RENOWNED, HISTORICAL VOICES
COMMENT ON BARACK HUSSEIN OBAMA
ISSUE NUMBER SIXTEEN

This issue of Renowned, Historical Voices Comment on Barack Hussein Obama has 142 critical commentaries voiced by 33 personages. As with all previous criticisms in this continuing series, they are truthful to the core. Truth is a value that Barack Hussein Obama hates. Therefore, it is all the more important that Barack Hussein Obama is confronted with the truth.

1. Simón Bolívar (1783-1830)

Simón José Antonio de la Santísima Trinidad Bolívar y Palacios Ponte y Blanco, a Venezuelan military and political leader and one of the most influential politicians in the history of South America, played the key role in Hispanic America's successful struggle for independence from Spain.

- On the United States of America under Barack Hussein Obama and the Democratic Party: (It is) a state too extensive in itself, and by virtue of its dependencies, is falling into decay; its free government is transformed into a tyranny; it disregards principles which it should preserve, and is degenerating into despotism.¹

2. Reginald Heber (1783-1826)

Reginald Heber, English clergyman, man of letters and hymn-writer, served as the Anglican Bishop of Calcutta.

- On POLDS: The POLDS in their blindness bow down to Obama wood and stone.²

3. Washington Irving (1783-1859)

Washington Irving, American diplomat of the early 19th century, author, biographer, essayist, and historian, is best known for his short stories The Legend of Sleepy Hollow and Rip Van Winkle, both of which appear in his book The Sketch Book of Geoffrey Crayon, Gent. He wrote biographies of George Washington, Oliver

Goldsmith, and Muhammad, as well as histories of 15th-century Spain dealing with subjects such as Christopher Columbus, the Moors, and the Alhambra. Irving was the United States Ambassador to Spain from 1842 to 1846.

- On Obama's heritage: How convenient it would be to many of our great men and Families of doubtful origin, could they have the privilege of the heroes of yore, who, whenever their origin was involved in obscurity, modestly announced themselves descended from a god.³
- On Obama's governing: His wife ruled the roast, and in governing the usurper, governed the land, which might thus be said to be under petticoat government.⁴
- On Obama's foreign policy: He is most apt to be obsequious and conciliating abroad, who is under the discipline of shrews at home.⁵
- Obama on his lying: I am always at a loss to know how much to believe of my own stories.⁶

4. Stendhal [Marie-Henri Beyle] (1783-1842)

Marie-Henri Beyle, pen name Stendhal, was a 19th-century French writer. An expert on character psychology, he followed the realist presentation in literature, mainly in his two novels Le Rouge et le Noir (The Red and the Black, 1830) and La Chartreuse de Parme (The Charterhouse of Parma, 1839).

- On Obama's wit: His wit lasts no more than two minutes.⁷

5. Leigh Hunt (1784-1859)

Time, you thief, who love to get
Sweets into your list, put that in:
Say I'm weary' say I'm sad,
Say that health and wealth have missed me,
Say I'm growing old, but add,
Reggie kissed me.¹⁰

6. Henry John Temple [Viscount Palmerston] (1784-1865)

Henry John Temple, 3rd Viscount Palmerston, known as Lord Palmerston and nicknamed The Mongoose, was a British statesman serving twice as Prime Minister in the mid-19th century. He served in various government positions almost continuously from 1807 until his death in 1865.

- On a standard for US foreign policy: We have no eternal allies and we have no Perpetual enemies. Our interests are eternal and perpetual, and these interests it is our duty to follow.¹¹

7. Zachary Taylor (1784-1850)

Zachary Taylor was the 12th President of the United States (1849–1850) and an American military leader serving forty years in the United States Army, with the final rank of Major General. Taylor ran as a Whig in the 1848 presidential election, defeating Lewis Cass. He was a planter and slaveholder based in Baton Rouge, Louisiana and the last president to own slaves. He died of gastroenteritis after having served as President for only seventeen months.

