These Are The Times That Try American Patriots' Souls

A Call To Take Action Number One

These are truly the times that try American Patriots' souls. The backboneless soldiers who do not honor their oaths to the Constitution for the United States of America and the non-patriotic peacock generals are, in this crisis, shrinking from the service of their country; but those that stand upright now, deserve the love and thanks of every patriotic man and woman in the United States of America. Tyranny, in the person of Barack Hussein Obama and his regime, like hell, is not easily conquered; yet we have this consolation with us, that the harder the conflict, the more glorious the triumph of We the People over this evil will be. What we obtain too cheap, we esteem too lightly: it is dearness only that gives everything its value. Heaven knows how to put a proper price upon its goods; and it would be strange indeed if so celestial an article as freedom guaranteed by the Constitution for the United States of America should not be highly rated. Obama, with an army of POLDS<sup>2</sup> to enforce his tyranny, has declared that he has a right with his self-executed directives and regulations (not only to tax with ObamaCare<sup>3</sup>) but "to bind us in all cases whatsoever," and if being bound in that manner, is not slavery, then there is not such a thing as slavery upon

This present author is indebted to the Honorable Thomas Paine, the Pamphleteer of the American Revolution. In 1776 Mr. Paine communicated his desire to rid the United States of America of its enemies and its traitors. His alarm is still valid. The present author is using The Crisis Papers that came from his pen as a basis for a call to take action. Mr. Paine! This American Patriot and all American Patriots will always be thankful to you for your everlasting faith in the United States of America.

<sup>3</sup> The real name is the Affordable Care Act. However, it is not affordable and Barack Hussein Obama does not care.

earth. Even the expression is impious; for so unlimited a power can belong only to God and not to Barack Hussein Obama or any anti-American, corrupt, evil politician.

Whether hope and change that came with the appearance of Barack Hussein Obama on the American political scene was declared too soon, or delayed too long, I will not now enter into as an argument; my own simple opinion is, that had Obama been vetted by the sissy, lamestream media at any time, it would have been much better. We did not make a proper use of vetting Barack Hussein Obama, neither could we, while we were in a brainwashed condition. However, the fault, if it were one, was all our own; we have none to blame but ourselves. But no great deal is lost yet. All that the so-called Congress has been doing these bygone four plus years, is rather a long Rip-Van-Winkle sleep without even one wink as a control function, which the spirit of the 1776ers would have quickly repulsed, and which time and a little patriotic resolution will soon recover.

I have as little superstition in me as any man living, but my secret opinion has ever been, and still is, that God Almighty will not give up a people to Obama's destruction, or leave them unsupportedly to perish, who have so earnestly and so repeatedly sought to avoid the calamities of war, and protect themselves from aggressors by every decent method which wisdom could invent. Neither can I suppose that He has relinquished the government of the world, and given us up to the care of devils. I cannot see on what grounds the narcissist, self appointed king and narcissist self-appointed queen, can look up to heaven for help against us. Obama is a common criminal, an unconvicted felon, a thief! His pretenses are not good!

'Tis surprising to see how rapidly a panic will sometimes run through a country. All nations and ages have been subject to them. We once trembled like an ague at the report of a Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor; and in the Cold War of the twentieth century the whole communist forces, after ravaging the entirety of Eastern Europe, were defeated like men petrified with fear; and this brave exploit was performed by a few broken forces collected and headed by Liberty. Would that heaven continue to inspire the Alaskan maid to spirit up her countrymen, and save her fair fellow sufferers from ravage and ravishment of the Obama regime! Panics, in some cases, have their uses; they produce as much good as hurt. Their duration is always short; the mind soon grows through them, and acquires a firmer habit than before. But their peculiar advantage is that they are the touchstones of both sincerity and hypocrisy, and bring things and men to light, which might otherwise have lain forever undiscovered. In fact, they have the same effect on secret traitors, which an imaginary apparition would have upon Obama POLDS. Panics sift out the hidden thoughts of humans, and hold them up in public to the world, whether the purchased media desires it or not. Many a disguised socialist, communist and republican in name only has lately shown his head. We the People shall penitentially solemnize with curses the day on Barack Hussein Obama and his baggage of thugs arrived in Washington, D. C.

