me believe.

COMMENT: The statement pretends to communicate and is an indication of the messiah syndrome.

- We may not be able to stop all evil in the world, but I know that how we treat one another, that's entirely up to us. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. Who is meant by we? Who is meant by us? The leftists?

- And I believe that for all our imperfections, we are full of decency and goodness, and that the forces that divide us are not as strong as those that unite us. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Believe indicates the messiah syndrome.

- That's what I believe, in part because that's what a child like Christina Taylor Green believed. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Believe indicates the messiah syndrome. Barack Hussein Obama pretends to communicate by naming the dead child.

- Imagine -- imagine for a moment, here was a young girl who was just becoming aware of our democracy; just beginning to understand the obligations of citizenship; just starting to glimpse the fact that some day she, too, might play a part in shaping her nation's future.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama is exploiting a dead child for his leftist, political purposes.

- She had been elected to her student council.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama is exploiting a dead child for his leftist, political purposes.

- She saw public service as something exciting and hopeful.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama is exploiting a dead child for his leftist, political purposes.

- She was off to meet her congresswoman, someone she was sure was good and important and might be a role model.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama is exploiting a dead child for his leftist, political purposes.

- She saw all this through the eyes of a child, undimmed by the cynicism or vitriol that we adults all too often just take for granted.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama is exploiting a dead child for his leftist, political purposes.

- I want to live up to her expectations. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. A nine-year old child does not have political expectations. A nine-year old child wants the security and love of the family.

- I want our democracy to be as good as Christina imagined it.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. America is not a democracy. See the explanation at 12.

- I want America to be as good as she imagined it. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama distorts reality. If he interprets that the security of the home and family was the child's vision of America, then Barack Hussein Obama has transferred the child's vision into socialism. Although Barack Hussein Obama says it is the child's vision, it is really his.

- All of us -- we should do everything we can to make sure this country lives up to our children's expectations. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama misleads. When conservatives do everything they can to make the United States of America live up to expectations (of children) like not putting them into debt for the next three generations, Barack Hussein Obama is against them and their policies. For Barack Hussein Obama the expectations are good as long as they are leftist expectations.

- As has already been mentioned, Christina was given to us on September 11th, 2001, one of 50 babies born that day to be pictured in a book called "Faces of Hope."

COMMENT: The reference to hope is an intended indication of the messiah syndrome. Barack Hussein Obama exploits the death of a child for his political purposes.

- On either side of her photo in that book were simple wishes for a child's life.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama exploits the death of a child for his political purposes.

- "I hope you help those in need," read one.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama exploits the death of a child for his political purposes.

- "I hope you know all the words to the National Anthem and sing it with your hand over your heart." (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama exploits the death of a child for his political purposes. Barack Hussein Obama does not know the words of the National Anthem by heart. Barack Hussein Obama does not even know the behavioral stance he should take when the National Anthem is played. He still does not accomplish it properly.

- "I hope you jump in rain puddles."

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama exploits the death of a child for his political purposes.

- If there are rain puddles in Heaven, Christina is jumping in them today. (Applause.)

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama makes the unpleasant appear attractive or tolerable. The child is dead, but the audience is told to visualize that her situation in heaven is attractive or tolerable.

- And here on this Earth -- here on this Earth, we place our hands over our hearts, and we commit ourselves as Americans to forging a country that is forever worthy of her gentle, happy spirit.

COMMENT: Barack Hussein Obama creates incongruity between reality and what is said or not said, done or not done. As long as America remains a republic with its Constitution that is upheld and respected, with politicians, particularly presidents, who are not corrupt, it will be a country that is worthy of a child's gentle and happy spirit. Barack Hussein Obama's politics are leading America in the opposite direction. It is a direction where gentle and happy spirits will not be allowed to freely develop and make their own decisions from the cradle to the grave.

- May God bless and keep those we've lost in restful and eternal peace.

COMMENT: The phrase is indicative of the messiah syndrome. Barack Hussein Obama gives a blessing and implores God to do what God will most likely do anyway.

- May He love and watch over the survivors.

COMMENT: The phrase is indicative of the messiah syndrome. Barack Hussein Obama gives a blessing and implores God to do what God will most likely do anyway.

- And may He bless the United States of America. (Applause.)

COMMENT: The phrase is indicative of the messiah syndrome. Coming out of the mouth of Barack Hussein Obama, the closet Muslim, the statement is outright cynical, because the goal of Islam is to destroy the United States of America and turn it into an Islamic country, subservient to the Koran and the Sharia.

CLOSING REMARKS

If we count the number of instances of doublespeak according to Dr. William D. Lutz's listing we have the following results:

- avoid or shift responsibility
- create a false verbal map of the world
- create incongruity between reality and what is said or not said 9
- distort reality
- limit, conceal, corrupt, and prevent thought
(There are no instances in the speech. However, the use of the jumbotron, with its focus on Barack Hussein Obama and telling the audience when to applaud, limits the audience in concealing its true emotions, or making them public. It corrupts their behavior and prevents the audience from thinking for itself.)
- make the bad seem good
- make the negative appear positive
(The intent of the speech is to propagandize the audience into believing that it has had a positive experience out of the negative experience: the tragedy.)
- make the unpleasant appear attractive or tolerable 1
- mislead 12

- pretend to communicate

40

The total of all sentences and all repetition sentences is 140. There are 109 nine instances of doublespeak in Barack Hussein Obama's so-called memorial address. This results in a doublespeak ratio for the complete speech of 77.8 percent. This means that only 22.2 percent of the speech was not doublespeak. In addition, there are 14 indications of the messiah syndrome. Any time that Barack Hussein Obama alludes to the messiah in any manner, it is explicit and intentional. It is also sacrilegious.

There are 53 instances where the audience was jumbotoned to applause. That is a percentage of 37.8 percent. Surely that is not a sign of piety. We forgive the audience, for the sheeple and the dignitary sheeple knew not what they were doing. They were manipulated, just like in socialism/communism.

It took Barack Hussein Obama four days to write this doublespeak speech. This author has first semester university students who can write better than Barack Hussein Obama and not doublespeak. They can even compose their seminar presentations in two or more languages. Furthermore, these students would never use a tragedy like that which happened in Tucson, Arizona on January 8, 2011 for anything other than a memorial tribute.

We know that the occasion was totally coordinated by Barack Hussein Obama's Organizing for America, a state-within-a-state organization that also coordinated his presidential election campaign. Organizing for America is the source of the t-shirts, the slogans, the bumper stickers, the cheering, and the motto Together We Thrive. (<http://zillablog.marezilla.com/2011/01/recycled-obama-slogan-used-at-pop-fest.html>) Evidently, Organizing for America and Barack Hussein Obama are of the opinion that mourners can thrive at a memorial service for the dead and the victims of the shooting. That is more than poor taste. That is evil and Barack Hussein Obama is in the middle of it. Yet, evil became perfect when in order to celebrate his performance Barack Hussein Obama joked and gave his wife Michelle a high five after the speech. (<http://www.colony14.net/id482.html>. Don Frederick documents the incident with thirteen sources, including an interview with an unnamed White House insider at <http://newsflavor.com/politics/world-politics/white-house-insider-obama-celebrates-shortly-after-delivering-tucson-memorial-speech/>)

In the name of all patriotic Americans, this author gives Barack Hussein Obama thumbs down! Both of them! ... across his neck of political life ... ad infinitum!