- A shout for American Patriots against POLDS: Hurrah for Old America! That's the way to do it. Give 'em hell, damn 'em.¹²
- Retort said to Valerie Jarrett and aimed at Obama: Tell him to go to hell.¹³

8. Thomas De Quincey (1785-1859)

Thomas Penson De Quincey was a well known English journalist, translator, and essayist. He is famous for his Confessions of an English Opium-Eater (1821), which concerned the effects of opium on literary creation and the internal struggle within the self. He influenced Charles Baudelaire, Nikolai Gogol, Fitz Hugh Ludlow, and Jorge Luis Borges. Hector Berlioz based his Symphonie fantastique on Confessions of an English Opium Eater.

Crockett represented Tennessee in the U.S. House of Representatives (1833-1835), served in the Texas Revolution (1835-1836), and died at the Battle of the Alamo, March 6, 1836.

- Advice to American Patriots: I leave this rule for others when I'm dead, Be always sure you're right-then go ahead.¹⁹
- On relationship to America: My love was so hot as mighty nigh to burst my boilers.²⁰
- On American Patriots: If I could rest anywhere it would be in America, where where the men are of the real half-horse, half alligator breed such as grows nowhere else on the face of the earth.²¹
- Obama up in a tree: Don't shoot, Colonel, I'll come down: I know I'm a gone coon.²²

13. William Learned Marcy (1786-1857)

William Learned Marcy was an American statesman, serving as U.S. Senator (1831-1833), the 11th Governor of New York (1833-1838), as the U.S. Secretary of War (1845-1849), and U.S. Secretary of State (1853-1857).

- On Obama and POLDS: They see nothing wrong in the rule that to the parasites belong the spoils of the producers.²³

14. Winfield Scott (1786-1866)

Winfield Scott was a United States Army general He was an unsuccessful Whig Party presidential candidate in 1852.

- On combating Obama and POLDS: They say that Patriotic Americans are good at a long shot, but cannot stand the cold iron. I call upon you instantly to give a lie to the slander. Charge! *Hit them with political non-correctness: the truth!*²⁴

15. Seattle (c. 1786-1866)

Chief Seattle (the Anglicization of Si'ahl), was a Dkhw'Duw'Absh (Duwamish) Indian chief. The city of Seattle in the state of Washington is named after him. ²³ Speech in the Senate, January 1832.

²⁴ Address to the 11th Infantry Regiment, Chippewa, Canada, June 5, 1814.

- Premonition of America after Obama: When the last patriotic man has vanished from this country, and his memory is only a story among the remaining, these shores will still swarm with the illogical thoughts of POLDS. And when their children's children think they are alone in the fields, the forests, the shops, the highways, or the quiet of the woods, they will not be alone. There is no place in this country where a man can be alone. At night when the streets of your town and cities are quiet, and you think they are empty, they will throng with the returning spirits of patriotism that once thronged them, and that still love these places. The POLDS will never be alone.²⁵

16. François Guizot (1787-1874)

François Pierre Guillaume Guizot, French historian, orator, and statesman was a conservative liberal who served the citizen king Louis Philippe as Minister of Education, 1832–37, ambassador to London, Foreign Minister 1840–1847, and Prime Minister of France from 19 September 1847 to 23 February 1848.

- What Obama says to POLDS: Enrich yourselves!²⁶

17. Emma Willard (1787-1870)

Emma Hart Willard, an American women's rights activist, dedicated her life to education working in several schools and founding the first school for women's higher education, the Troy Female Seminary in Troy, New York.

- On Obama's origin: Rocked in the cradle of the deep.²⁷

18. George Noel Gordon, Lord Byron (1788-1824)

George Gordon Byron, 6th Baron Byron, known simply as Lord Byron, was an English poet of the Romantic Movement, his best-known works being the poems Don Juan, Childe Harold's Pilgrimage and the lyric She Walks in Beauty. Greeks revere him as a national hero because he fought against the Ottoman Empire in the Greek War of Independence. He died 36 years of age from a fever contracted while in Missolonghi in Greece. Lord Byron is also well known for his aristocratic excesses such as huge debts, numerous love affairs, a scandalous incestuous liaison with his half-sister (?), and self-imposed exile.