As I was once a proud member of the troops, and marched with them to protect the United States of America, I am well acquainted with many circumstances, which those who live at a distance know but little or nothing of. Our military situation has become exceedingly cramped, with Obama's rules of engagement that support the enemy and Obama-nominated idiot United Nations ambassadors, and absolutely dumb national security advisors, as well as a do-nothing Secretary of State named Hillary Clinton. Our military forces are now inconsiderable, being not one-fourth as great as they once were. We now have no strong army at hand to combat the Taliban in Afghanistan and Pakistan and Islamic terrorists throughout North Africa and the Middle East. Even in the United States dedicated law enforcement agencies are hampered in their jobs by the Attorney General Eric Holder, a major thug in the Obama regime. We cannot shut ourselves up and stand our defence due to Obama's non-leadership. Our weapon systems have been given away to America's enemies operating in Libya, Syria and on the borders of Israel. The secret of United States Seal Team Six was divulged and members were placed in a situation where six of them were killed by Islamic Taliban in Afghanistan. Important members of our special operations troops have been removed from their positions, undergone military courts martial for defending America, and received prison terms. There are even Muslim Brotherhood members and sympathizers in the White House. Obama is giving support to jihadists in Africa and the Middle East. It must occur to every thinking American Patriot, whether in the armed forces or not, that these kind of politics are factual examples of Obama hate to be used for destructive purposes, and they will last as long as the enemy Obama regime directs its hate against a particular object of American tradition and culture. Such is our present situation and condition.

Our first object is to secure the individual states against the enemy Obama regime. With logic and truth on our side Barack Hussein Obama and his POLDS will not win. We must bring other Americans, those who are patriotic and particularly those who are too emotionally and intellectually lazy, to reason. This is a formidable goal because the greater majority of the latter group have been dumbed down and thoroughly brainwashed. Though our numbers are greatly inferior to our enemy, the enemy will nevertheless commit great errors in their endeavors and break the law. We the People must see to it that the law is enforced, which will undoubtedly mean that We the People will have to remove those who are not enforcing our laws. But if we believe the power of hell to be limited, we must likewise believe that their leader from hell and his POLDS are under some providential control.

We the People shall not retreat. We the People shall bear the burden with a patriotic and martial spirit. All of our wishes are centered in one, which is, that the country will come to reason and drive the enemy Obama and his regime out of Washington and into oblivion. We the People must appear to full advantage in difficulties and in action. There is a natural firmness in some minds which cannot be unlocked by trifles, but which, when unlocked, discovers a cabinet of fortitude; and I reckon it among those kind of public blessings, which we do not immediately see, that God hath blessed Us the People with uninterrupted patriotism and drive, and has given us a mind that flourishes.

I shall conclude this essay with some miscellaneous remarks on the state of our affairs; and shall begin with asking the following question, Why is it that the enemy Obama regime have left the realm of abiding by the law? The answer is easy: The Obama regime is infested with criminals and anti-American crap. I have been tender in raising the cry against these persons, and used numberless arguments to show them as being the danger, but it will not do to sacrifice a world either to their folly or their baseness. The period has now arrived, in which either they or we must change our sentiments, or one or both must fall. What is an Obama? Good God! What is he? I should not be afraid to go with a hundred American Patriots against a thousand Obamas, were they to attempt to get into arms. Every Obama is a coward; for servile, slavish, self-interested fear is the foundation of Obamaism; and a man under such influence, though he is a cruel criminal, never can be brave.

