

THE DEMOCRAT PARTY BECOMES COMMUNIST

PART ONE: THE GROUNDWORK

OPENING STATEMENT

If something is becoming, it is considered to be good. The Democrat Party thinks that communism is good for them, but not only for them. They are convinced that being communist is also good for the United States of America. That is the reason they want to extinguish the American Republic. The meaning of become in the title of this essay series is the sense of to look good with communism and to have the Democrat Party¹ develop into communism so that the fates of the two political movements democracy and communism are intertwined and eventually develop into the oneness of communism.

The Democrat Party's anti-American principles and politics began with the creation of the Ku Klux Klan (the Invisible Empire of the South) that was founded in Pulaski, Tennessee on December 24, 1865, by frustrated Southerners and the former Confederate Army officers Frank McCord, J. Calvin Jones, James Crowe, John B. Kennedy, John Lester, and Richard Reed, supported by Southern politicians after the Civil War (1861-1865).²

It is not uncommon nowadays to read or hear that Black Lives Matter and Antifa, as well as the lawless mobs in Democrat Party-run American cities, and the socialist wing in politics are now in control of the Democrat Party. I argue that the Democrat Party is in control of Black Lives Matter, Antifa, the lawless mob, and socialists. The situation is that the MOB (The Democrat Party) is controlling the mob. Mob politics is a presentation of democracy in its base form. American politicians should know the difference between a democracy and a republic. In reality, they do not have any concept of the difference. The United States of America is a republic with some characteristics of democracy, such as voting and electing persons as public office representatives.

² I was unable to locate documentation that shows John Kennedy as being related to the Kennedy family of Massachusetts. Kennedy is a Gaelic word meaning ugly visage. Surely the KKK was/is ugly in its socio-political visage.

Furthermore, the term democracy is never stated in the Constitution for the United States of America. It is not in The Declaration of Independence. Also, the term democracy is not used in any of the 50 state constitutions. In its base form, democracy is mob rule, and the Democrat Party is the MOB ruling the mob!³

Three famous Greek philosophers believed that democracy is a flawed form of government. They are Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle.

Socrates (470-399 BC) was anti-democracy because he said that the voters are often too dumb or are dumbed-down by sweet-talking politicians and political parties so that the voters will vote what the leaders tell them to vote. Moreover, the majority vote in political decisions wins. Minorities have no recourse to justice. Socrates was condemned to death by a majority vote of the Athenians on false charges of godlessness and corrupting the minds of the Athenian youth whom he had taught to believe according to their own logic.

Plato (428/427-348/347 BC), in his book The Republic, argues that democracy is a form of government that will lead to a declining state and cause a political atmosphere that will give way to a dictatorship. Oddly enough, communism regards this position as a development in a democracy that will lead to communism and the dictatorship of the proletariat; mob rule controlled by the political vanguard party, the MOB.

Aristotle (384-322 BC) argued that in a pure democracy, the will of the people takes precedence over the rule of law, regardless of the perfect ethics and morals of the law. It allows for the tyranny of the majority over the minority. It is necessary that a rule of ethical and moral law must govern in such a situation. In a republic, minority rights are protected.

"In a pure democracy, the will of the majority is sovereign, not the law, not the state. If the people decide someone should be executed, they are executed and no law against capital punishment can stop that. If the people decide that a person or company's assets should be seized, again, the fact that this requires tearing up the law book is irrelevant."⁴

Because the American government system consists of characteristics traceable to democracy and republic such as voting, we can call the functioning American system, at the very most, a democratic republic with the emphasis on republic. In a republic, the individual citizens hold the power of government. Laws are made by elected officials.

In a democracy, there are no constraints on the government. In a republic, there are constraints on the government through a constitution. The voting majority in a democracy has unlimited power to make laws and do not allow minority rights. In a republic, the people elect representatives to make the laws, and minority rights are guaranteed. A democracy will inevitably end in mob rule. A republic will continue to exist in guaranteed freedoms and the non-existence of a mob.

In a proper functioning government, it is essential that minority rights be guaranteed by ethical and moral laws. The Democrat Party has a long history of disregarding this fact, which has led to anti-American stances throughout American history.