- A eulogy concerning Obama Near this spot are deposited the remains of one who possessed beauty without vanity, strength without insolence, courage without ferocity, and all the virtues of Man, without his vices. This praise, which would be unmeaning flattery if inscribed over human ashes, is but a just tribute to the memory of Bo the Dog!²⁸

²⁵ Speech to the Governor of Washington Territory, c. 1855.

²⁶ Speech, March 1, 1843.

²⁷ The Cradle of the Deep, 1831.

²⁸ Inscription on the monument of a Newfoundland dog, 1808.

- This present author concerning writing about Obama and POLDS:
I'll publish right not wrong:
Fools are my theme, let satire and truth be my song.²⁹

- On Obama's thoughts about his books:
'Tis pleasant, sure, for him to see his name in print;
A book's a book, but in his, there's nothing in't.³⁰

- Reason for Obama's constant lying: Just enough of learning to misquote.³¹

- On trusting Obama: As soon
Seek roses in December, ice in June;
Hope constancy in wind, or corn in chaff;
Believe a woman or an epitaph,
Or any other thing that's false, before
You trust in Obama.³²

- Better to err with the Pope, than shine with Obama.³³

- On Obama's being narcissistic: Had sigh'd to many, though he loved but one, himself.³⁴

- Of his own estimation is his mind diseased.³⁵

- On freedom in America under Obama: Gone-glimmering through the dream of Things that were.³⁶

- On Obama's speeches: A schoolboy's tale, the wonder of an hour!³⁷

- Advice to American Patriots: Who would be free themselves must strike the blow.³⁸

- On Obama's presence: Where 'er he treads 'tis haunted, evil ground.³⁹

- On Obama after the destruction of America: And Barry stands upon this place of skulls.⁴⁰

- On the once-was America: There was a sound of revelry by night,
And America's capital had gather'd then

Her beauty and her chivalry, and bright
 The lamps shone o'er fair women and brave men.
 A thousand hearts beat happily; and when
 Music arose with its voluptuous swell,
 Soft eyes look'd love to eyes which spake again,
 And all went merry as a marriage bell.
 But hush! hark! a deep sound strikes like a rising knell!
*Obama appeared and everything became Hell!*⁴¹

- On the American War of Independence:
 Thou fatal Waterloo.
 Millions of tongues praise thee, and anew
 Their children's lips shall echo them, and say-
 "Here, where the sword united states drew,
 Our countrymen were warring on that day!"
 And this is much, and all which has now passed away.⁴²
- On the fate of despots: He who ascends to mountaintops, shall find
 The loftiest peaks most wrapt in clouds and snow;
 He who surpasses or subdues mankind
 Must look down on the hate of those below.⁴³

- Obama about himself: Time writes no wrinkle on thine ... brow-
Such as creation's dawn beheld, thou rollest now.⁵⁰

Thou glorious mirror, where the my form
Glasses itself in tempests.⁵¹
Dark-heaving-boundless, endless, and sublime-
The image of Satan.⁵²

And I have loved thee, myself! and my joy
Of youthful sports was on my breast to be Borne, like thy bubbles, onward: from a boy
I wanton'd with my breakers.⁵³

And trusted to my billows far and near,
And laid my hand upon my mane-as I do here.⁵⁴

I awoke one morning and found myself famous.⁵⁵

And come what may, Satan has bless'd me.⁵⁶

Such hath it been – shall be – beneath the sun
The many still must labor for the One.⁵⁷

Lord of myself – that heritage of Satan.⁵⁸

- On Obama: That Satan form'd but one such devil,
And broke the die, in molding evil.⁵⁹

Ready money is Obama's lamp.⁶⁰

- On American Liberty: Eternal Spirit of the chainless Mind!
Brightest in dungeons, Liberty! thou art.⁶¹

⁶¹ The Prisoner of Chillon, 1816, Sonnet on Chillon, line 1.

