

FREDERICK WILLIAM DAME

OBAMA'S CHARISMA

STATEMENT

Three years and four months after Barack Hussein Obama officially became the illegal occupier of the Oval Office, *The Washington Post*¹, in its usual warped presentation, wrote:

“Barack Obama is no longer a charismatic leader, not in the traditional sense. He is a leader who is charismatic, and that makes all the difference.”²

The statement by the Washington Post is typical Washington Post propaganda. It says the opposite of what is the truth. Therefore, it is necessary to place the concept of charisma regarding Barack Hussein Obama into proper perspective.

THE DEFINITION

The definition of charisma is “A rare quality or power attributed to those persons who have an exceptional ability for leadership and for securing the devotion of a large number of people. In theology, charisma is A divinely inspired gift of power, such as the ability to perform miracles.”³

THE ETYMOLOGY

The word charisma comes from the Indo-Germanic word root gher-6, meaning to like, to want. Its suffixed zero-grade form ghr-i-* is the origin of the Greek kharis, meaning grace, favor. This is the source of the English word charisma, as well as eucharist.⁴

The Greek χάρισμα (chárisma) means released or gift of grace. The plural form χαρίσματα (charismata) derives from χάρις (charis), which means grace. Thus it yields the concept of grace. Therefore, some derivatives of the root have the same meanings of the modern connotation that we know as the sense of personality, i.e., one is filled with attractiveness, charm, kindness, or one is favored or blessed.

Ancient Greek was spoken in the Roman Empire, and the ancient Greek language used the term with a quasi-religious connotation when they applied personality, charm, kindness, i.e., charisma to their gods. The Romans adopted this behavior. A prime example is the Greek goddess Χάριτες (Charites) and to the Romans, the Gratiae, the Graces to whom they attributed beauty, charm, fertility, human creativity, and nature.

THE DEVELOPMENT

The original meanings in Greco-Roman usages have metamorphosed into a theological impression and a socio-political impression. Social Scientists and theologians refer to these two impressions as divinely conferred charisma and personality charisma. The former is a charisma conferred by a deity. The latter is the charisma of the individual. The linguist John Potts has analyzed at length the historical usages of the concept charisma.⁵ According to him the meaning of charisma in Modern English is a mixture of charm and stature. It contains a mysterious, indeed, an elusive quality. The mass media sometimes refer to this as a person's X-factor. The reporters, commentators, and pundits often claim that charisma in a politician is a manifestation of a gifted spirit.

“Contemporary charisma maintains, however, the irreducible character ascribed to it by (Max) Weber: it retains a mysterious, elusive quality. Media commentators regularly describe charisma as the 'X-factor'.

⁴ Consult Julius Pokorny, Indogermanisches Etymologisches Wörterbuch, Band I, A Francke Verlag, Tübingen und Basel: 2005, entry I. gher-, p.440. The asterisk* before the suffixed zero-grade form means that the nomenclature has been authentically reconstructed by language historians and etymologists.

...The enigmatic character of charisma also suggests a connection – at least to some degree – to the earliest manifestations of charisma as a spiritual gift.⁶

Both the Hebrews and the Christians have recorded the development of charisma as coming from a divine spirit, i. e., charisma is emanating from a deity. In the Hebrew language, this concept is referred to as hen, meaning favor, or the predicate hanan, meaning to show favor. When the Hebrew Bible, the Tanakh (Biblia Hebraica), was translated into Greek in the third century BC, the root charis replaced the Hebrew terms. The Hebrew account is filled with historical Jews who as heroes received Yahveh's (God's) favor. Charisma coming from Yahveh was applied to revered persons.

Already in the first century, the Jews living in the Middle East acquired in their daily lives the meaning of charisma that had been entrenched into Greco-Roman cults. The Apostle Paul in First Corinthians established the theory that charisma comes from the Holy Spirit when he speaks of "the gift of God's grace." Thus, possessing charisma is the result of possessing God's grace.

In the Epistle of Paul the Apostle to the Romans, Paul makes six references to the divine gift of charisma.⁷ Paul also refers to charisma seven times in the First Epistle of Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians in its singular form charisma and its plural form charismata.⁸ In the Second Epistle of Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians he refers to

⁷ Romans 1:11. "For I long to see you so that I may impart some spiritual gift to you, that you may be established;"

Romans 5:15-16. "But the free gift is not like the transgression. For if by the transgression of the one the many died, much more did the grace of God and the gift by the grace of the one Man, Jesus Christ, abound to the many. The gift is not like that which came through the one who sinned; for on the one hand the judgment arose from one transgression resulting in condemnation, but on the other hand the free gift arose from many transgressions resulting in justification."

Romans 6:23. "For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord."