The Democrat Party's anti-American actions and policies begin with the creation of the Ku-Klux-Klan founded by frustrated Southern soldiers, slaveowners, and politicians after the Civil War.

Since the turn of the 19th to the 20th century, the Democrat Party has always been socialist-oriented!⁵ Do not forget: socialism is the step before final communism!

FUNDAMENTAL PLANNING

Karl Marx (1818-1883) was a 19th-century philosopher who argued that history goes through stages, marked by a conflict he called the class struggle. In each stage, he maintained that a relative few were oppressors and the bulk of humanity were oppressed. Who the oppressors were and who the oppressed were was determined by who controlled the means of production, and that decided who held the economic upper hand. This would change over time and, ultimately, lead to the establishment of communism, which developed into a vanguard of the proletariat (working class) as the new oppressors exploiting and oppressing the bulk of humanity, first in Russia, then in China, Eastern Europe, Southeast Asia, and Latin and South America.

According to Marx, the development of human history is the development of the struggle of the classes, the beginning stage of which is primitive tribalism followed respectively by rudimentary cities, feudal agrarianism, capitalist industrialism, and finally the socialist collective: communism.

THE STRUGGLE OF THE CLASSES

Karl Marx stated that at every stage of historical development, people organize into communities. These communities are defined by how goods are produced, which Marx calls the means of production, and the role of each member of the community in producing goods, which Marx terms the division of labor. In Marx's view, those who control the means of production will ultimately oppress those who work for the controllers. Marx predicted that labor would be the chief means of production which would lead to the dictatorship by the working class, or in Marxist terms, the dictatorship of the proletariat: communism.⁶ The proletariat is the working class. However, human society would experience several transition phases.

⁵ Kevin D. Williamson, has written an interesting essay titled The Socialist Party Reborn at <https://de.scribd.com/document/419271644/National-Review-July-8-2019-pdf>, accessed on 24 September 2020.

⁶ It is interesting to note that dictatorship of the proletariat could also mean that the leaders would dictate over the proletariat.

PRIMITIVE TRIBALISM

The beginning stage in the historical development of society/communities is the core family composed of the father, the mother, and the offspring. The core family is augmented by extended family relations. These core families and relatives will eventually band together and form a tribe. With the increase of the population, other tribes with families will become part of the greater society. The tribes in this greater society will come in contact with other neighboring society tribes and conflict will ensue. The stronger tribe will take captives when battles and wars are fought. These captives will become slaves to the more powerful tribe. This stage is the beginning of the struggle of classes.

RUDIMENTARY CITIES

Eventually, tribes begin to merge for more effective defense and divisions of labor. Marx calls the formation of these rudimentary cities primitive communism because, in the early stages, goods are held in common.

Tribes that find themselves threatened by tribes from other cultures and regions will form into primitive sites for defensive purposes. The more effective defenses give rise to divisions of labor to provide for the efficiency of the rudimentary cities.

The leaders of these rudimentary cities will delegate specific duties to the city inhabitants. The division of labor brings with it the creation of wealth and private property. At this stage, the city is divided into classes, mainly those who provide their labor and those who control and direct labor, i.e., the means of production.

City leaders and counsels assign people to specific tasks, dividing the available labor in ways that seem most efficient to them. In the later stages of this period, the idea of private property takes hold. As this happens, the society is divided into classes comprised of those who provide labor and those who direct, or control, the means of production. The atmosphere is thus created for the great possibility of a kind of slavery,⁷ the exploitation of the labor-providing class, the working class.

⁷ This was not the case with the rise of Islam. Islamic conquerors made the people they subdued their slaves because Muhammad said it is Allah's will/command. Moreover, slavery for Muslims was and still is a source of financial profit to guarantee the establishment and spread of Islam.

Eventually, the controllers will possess large land holdings, buildings, and factories that were created by the exploitation of the working class. The controllers/directors increase their wealth by allowing laborers to cultivate their land and work for them in factories. In cities, guilds become established so that the workers can be controlled by regulating who can enter a guild and who can work when and where. This is the beginning stage of capitalism because the guilds accumulate money and equipment and monopolies of the trades and workers.