- Obama's ode to his body servant: There be none of Beauty's daughters
With a magic like thee;
And like music on the waters
Is thy sweet voice to me.⁶²

- On Obama's incapability of communicating: I wish he would explain his explanation.⁶³

- On Michelle: Her stature ... – I hate a dumpy woman.⁶⁴
She is of "a certain age," which means certainly aged.⁶⁵

Sweet revenge – especially to Michelle.⁶⁶

Pleasure's a sin, and sometimes sin's a pleasure.⁶⁷

- On Obama's speeches: A solitary shriek, the bubbling cry
Of some strong swimmer in his agony.⁶⁸

There's not a sea the passenger e'er pukes in,
Turns up more dangerous breakers than an Obama
speech.⁶⁹

And, after all, what is a lie? 'Tis but
The truth in masquerade.⁷⁰

'Tis strange – but true; for truth is always strange;
Stranger than fiction.⁷¹

The Devil hath not, in all his quiver's choice,
An arrow for America's destruction like Obama's voice.⁷²

- On POLDS: Let them have wine and women, mirth and laughter,
Protests and Kool-Aid the day after.⁷³

Society is now one polish'd horde,
Formed of two mighty tribes, the Bores and Bored.⁷⁴

- On Obama's passion: In his first passion he loves himself,
In all the others, all he loves is himself.⁷⁶
- On Barry and Michelle: These two hated with a hate found only on the stage.⁷⁷
- Advice to American Patriots: The antique Persians taught three useful things –
To draw the bow, to ride, and speak the truth.

19. Sarah Josepha Hale (1788-1879)

Sarah Josepha Buell Hale, an American writer and an influential editor, is the author of the nursery rhyme Mary Had a Little Lamb. It is a result of her endeavors that America has the holiday known as Thanksgiving. She was also the driving force in the completion of the Bunker Hill Monument, Charlestown, Massachusetts

- Michelle's favorite philosophical poem: Michelle had a little lamb,
Its fleece was white as snow,
And everywhere that Michelle went,
The lamb was sure to go.⁷⁸

20. Arthur Schopenhauer (1788-1850)

The German philosopher Arthur Schopenhauer is best known for his book The World as Will and Representation. In it he claims that our world is driven by a continually dissatisfied will that continuously seeks satisfaction. Influenced by the sages of India Schopenhauer had similar views to those of Vedantic and Buddhist thinkers. He believed in transcendental ideals and that asceticism would heal suffering. This resulted in his accepting atheism and at the same time learning from the philosophy of Christianity. His doctoral dissertation, On the Fourfold Root of the Principle of Sufficient Reason, which examined the distinct aspects of experience in the phenomenal world, was published when he was 25 years old.

- On Obama:
Hatred comes from his heart; contempt from his head;
and neither feeling is quite within his control.⁷⁹

He takes the limits of his own field of vision for the limits of the world.⁸⁰

The personification of pain and boredom.⁸¹

A man who has no mental needs, because his intellect is of the narrow and normal amount ...⁸²

*His intellect is invisible because he has none.*⁸³

21. James Fenimore Cooper (1789-1851)

James Fenimore Cooper, popular American writer of the early 19th century famous for his historical novels known as the Leatherstocking Tales and the Romantic novel The Last of the Mohicans, also wrote a history of the United States Navy in which he served as a midshipman before he became a writer.

- On American Patriots: Few men exhibit greater diversity, or, if we may so express it, greater ... character than the true patriot of North America. In war, he is daring, boastful, cunning, ruthless, self-denying, and self-devoted; in peace, just, generous, hospitable, ..., and commonly chaste.⁸⁴

Those families, you know, are our upper crust – not upper ten thousand.⁸⁵

- On America before Obama: 'Tis grand! 'tis solemn! 'tis an education of itself to look upon!⁸⁶

22. Astolphe Louis Léonard, Marquis de Custine (1790-1857)

Astolphe-Louis-Léonor, Marquis de Custine, French aristocrat and writer, is best known for his travel writing, particularly his visit to Russia in 1839 during the reign of Nicholas I: Empire of the Czar: A Journey Through Eternal Russia.