But, before the line of irrecoverable separation be drawn between the Obama side and American Patriots, let us reason the matter together: Our conduct of doing nothing is an invitation to the enemy Obama regime, yet not one in a thousand of you has heart enough to join them unless you are a republican in name only. The Obama regime is as much deceived by you as the American cause is injured by you. They expect WE the People will all take up arms, and flock to Washington, with rifles on our shoulders and pistols in our holsters. Our opinions are of no use to him, unless you support him personally, for 'tis POLDS, and not American Patriots that he wants.

I once felt all that kind of anger, which a man ought to feel, against the mean principles that are held by the enemy Obama regime when they express: "Well! He gives us peace in our day." Not a man lives on the continent but fully believes that a conflict must some time or other finally take place, and a generous patriotic statement is, "If there must be trouble, let it be in my day, that my child may have peace;" and this single reflection, well applied, is sufficient to awaken every patriot to duty. Not a place upon earth might be as happy as America. Her situation is separate from the entire wrangling world, and she has nothing to do but to protect herself from them. A man can distinguish himself between temper and principle, and I am as confident, as I am that God governs the world, that America will never be happy till she gets clear of Obama dominion. Destruction, without ceasing, will break out till that period arrives, and WE the People must in the end be conqueror; for though the flame of Liberty may sometimes cease to shine, the fire of Liberty can never expire.

Patriotic America does not want to use force; but wants a proper application of that force. Wisdom is not the purchase of a day, and it is no wonder that we should err at the first setting off. From an excess of tenderness, we were unwilling to formulate a resistance, and trusted our cause to the temporary defence of a pseudo-well-meaning charlatan politician. A four-year-plus experience has now taught us better; yet our patriotic forces, while they were collecting, have been able to set bounds to the progress of the Obama enemy, and, thank God! We the People are again assembling. I always considered American Patriots as the best troops in the world for a sudden exertion, and they must do for a long campaign, after which Obama and his regime will be ruined. If he succeeds, our cause is not ruined. He stakes all on his side against We the People. The consequence will be that patriotic armies from both ends of the continent will march to assist their suffering fellow patriots. Obama and his thugs cannot go everywhere, it is impossible. I consider Obama as the greatest enemy the United States of America has ever had. He is bringing a class war into this country, He must be expelled. I wish with all the devotion of a Christian, that the Obama regime be expelled from the continent and the Congress appropriate their possessions to the relief of those who have suffered by Obama's destructive doings. A single successful victory in November 2014 will settle the whole. America could carry on for two more years of Obama's destruction. Yet it is folly to argue against determined hardness; eloquence may strike the ear, and the language of sorrow draw forth the tear of compassion, but nothing can reach the heart that is steeled with procrastination.

I turn with the warm ardor of a friend to those who have nobly stood, and are yet determined to stand the matter out: I call not upon a few, but upon all: not on this state or that state, but on every state: up and help us; lay your shoulders to the grindstone; better have too much force than too little, when so great an object is at stake – freedom from Obama and his destructive regime.

Let it be told to the future world that in the depth of destruction, when nothing but patriotic hope and virtue could survive, that the city and the country, alarmed at one common danger, came forth to meet and to repulse it. Say not that thousands are gone, turn out your tens of thousands; throw not the burden of the day upon Providence, but "show your faith by your works," that God may bless you. It matters not where you live, or what rank of life you hold, the evil or the blessing will reach you all. The far and the near, the home country and the back, the rich and the poor, will suffer or rejoice alike. The heart that feels not now is dead; the blood of the children will curse the coward who shrinks back at a time when a little might have saved the whole, and made them happy. I love the American Patriot that can smile in trouble, that can gather strength from distress, and grow brave by reflection. 'Tis the business of little minds to shrink; but he whose heart is firm, and whose conscience approves his conduct, will pursue his principles unto death. My own line of reasoning is to myself as straight and clear as a ray of light. Not all the treasures of the world, so far as I believe, could have induced me to support an offensive revolution against the enemy Obama regime for the sake of revolting. But if a thief breaks into my house, burns and destroys my property, and kills or threatens to kill me, or those that are in it, and to "bind me in all cases whatsoever" to his absolute will, am I to suffer it? What signifies it to me, whether he who does it is an illegal usurper or a common man; my countryman or not my countryman; whether it be done by an individual villain, or an army of them? If we reason to the root of things we shall find no difference; neither can any just cause be assigned why we should punish in the one case and pardon in the other. Let them call me a patriotic rebel and welcome, I feel no concern from it; but I should suffer the misery of devils, were I to make a whore of my soul by swearing allegiance to one whose character is that of a sottish, stupid, stubborn, worthless, brutish thug. I conceive likewise a horrid idea in receiving mercy from a being, who at the last day shall be shrieking to the rocks and mountains to cover him, and fleeing with terror from the orphan, the widow, and the slain of America.