FEUDAL AGRARIANISM

Eventually, a small number of individuals control large estates and land-holdings. These people increase their wealth by allowing small groups of laborers to cultivate and live on small portions of their land. The laborers turn over a part of what they produce to the landowner. In urban areas, trade guilds, or small groups of workers in a specialty trade such as blacksmithing, arise. These guilds control who can enter the trade and where they can work.

CAPITALIST INDUSTRIALISM

Marx said the society is built on the trading of goods and commodities in order to gain a profit. The commercial increase in the trades will lead to the creation of industrial concerns. Only those persons who have large capital funds can afford to construct such firms. To sell the products of these firms/factories, small shops will come into existence, and a small class of mercantilists will come into being. Marx called these mercantilists the bourgeois. The worker thus becomes a commodity that the capitalist buys and sells.

COMMUNISM

The socialist collective will develop out of the industrial capitalism stage. In the socialist collective, every person – there are no controllers – shares in owning the means of production. They freely give – (in actuality, they are forced) – to give their labor to reap the rewards of the wealth they produce. The previous stages have already taken place in history. What follows is this final stage, the socialist collective: communism. The experience people have undergone in this last stage of the communist form of governing society is nothing more than control and exploitation par excellence.

TROTSKY AND THE DEMOCRAT PARTY IN NEW YORK CITY

Lev Davidovich Bronstein (1879-1940), also known as Leon Trotsky, was a World War I correspondent for the Russian newspaper Kievskaya Mysl. On November 19, 1914, Trotsky moved to France. In Paris, in 1915, he began the editorship of the internationalist socialist newspaper Nashe Slovo (Our Word). Trotsky's slogan throughout the war was peace without indemnities or annexations, peace without conquerors or conquered. Vladimir Illyich Ulyanov (1870-1924), also known as Vladimir Lenin, on the other hand, advocated Russia's defeat in the war. Therefore, he demanded a complete termination of relationships with the Second Communist International and subsequently threatened the formation of a Third (Communist) International that he eventually formed in Moscow in 1919. It lasted until 1943.

Trotsky stayed with the Second (Communist) International and attended the Zimmerwald Conference (Zimmerwald, Switzerland) of the anti-war socialists in September 1915. Trotsky proposed a middle position to accommodate both those who would leave the Second International and Lenin. The Zimmerwald Conference adopted Trotsky's suggestion. Although at first opposed, Lenin voted for in favor of Trotsky's position in order not to cause a rift among the anti-war socialists.

The French Government did not take to Trotsky's anti-war activities and propaganda. The Government deported him from France to Spain on March 31, 1916. Not wanting him in Spain, the authorities deported him to the United States of America on December 25, 1916, which was not much of a Christmas present for the country. Arriving in New York City on January 13, 1917, Leon Trotsky stayed approximately three months at 1522 Vyse Avenue in the Bronx. While in New York, he wrote articles for Novy Mir (New World), a socialist newspaper in Russian, and translated for the Yiddish Der Forverts (The Forward). He also gave speeches to Russian émigrés.

When the February Revolution that overthrew Czar Nicholas II (1868-1918, Czar from 1894) broke out in 1917, Trotsky was still in New York City. Upon receiving news of the revolution in Russia, Trotsky set sail for Russia as quickly as he could, departing New York on March 27, 1917. His ship, the SS Kristianiafjord, was captured by the British at Halifax, Nova Scotia. Trotsky was interned for a month in the Amherst

Internment Camp in Nova Scotia, where he was detained as a German agent because he wanted to stop the war with Germany. When the Russian Foreign Minister demanded his release because he was a Russian citizen, the British Government allowed him to continue to Russia on April 29, 1917. He arrived in Russia on May 4, 1917.

In addition to many of his activist speeches calling for communist revolution in Russia, Europe, and the United States of America that he gave in New York City, Trotsky undertook efforts to persuade the local Democrat Party organization to take the side of the Russian Communist Party in international politics. He received financial support from members of the Democrat Party, some of them wealthy Jewish people of Russian origin who also wished the Czar be deposed because his family had persecuted Russian Jews. Among the backers of Trotsky and the Russian Revolution were the American Red Cross and J. P. Morgan (1837-1913), George W. Perkins (1862-1920; Morgan's partner), John Ryan (Head of the National City Bank), John D. Rockefeller (1829-1937), Andrew Carnegie (1835-1919), and Jacob Heinrich Schiff, (1847-1920) head of the New York investment firm Kuhn, Loeb and Co. Jacob Heinrich Schiff, an ancestor of Adam Schiff (1960-20XX), the Democrat Congressional representative from California was one of the main backers of the Bolshevik revolution [20,000,000 dollars (?)] and personally financed Trotsky's trip from New York to Russia (10,000 dollars). Jacob Heinrich Schiff was a leading contributor to Woodrow Wilson's presidential campaign and an advocate for the passage of the Federal Reserve Act.⁸

On March 26, 1917, Trotsky gave a speech before approximately one thousand people the night before his departure.