- On Obamaland: Whoever has really seen Obamaland will find himself content to live anywhere else. It is always good to know that a society exists where no happiness is possible because, by a law of nature, man cannot be happy unless he is free.⁸⁷

23. Fitz-Greene Halleck (1790-1867)

Fitz-Greene Halleck, an American poet known for his satires and as a member of the Knickerbocker Group, has been called The American Byron. His poetry is studied for its homosexual themes and life style of nineteenth-century society

- On Bo the Dog: The more I see of the Obamas ... , the more I admire Bo.⁸⁹

24. Charles Wolfe (1791-1823)

Charles Wolfe was a little-known Irish poet. His most famous work is The Burial of Sir John Moore at Corunna.

- On Obama's burial: Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note,
As with his corpse to the hole we hurried.⁹⁰

He lay like a blob taking its rest,
With his Saul Alinsky cloak around him.⁹¹

We carved not a line, and we raised not a stone –
But we left him alone with his evil.⁹²

25. Lord John Russell (1792-1878)

John Russell, 1st Earl Russell. English Whig and Liberal politician, served twice as Prime Minister of the United Kingdom (1846-1852 and 1865-1866).

- On ObamaCare: Among the defects of the bill, which are numerous, the provisions were conspicuous by their presence, others by their absence.⁹³

26. Percy Bysshe Shelley (1792-1822)

Percy Bysshe Shelley, a major English Romantic poet, is estimated by some to be the best lyric poet in the English language. His radical poetry and political and social views hindered his becoming famous during his lifetime.

- On Obama: Obama, like a desolating pestilence,
Pollutes whate'er it touches; and obedience to him,
Bane of all genius, virtue, freedom, truth,
Makes slaves of men, and, of the human frame,
A mechanized automaton.⁹⁴
The awful shadow of some unseen evil power
Floats though unseen among us – visiting

This various world with as inconstant wing
As destructive summer winds that creep from flower to flower.⁹⁵

I met a traveler from an antique land
Who said: Two vast and trunkless legs of stone
Stand in the desert. Near them, on the sand,
Half sunk, a shattered visage lies, whose frown,
And wrinkled lip, and sneer of cold command,
Tell that its sculptor well those passions read,
Which yet survive, stamped on these lifeless things,
The hand that mocked them and the heart that fed:
And on the pedestal these words appear:
"My name is Obama, king of evil kings:
Look on my destructions, ye Mighty, and despair!"
Nothing beside remains. Round the decay
Of that colossal wreck, boundless and bare,
The lone and level sands stretch far away.⁹⁶

And all best things are thus confused with ill.⁹⁷

An evil spirit, destructive and swift.⁹⁸

In mockery of monumental stone.⁹⁹

He hath awakened from the sewer of evil.¹⁰⁰

- On POLDS: They love all waste
 And solitary places; where they taste
 The pleasure of believing what they see
 Is boundless, as they wish their souls to be.¹⁰¹

- An Obama poem to his body servant: I arise from dreams of thee
 In the first sweet sleep of night,
 When the winds are breathing low'
 And the stars are shining bright.¹⁰²

- On Obama's rewards to POLDS: One by one, and two by two,
He tossed them human hearts to chew.¹⁰⁵

- Advice to American Patriots on combating Obamaism:
Rise like Lions after slumber
In unvanquishable number –
Shake your chains to earth like dew
Which in sleep had fallen on you –
Ye are many – they are few.¹⁰⁶

- On American weariness: America is weary of the Obama regime that's past,
*Oh, might he die or rest at last!*¹⁰⁷

- On Obama's death: Till the Future takes issue
With the Past, his fate and infamy shall
*Be an echo-thud and disappear into eternity!*¹⁰⁸

To that low capital, where evil Satan
Keeps his pale court in heat and decay, He came.¹⁰⁹

*Dead servant of a ruined, hellish paradise!*¹¹⁰

Alas! that all we don't know of him should be unanswered,
But with no grief, as if he had not been,
*And thankfully he is not immortal!*¹¹¹