There are cases which cannot be overdone by language, and this is one. There are persons, too, who see not the full extent of the evil which threatens them; they solace themselves with hopes that the enemy Obama, if he succeeds, will be merciful. It is the madness of folly to expect mercy from those who have refused to do justice; and even mercy, where conquest is the object, is only a trick of lying; the cunning of the fox is as murderous as the violence of the wolf, and we ought to guard equally against both. Obama's first object is, partly by threats and partly by promises, to terrify or seduce the people to deliver up their constitutional rights and receive mercy. This is what he calls making peace, "a peace which passeth all understanding" indeed! A peace which would be the immediate forerunner of a worse ruin than any we have yet thought of. Ye Patriots of America, do reason upon these things! Were the countryside to give up their arms, they would fall an easy prey to Obama's forces, who are all armed: this perhaps is what some of Obama's forces would not be sorry for. Were the cities to deliver up their arms, they would be exposed to the resentment of the countryside who would then have it in their power to chastise their defection at pleasure. And were any one state to give up its arms, that state must be garrisoned by all of Obama's forces to preserve it from the anger of the rest. Mutual fear is the principal link in the chain of mutual love, and woe be to that state that breaks the compact. Barack Hussein Obama is mercifully inviting you to barbarous destruction, and men must be either rogues or fools that will not see it. I dwell not upon the vapors of imagination; I bring reason to your ears, and, in language as plain as A, B, C, and hold up truth to your eyes.

I thank God, that I fear not. I see no real cause for fear. I know our situation well, and can see the way out of it. While our forces were not collected the Obama regime did not risk a confrontation, but it is great credit to us, that, with a handful of patriots, We the People have sustained ourselves for almost five years, fought off cries of being racist and suffered innumerable insults from all anti-Americans. The sign of fear is not seen in our camp. Our American Patriots at both ends of the continent are recruiting fast, and we shall be able to open the next campaign to regain America with thousands of freedom-loving supporters well versed in their political and constitutional rights. This is our situation, and who will may know it. By perseverance and fortitude we have the prospect of a glorious issue; by cowardice and submission, the sad choice of a variety of evils: incarcerated citizens without due process of law – a ravaged country – depopulated cities without safety, and slavery without hope – our homes turned into barracks and bawdy-houses for POLDS, and a future race to provide for illegal immigrants. With our Founding Fathers, look on this picture and weep over it! And if there yet remains one thoughtless wretch who believes it not, let him suffer it unlamented. Fight for your country! Throw Obama and his thugs out! Away with them!

The present time is ripe and worth an age, if rightly employed; but, if lost or neglected, all of the United States of America will partake of the evil; and there is no punishment that man does not deserve, be he who, or what, or where he will, that may be the means of sacrificing an opportunity so precious and useful.

These are the times that try American Patriots' souls. Indeed! WE the People value our souls and the soul of the United States of America as it developed out of the American Revolution. The principles established as law in the Constitution for the United States of America are the guarantees of our freedom. The policies of Barack Hussein Obama and his thug regime are anti-American to the core. WE the People shall never allow an enemy to steal and obliterate our unalienable rights!