"I am going back to Russia to overthrow the Provisional Government and stop the war with Germany and allow no interference from any outside government. ... I want you people here to organize and keep on organizing until you are able to overthrow this damned, rotten, capitalistic Government of this country."⁹

Although Leon Trotsky left America the next day and traveled under a passport provided him at the direction of the Democrat President Woodrow Wilson (1865-1924, President 1913-1921), the British felt Trotsky's desire to stop the war with Germany was grounds enough to cause his delay, and they interned him as a German agent. It is interesting to note that Trotsky had between 35-40 associates as traveling companions who had the same political inclinations that Trotsky had.

American Democrat Party members did organize enough to get Franklin Delano Roosevelt (1882-1945) elected as President (1933-1945) and institute socialist-communist policies in the United States of America to "overthrow this damned, rotten, capitalistic Government of this country." Diana West, in her book American Betrayal The Secret Assault on Our Nation's Character, details Franklin Delano Roosevelt's socialist-communist leanings and convictions. In many instances, he was more communist than the Russian communist leader Joseph Stalin (1879-1953).¹⁰

Continuing Leon Trotsky's wish for communist organizing in the United States, already in 1944, Alexander Trachtenberg (1884-1966), the American Socialist-Communist once said at a private dinner after a meeting of the United States Communist Party in Madison Square Garden, New York City:

"When we get ready to take the United States, we will not take it under the label of communism; we will not take it under the label socialism. These labels are unpleasant to the American people, and have been speared too much. We will take the United States under labels we have made very lovable; we will take it under

RECENT COMMUNIST ADVANCES IN AMERICAN POLITICS

Leon Trotsky's and the Democrat Party's legacy from the twentieth century – "overthrow this damned, rotten, capitalistic Government of this country." – gave the United States of America the socialist-communist-dictator-president Barack Hussein Obama. Moreover, the present Mayor of New York City, Bill de Blasio (born Warren Williams, Jr, 1961), is an avowed communist member of the Democrat Party.¹² The Marxist Terry McAuliffe (1957-20XX) served as Virginia governor between 2014 and 2018. He won the Virginia gubernatorial seat with voter fraud on a Democrat Party ticket.¹³ A conservative estimate by Congressional representative Allen West in 2012 was that there were approximately 80 socialists/communists on the Democrat Party ticket who were members of the United States Congress.¹⁴ Trevor Loudon of New Zealand lists the following 50 members of Congress who are socialist-communists.

Dodd (1904-1969) a high-ranking United States Communist Party official said at a lecture at Fordham University in the early 1950s: "In 1944 there was a national convention in Madison Square Garden for the Communist Party where I was elected openly to the National Committee. During that convention, there were many people that came from all over the United States. One of the social events that I attended was a dinner given by Alexander Trachtenberg who is a known Socialist and graduate of Yale, and a millionaire who was the head of the publishing firm for the Communists. At the end of the evening (at a private dinner), Trachtenberg rose and made a little speech. He said, 'when we get ready to take the United States we will not take it under the label of Communism. We will not take it under the label of Socialism. Because such labels are unpleasant to the American people. We will take the United States under labels which we have made very lovable. We'll take it under Liberalism, under Progressivism and under Democracy. But take it we will.'"

According to Trevor Loudon of <https://www.trevorloudon.com/>, there are presently at least 65 apparent socialists/communists in the United States Congress. Of utmost importance is Loudon's new book WHITE HOUSE REDS: Communists, Socialists & Security Risks Running for US President, 2020.