Romans 11:29. "... for the gifts and the calling of God are irrevocable."

Romans 12:6. "Since we have gifts that differ according to the grace given to us, each of us is to exercise them accordingly: if prophecy, according to the proportion of his faith;"

⁸ First Corinthians 1:7. "... so that you are not lacking in any gift, awaiting eagerly the revelation of our Lord Jesus Christ,"

First Corinthians 7:7. "Yet I wish that all men were even as I myself am. However, each man has his own gift from God, one in this manner, and another in that."

First Corinthians 12:4. "Now there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit."

the charisma gift one time.⁹ In the First Epistle of Paul the Apostle to Timothy there is one reference.¹⁰ In the Second Epistle of Paul the Apostle to Timothy there is one reference¹¹ In the First Epistle of Paul the Apostle to Peter, there is one reference,¹² bringing the total references to seventeen.¹³

The revered figures to whom charisma is applied in the Gospels are Jesus and Mary. Thus, the first Christians understood this appointing of special people as bestowing them with spiritual presence, which, according to the German evangelical philosopher, theologian, and historian Ernst Wilhelm Benz (1907-1978), gave them

"the ability to penetrate the neighbor to the bottom of his heart and spirit and to recognize whether he is dominated by a good or by an evil spirit and the gift to help him to freedom from his demon".¹⁴

Those believing in Yahveh/God saw the characters of the religious persons as possessing a higher perfection, a special charisma.¹⁵ Throughout the following centuries, such an attitude was attributed to institutions such as

First Corinthians 12:9. "... to another faith by the same Spirit, and to another gifts of healing by the one Spirit."

First Corinthians 12:28. "And God has appointed in the church, first apostles, second prophets, third teachers, then miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, administrations, various kinds of tongues."

First Corinthians 12:30-31. "All do not have gifts of healings, do they? All do not speak with tongues, do they? All do not interpret, do they? But earnestly desire the greater gifts. And I show you a still more excellent way.

⁹ Second Corinthians 1:11. "...you also joining in helping us through your prayers, so that thanks may be given by many persons on our behalf for the favor bestowed on us through the prayers of many."

¹⁰ First Timothy 4:14. "Do not neglect the spiritual gift within you, which was bestowed on you through prophetic utterance with the laying on of hands by the presbytery."

¹¹ Second Timothy 1:6. "For this reason I remind you to kindle afresh the gift of God which is in you through the laying on of my hands."

¹² First Peter 4:10. "As each one has received a special gift, employ it in serving one another as good stewards of the manifold grace of God."

the Church, the Synagogue, the Mosque,¹⁶ (because Islam usurped the concept from the Hebrews and Christians), and the monarchy. By the beginning of the seventeenth-century charisma as belonging to the individual became emphasized and this trend culminated in the presentation of the spiritual aspects of charisma in the individual.

Although the first appearance of the term charisma in the English language dates to 1641, and possibly before,¹⁷ by the year 1947, a particular sense developed concerning people, particularly political leaders who had a gift of leadership or a strong sense of power or authority. By the early 1960s, this developed into a sense of strong personal appeal or magnetism, especially with political figures like John Fitzgerald Kennedy (1917-1963) the 35th President of the United States of America (1961-1963).

This development in the meaning of personality charisma was very dependent on the contribution of the German sociologist Max Weber (1864-1920) and his discovery of the subject in Kirchenrecht I Die geschichtlichen Grundlagen (Leipzig: 1892) by Rudolph Sohm (1841-1917). Although Sohm did not use the terminology charisma – he used Gnadengabe (literally spiritual grace or gift of grace) – the subject matter caused a very widespread debate amongst religious scholars throughout the next generation that culminated in Weber's use of the term in both The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism (Die protestantische Ethik und der Geist des Kapitalismus [1904, 1905])¹⁸ and Sociology of Religion (Soziologie der Religion [1920]).¹⁹ Weber did not undertake any extended definition of the term in these works. However, in Economy and Society (Wirtschaft und Gesellschaft [1922]), Weber applied to the term the concept of action he described as being value-rational as being opposed to instrumental rational.²⁰

Charisma as value-rational identified and coincided with Sohm's meaning of the subject and the earlier application to Christianity as something being divinely conferred on persons. Eventually, this appeared in Weber's charisma of the individuality, which he considered delineated a form of authority. This resulted in Weber's classical definition of charisma.

"Charisma is a certain quality of an individual personality by virtue of which he is set apart from ordinary men and treated as endowed with supernatural, superhuman, or at least specifically exceptional powers or qualities. These as such are not accessible to the ordinary person, but are regarded as of divine origin or as exemplary, and on the basis of them the individual concerned is treated as a leader."²¹

Thus, Weber expanded the concept of charisma to conceive it as being superhuman with exceptional qualities and authority. The followers of a person give their leader and guarantee their leader with authority and give him/her "a value-rational" that provides for the validity of one possessing charisma.