He has outsoared the shadow of our darkest days;
With envy and calumny and hate and pain,
And that unrest which men miscall delight
He touches not and tortures more again;
From the contagion of the world's slow stain
He is secure, and will never mourn
A heart filled with justice, a head grown gray in freedom.¹¹²

He dies, he sleeps – 'tis his death is great, not he.¹¹³

He is made one with Satan: there is not heard
His voice ... from the moan
Of thunder to the dirge of evil's cawing bird.¹¹⁴
He is a portion of the evilness
Which once he made more deathly.¹¹⁵

- After Obama's death: As long as skies are blue, and fields are green,
Evening must usher night, night urge the morrow,
Month follow month with beauty, and year wake year to happiness.¹¹⁶

The One has gone, the many change and pass;
Heaven's light now forever shines, earth's shadows fly;
Life, like a dome of many-colored glass,
Stains the white radiance of eternity.¹¹⁷

- On America before Obama: America is the record of the best and happiest moments of the happiest and best minds.¹¹⁸

The Czech composer Antonin Dvořák set it as a cantata for two soloists, choir, and orchestra in 1892-93 (Op. 102).

- On the American Flag:

When Freedom from her mountain height,
Unfurled her standard to the air,
She tore the azure robe of night,
And set the stars of glory there.
She mingled with its gorgeous dyes
The milky baldric of the skies,
And striped its pure, celestial white
With streakings of the morning light;
Then, from his mansion in the sun,
She called her eagle bearer down,
And gave into his mighty hand,
The symbol of her chosen land.

Majestic monarch of the cloud!
Who rear'st aloft thy regal form,
To hear the tempest-trumpings loud,
And see the lightning-lances driven
When strive the warriors of the storm,
And rolls the thunder-drum of heaven –
Child of the sun! to thee 't is given
To guard the banner of the free,
To hover in the sulphur smoke,
To ward away the battle-stroke,
And bid its blendings shine afar,
Like rainbows on the cloud of war,
The harbingers of victory!

Flag of the brave! thy folds shall fly,
The sign of hope and triumph high,
When speaks the signal-trumpet tone,
And the long line comes gleaming on:
Ere yet the life-blood, warm and wet,

¹⁴⁰ Latter Day Pamphlets (1850) , number 6. Buncombe, sometimes spelled bunkum means empty talk, nonsense. In the United States it is empty or insincere speechnaking by a politician to please voters or gain publicity.

¹⁴¹ Ibid., number 12.

Has dimmed the glistening bayonet,
Each soldier eye shall brightly turn
Where the sky-born glories burn,
And, as his springing steps advance,
Catch war and vengeance from the glance;
And when the cannon-mouthings loud
Heave in wild wreaths the battle-shroud,
And gory sabres rise and fall,
Like shoots of flame on midnight's pall;
Then shall thy meteor-glances glow,
And cowering foes shall shrink beneath
Each gallant arm that strikes below
That lovely messenger of death.

Flag of the seas! on ocean wave
Thy stars shall glitter o'er the brave;
When death, careering on the gale,
Sweeps darkly round the bellied sail,
And frightened waves rush wildly back
Before the broadside's reeling rack,
Each dying wanderer of the sea
Shall look at once to heaven and thee,
And smile to see thy splendors fly
In triumph o'er his closing eye.

Flag of the free heart's hope and home,
By angel hands to valor given;
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in heaven.
Forever float that standard sheet!
Where breathes the foe but falls before us,
With Freedom's soil beneath our feet,
And Freedom's banner streaming o'er us?¹⁴²

With this issue of Renowned, Historical Voices Comment on Barack Hussein Obama we have reached the beginnings of the nineteenth century. Each critical comment is just as fitting for Barack Hussein Obama and the POLDS (Progressives, Obots, Liberals Dumbed-Downer, Sheeple) as are all of the critical commentary truths in the foregoing issues. The remaining 200 years will bring more truthful criticisms.