Throughout the last century the politics of the Democrat Party's subversive and anti-American character identity political agenda have brought upon Americans the spectre that is Barack Hussein Obama (1961?-20XX), Joe Biden (1942-20XX), Nancy Pelosi (1940-20XX), Black Lives Matter, and Antifa, etc., who with their criminal associates are changing the freedoms and prosperity that Americans are beginning to enjoy under President Donald J. Trump. They want a system of state control by the perversion that is socialism-communism. They are traitors who are destroying American cities, businesses, and private homes with (peaceful) terror, (peaceful) violent demonstrations, and (peaceful) murder. They are taking over American business with unconstitutional legislation developed behind closed doors to the American public. They openly support socialist-communist-Marxist ideology and programs, the antithesis of America's constitutional foundations and its Judeo-Christian heritage. The Democrat Party has brought America subversion from within, which is subversion against the Constitution for the United States of America and its goals. The situation of the Democrat Party turning socialist-communist and the emergence of the charlatan, snake oil salesperson Barack Hussein Obama and the shills of the Democrat Party, such as Nancy Pelosi (1940-20XX), Charles (Chuck) Schumer (1950-20XX), Adam Schiff (1960-20XX), Jerry Nadler (1947-20XX), Maxine Waters (1938-20XX), etc., was summed up approximately 100 years ago. The following quotation refers to the Bolshevik Party and Communist Russia. By substituting these words with the appropriate replacements in red regarding the Democrat Party we read the following adapted text:

"During modern times the effort of civilization has been directed to lifting mankind to the highest possible level of intelligence and social material wellbeing, in order to attain the highest degree of social equality between man and man. For the first time since the Dark Ages has a political party undertaken to invoke a process of equalization by establishing as the basis of social equality the minimum rather than the maximum degree of existing educational, industrial, social, and moral efficiency, yet such is the policy of the Democrat Party. It recognizes that the psychology of even the most illiterate elements of the American people is such that it cannot perpetuate this doctrine in practice unless the same reactionary methods of equalization are simultaneously destroying the social fabric, the efficiency, the individual initiative, the ambition, and the material prosperity of the peoples of all other nations, whose competition and accomplishments would necessarily result in odious and destructive comparisons. Not content therefore in fathering in America, this retrograde method of establishing the equality of mankind on the basis of the lowest strata of society, it has undertaken to arouse in the United States and in all other countries resentment, rancor, and hatred against those elements of society which have, by reason of their aptitude, perseverance, industry, and thrift attained that superior degree of intelligence and prosperity that has made possible the accomplishments of twenty-first century civilization. The effort of progressing civilization has always been the uplifting of man to a higher and higher plane of living and a loftier place in society.

The activities of the Democrat Party's present-day Marxists-Communists constitute a complete repudiation of modern civilization and the promulgation of the doctrine that the best attainment of the most backward member of society shall be the level at which mankind shall find its final and victorious goal. Communism is presented as the doctrine of their new kind of civilization. To carry this message to the uttermost parts of the earth they have appropriated enormous sums of money, and enlisted the aid of millionaires and billionaires intent on establishing a New World Order that will have the aim of destroying the United States of America. Their messengers and their friends have afflicted this country, and their concept of a new civilization has been represented as Utopian in its nature. Many well-disposed persons have been deceived into the belief that they are promoting a social welfare movement in advocating it. They have even given their substance that it might be perpetuated and extended.

Yet, while these people who have been popularly called Reformers and anti-Trumpers are contributing to these Democrat Party agents, these same agents are appealing to the hatred and the lowest instincts of the more ignorant elements of the population, who have been dumbed down over the last three generations by the Democrat Party policies taught by professors at leftist universities and reinforced by the criminally inclined, to whom the doctrine of confiscation furnishes a form of legalized robbery and a means of livelihood without physical or mental effort, to rise en masse and destroy our civilization and the so-called bourgeoisie with whom, of course, must be classed these same Democrat Party supporters who are assisting, by lending funds and respectability to the movement, in bringing the temple down upon their own heads."¹⁶

One should note that the meaning of socialism in the 1920s and much later in Europe differed significantly from what was propagated in the Soviet Union in the twentieth century. Thus, the European socialist thinkers were distinguished by their emphasis on creating a new social order in their societies, which would rest on the economic and social conception of human rights. The present vision differed significantly from the dominant monarchist rule that prevailed in Europe into the nineteenth century. Hence, socialists were juxtaposed to the proponents of the individual initiative to promote the social system opposite that of favoring the laissez faire economics.¹⁷

Yet, it is a fact, not a concocted fact like those that are always coming out of the various lying mouths of Democrats, that someone like Barack Hussein Obama could get elected only shows how far the United States of America has intellectually degenerated – in the common terminology, has been dumbed down.