Charisma, consequently, is simply that which followers recognize in those leaders whom they treat as being leaders. This may appear ambiguous, yet less ambiguous is the recognition of charisma in the performance outcome of a person in the world of politics.

Politicians who are leaders are seen by their followers as being able to cure all of the ills of the society which they govern. If such a leader's lies are big enough, they will be accepted at the truth by those who are often called sheeple (sheep +people).

The historical example of the big lie is Adolf Hitler's description in his book Mein Kampf where he describes it as a typical propaganda technique of the Jews, which is far from the truth, the reality being that Hitler and his followers converted the German history of anti-Semitism into mass murder, the Holocaust, by arguing that the German BIG LIE that innocent, defeated Germany was forced to become a force against international Jewry, which Adolf Hitler said had started World War I because international Jewry was the real power in Great Britain, the United States of America and Russia. International Jewry wanted to exterminate Germany and therefore, Germany (Hitler's Third Reich) not only had a duty, but a right, to exterminate the Jews in self-defense.

“(The Jews have) an unqualified capacity for falsehood, (I)n the big lie there is always a certain force of credibility; because the broad masses of a nation are always more easily corrupted in the deeper strata of their emotional nature than consciously or voluntarily; and thus in the primitive simplicity of their minds they more readily fall victims to the big lie than the small lie, since they themselves often tell small lies in little matters but would be ashamed to resort to large-scale falsehoods.

It would never come into their heads to fabricate colossal untruths, and they would not believe that others could have the impudence to distort the truth so infamously. Even though the facts which prove this to be so may be brought clearly to their minds, they will still doubt and waver and will continue to think that there may be some other explanation. For the grossly impudent lie always leaves traces behind it, even after it has been nailed down, a fact which is known to all expert liars in this world and to all who conspire together in the art of lying.”²²

THE QUINTESSENCE OF OBAMA'S CHARISMA

Remember the opening statement concerning Barack Hussein Obama as being a leader who is charismatic? A person who is a charismatic politician must have the spiritual gift of being a healer of society's ills. A charismatic healer keeps evil away from the society. Barack Hussein Obama damaged American culture, traditions, and history and destroyed as much of them as he could.

The truth is that Barack Hussein was not a leader. Charismatic he was not!

Barack Hussein Obama was lazy and lazier! Indeed, Barack Hussein Obama was the laziest, except when it came to playing golf.

Barack Hussein Obama lied and lied and lied to all Americans and all the world and the dumbed-downed worshipped him for it.

President Donald J. Trump is not vile.

President Donald J. Trump is not evil.

President Donald J. Trump does not lie.

President Donald J. Trump's origin is not hellish.

President Donald J. Trump is a natural born citizen of the United States of America.

President Donald J. Trump is not an imposter.

Barack Hussein Obama is an impostor.

Barack Hussein Obama is not a natural born citizen of the United States of America.²⁸

²⁸ The Constitution for the United States of America, Section One, Article Two, sets forth the eligibility requirements for serving as president of the United States, under clause 5 (emphasis added):

"No Person except a natural born Citizen, or a Citizen of the United States, at the time of the Adoption of this Constitution, shall be eligible to the Office of President; neither shall any Person be eligible to that Office who shall not have attained to the Age of thirty-five Years, and been fourteen Years a Resident within the United States."

According to Emmerich de Vattel (1714-1767) in his legal work Le Droit des gens (Law of Nations [1758]), the internationally recognized authoritative definition of natural born citizen has always been

"§ 212. Citizens and natives. The citizens are the members of the civil society; bound to this society by certain duties, and subject to its authority, they equally participate in its advantages. The natives, or natural-born citizens, are those born in the country, of parents who are citizens." (<http://www.arky.org/Constitution/IOTC/Lesson%207%202-Natural%20Born%20Citizen.pdf>.)

Barack Hussein Obama's origin is hellish.

Barack Hussein Obama persistently lies.

Lies are the source of evil. Lies originate with people who are evil.

Barack Hussein Obama is evil.

Barack Hussein Obama is vile.

Idiot American DemocRATS and the wicked political Left still honor him.

Barack Hussein Obama is a strutting fopdoodle, gnashnab, gobbermouche, klazomaniac, scobblelotcher, snoutband, stampcrab, whiffle-whaffle, zounderkite, and everything that is contrary to integrity.

In the Book of Psalms (12:8) we read that "The wicked freely strut about when what is vile is honored among men."

This is the quintessence of Barack Hussein Obama's so-called charisma.