American society has been dumbed down since the beginning of the 20th century. This development is easily recognizable when we look at the status of reading, writing, and arithmetic in the American school system before being dumbed down and after being dumbed down. In 1900, an American high schooler could read and understand texts that the average high schooler cannot read fluently and comprehend today. One-hundred-plus years ago, the high schoolers could write grammatically correct texts with appropriate words, phrases, and terminologies. Such texts are practically incomprehensible for the average high schooler today. Mathematical problems at the beginning of the 20th century could be solved most easily. The same mathematical problems often cannot be understood by present-day high schoolers.¹⁸

This dumbing down was even advanced by the Department of Education under the leadership of the 41st President of the United States of America George H. W. Bush (1924-2018, President 1989-1993), who agreed with Michail Sergejewitsch Gorbatschow (1931-20XX)¹⁹ that the United States educational system should be adjusted to the Soviet Union's educational system.²⁰

Every great nation falls from within, and so it is with America now under the Democrat Party and its social betterers Black Lives Matter and Antifa!. The country was at an apex of collapsing from within under Barack Hussein Obama. Because more than fifty percent of the American populace is brain dead when it comes to political awareness, the process is voluntary. Americans have betrayed the fundamental principles of liberty on which this most magnificent nation was founded. Freedom of speech, freedom to advance by one's labors to achieve prosperity, and freedom to live one's life without government's hand in one's pocket or interfering with one's business are the basic founding principles of the identity of the United States of America. Whether or not America and Americans can reclaim the lost character identities is an open-end question. The only hope now is Donald J. Trump and real, patriotic Americans.

Most Americans are aware that the United States of America has recently faced a series of tough challenges. Many of these challenges are connected to radical changes relating to the culture, the laws, and the politics of the country. The best way to describe the current combination of crisis and radical change is to say that it is a shift backward in what was once a forward-looking American character identity. Although some observers may argue that evolution is a natural process that impacts everything from organic life to the structure of entire societies, there is ample evidence to suggest that the present course of catastrophic change in America is the product not of natural evolution but conscious sabotage. Furthermore, evidence can be cited that demonstrates sabotage is being carried out under the approving anti-American leadership of the putative and former President Barack Hussein Obama and his leftist supporters, the POLDS (Progressives, Obots, Leftists, Dumbed-downers, Socialists-communists).²¹ According to this evidence, they plan to incite a permanent crisis in

American society that will pave the way for policies and programs that will ultimately re-create America as a socialist state, eventually leading to communism. The Democrats collude and promote socialism-communism. They are supported by the Communist Party USA, the Muslim Brotherhood, the National Education Association, Our Revolution, Minimum Wage Activism, the Progressive States Network, the Service Employees International Union, the United Auto Workers, and the Working Families Party.²²

Of course, these assertions are quite severe and require substantiation. The presentation of the Democrat Party's communist orientation will draw on historical developments, contemporary pundits, and journalists to clearly show that the Democrat Party and its most dedicated supporters are pursuing a conscious strategy to destroy and remake the American character identity. The Democrat Party plan is to carry out a tactical and strategic array of policies that were conceived by professors Cloward and Piven at Columbia University – the Cloward-Piven strategy of overloading the American governing system with an undefinable amount of demonstrations and social programs that would eventually cause the American Government to implode, thus paving the course for socialism-communism. The policies and strategies are meant to steer Americans into greater and greater reliance on federal aid and welfare programs until the public at large is ready to reject capitalism and civil liberties in favor of a socialist-communist society and economy.

THE DEMOCRAT PARTY'S COMMUNIST PAVEMENT

The methods used by historical communist regimes and the Democrat Party to incite radical changes to the American character identity are varied and perhaps even impossible to fully realize or number. This is very important to keep in mind because it underscores the fact that the overall plan is complex and deeply embedded in the core elements of American life. That said, even a brief appraisal of the most visible methods should be sufficient to demonstrate the truth of the Democrat Party plan, even to a skeptic. The most visible methods include the following:

²² There is a report concerning present connections of politicians to socialist-communists at <https://www.thepostemail.com/2020/10/03/citizen-researchers-release-analysis-of-office-holders-with-ties-to-socialist-communist-groups/>, accessed on 16 October 2020.

1. the destruction of America's past by revising history,
2. insulting Americans and their history and cultural heritage,
3. the replacement of American symbols with Democrat Party symbols,
4. the implementation of an open-door immigration policy,
5. the expansion of social programs,
6. the weakening of national defense,
7. the regulation of society,
8. the implementation of a nationalized medicine that the people and the government cannot afford which will lead to an eternal bankruptcy of the United States of America,
9. the expansion of the national debt,
10. the annihilation of Judeo-Christian traditions,
11. the deliberate erosion of the middle class accompanied by the imposition of an array of federal regulations.

These methods of Democrat Party Change establish the foundation of the ensuing investigation of the evidence and references on the issue. As the evidence is presented, the reader must keep in mind the current condition of American society in all sectors, particularly the financial hardships that are presently sweeping over the nation. These factors are deeply rooted in the Democrat Party Plan to alter the American character identity radically.

If the mounting debt due to the Corona epidemic is looked at analogously as fuel, the question is: What is all the fuel being consumed to accomplish? The answer is: The power is being expended to propel the car on the road of cultural transformation, and the destination is: socialism-communism. The Democrat Party not-yet-ruling regime is committed to making the political and cultural changes necessary to undermine traditional American values so that new values, based around the idea of the government as a provider, are instilled in citizens at all levels of society. This is the reason the issue of debt escalation is so profoundly important. It is a trail that leads to a crime scene where government expansion is the murder of tradition, capitalism, and democratic-republicanism.

CONCLUSIVE GROUNDWORK

Leon Trotsky described his profession as that of a revolutionary socialist. Within twenty-four hours of arriving in New York City, he presented his first article in Novy Mir. It was titled Long Live The Struggle and described how socialist changes were taking place in Europe and Russia. The masses needed to become discontented and ripe for upheaval, indeed, ripe for revolution. Trotsky argued that the United States of America faced the same problems that Europe and Russia faced. The solution to these catastrophic problems was the revolution of the masses. America had to be brought to a situation in which the battle for socialism-communism was imminent. This would be a war of revolution and a revolution of war for the proletariat's victory over the rich who had become richer and had caused the poor to become poorer. His views were later published in Voim i revoliutsiya (War and Revolution).

Trotsky and his modern Democrats were/are internationalists, wishing for a New World Order called communism. Trotsky and the Democrats Party want a new type of human, a world citizen, as Barack Hussein Obama termed this new person, one full of criticism of everything that is not-socialism. This new citizen is trans-national, pro-communist, and full of daring, ready to introduce a communist traditionalism in production methods, economics, and particularly in politics with the goal of the withering away of the state to be controlled by communists.²³ For the United States of America, this means that the nation must be made a country without traditions and ideology and rejoice to the melody of the Communist International, the goals of Black Lives Matter, Antifa, the Democrat Party, and their financier George Soros.

One of Trotsky's statements concerning the relationship of the individual to the state is devastating. His assertion is this: "Social patriotism debases men morally and mentally."²⁴ If there was ever an attack on American society and patriotism, it is this attack and it is echoed by the present Democrat Party. American patriotism, whether civil or military, is the core of American freedom.

The foremost patriots are American soldiers. The buck stops with them as this meme portrays:

The socialist-communist Democrat Party propagandizes that America's egoistic capitalists who receive their profits by feeding on the suffering and drudgery of the minorities must be eliminated by creating an indigenous war machine called peaceful demonstrations, peaceful arson, peaceful murders, peaceful riots, and gentle summers of love. Only through such (peaceful) social revolutionary activities can America's problems be (peacefully) solved.

The Democrat Party is taking heed of Trotsky's propaganda and is preparing its soldiers for revolution.

Leon Trotsky and his like are certainly joyful world citizens in their graves!
